A friend to me is one who gives
A smile and not a frown,
A friend to laugh and cheer me
When worries get me down.

This sort of friend I'd like to be,
This friend I'd like to make.
Who takes me without question,
A Friend for Friendship's sake.

One example of a friend is one who, when I admired some lovely flowers she had received from a friend, shared them with me. Then, again, there's a friend who will sit and listen and just let me talk my worries away. Oh, there's so many different kinds of friends and so very valuable—for friendship's sake.

We fished all day July Fourth, just about 10 hours of it. Not many fish, however, but peace, contentment and plenty of sun. I'd like to collect all the worriers and make fishermen of them. What fun it would be to see them relax for a time.

I saw some pictures of Lena and Claude Griffin's grandbaby this past week and needless to say, she is a pretty baby, just like her mother. The Griffins attended the christening of their granddaughter in Raleigh recently, a happy occasion for them. Another thing which made grandmother proud is the fact that the baby wore the same dress which she wore at her christening—several years ago.

When it comes to "spoon feeding" a puppy, just to spoil him, it's quite the limit. Just ask Buff about it!

There's another couple of proud parents and grandparents this week, I'll tell you. Ernest and Toni Kehayes' son, Tom, and wife, Chris, way off in Minto, Alaska, are the happy parents of another son, Carl Christian, born Monday of this week. Tom, who by the way, is an Episcopal minister in Minto, called his parents from Fairbanks, Alaska, to tell the good news and the telephone connection was so good that it seemed almost impossible that he could be so far away.

My son, Martin Zimmerman, is vacationing with us this week and it is wonderful to have him home for more than just two days at a time. I'm doing my best to fix all the food he likes and to fatten him up a bit. He also likes to fish, which makes for more congeniality. I'm real proud of him for he is a true Christian in every sense of the word and tries hard to live his Christianity. What a blessing it is to be proud of your children!

Which reminds me of another happy grandmother. This evening I had the occasion to walk in the kitchen of our neighbor, Mrs. Ida Mae Roberson, when supper was in progress. To see the happy faces of Bill, Russell and Joe Garwood around the supper table with their grandmother just gave me a happy feeling.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to express my sincere appreciation for every act of kindness shown me while I was a patient in Chowan Hospital, and since my return home. Your many prayers, beautiful flowers, cards, gifts and visits I accepted with humble gratitude. To the nursing staff and doctors, your careful attentions will always be remembered. Again I say thanks and may God bless each of you.

CAREY EVANS.
