What's New In Modern-Day Living:

Hot or cold . . . sweet or tangy . . . when you're looking for a new drink that's lively in color, try a grape-cranberry juice-drink. It's a natural go-together with soda, lemon, fruit juice or you name it.

Soft touch for spring promises a lessening of the costume look so prevalent in fashion today, in favor of a timeless softness. Fabrics are lightly soft; sometimes clinging; lines are gentle, curved and fluid.

A la modular is the fastest-growing trend in furniture, with all-of-a-piece units in both upholstered furniture and accessory pieces. Many are molded in a way that enables them to either be used alone, or combined in elaborate stacking or interlocking units.

In good shape—the word to watch in men's fashion is "body-line"—it means a definitely shaped silhouette in shirts, suits, belted trousers. Even in outerwear, the fit is closer to the body, with much waist suppressions, close fitting shoulders.
