A toy here and a toy there,
A little shoe under a chair,
A heavy heart in a quiet house,
No one here but me and my spouse.
Except for the "Pooch" with a waggy tail
This is the story of a grandmother's wail.

As I write this, I'm going to try to clear up all these reminders of lost grandchildren. It's hard to return to high chairs, play pens, cribs and toys, after they're gone. Only another perhaps foolish grandmother can sympathize with me.

It's good to see something you've planted growing and blooming. I can see outside my window here white and lavender althea bushes, and it does not seem too long since I planted the small seedlings. Such is the satisfaction we get after our children grow into men and women and have their fruitful lives. Again, that's where the happy grandmother comes in to her own.

Well, our Methodist Church finally got its air conditioning system and even for people like me, who do not especially like it, it serves its purpose in many ways. Since there's much traffic on Broad Street, especially large trucks, which grind and growl while waiting at traffic signals, the church with the windows and doors shut, makes it easier for us to hear our minister in cool and comfortable surroundings. An added incentive to lacadaisical church-goers.

Another happy grandmother and grandfather, too, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hollowell, whose daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Turner of Greenville, have adopted a little girl, Leslie Elizabeth.

Here's a hint for the birds. If you'd like a family of wrens to move into your yard, paint your bird house yellow. For some unknown reason they like the color.

Try this Pennsylvania Dutch Chicken Loaf—very good:

- 2 cups cooked chicken.
- 1 cup soft bread crumbs.
- 2 tablespoons parsley.
- 2 tablespoons chopped celery.
- ½ teaspoon salt.
- 2 eggs.
- 1 cup milk.
- 3 tablespoons melted butter.

Mix ingredients and pour into butter loaf pan. Bake 30 minutes in moderate oven. Remove from pan and slice when cold.

If you're in a hurry for a salad dressing, try mixing sour cream, vinegar and sugar. It's delicious, especially on tender leaf lettuce.

From Mary Perry of Belk's comes this hint. Try using cocoanut macaroon instead of vanilla wafers in your next banana pudding. It's a change and delicious.

A Few Hints

The average ice cream scoop holds exactly one-third cup.

Wash your dog with salt water to help rid him of fleas. Also sprinkle salt around dog house to keep fleas away.

If you coat the cut side of cheese with butter, it will keep indefinitely.

Winter lingered so long in the lap of spring that it occasioned a great deal of talk.
