WINN-DIXIE OPENS

The cash registers, which are the latest type of modern grocery store machines, dispense both change and Top Value Stamps automatically.

Natural wood paneling is provided for Manager Drawdy's office, which is located adjacent to the check-out lanes.

The new store has about 25 employees, many of them veterans with many years of service. Many new employees were added to serve the new store.

William J. Bell of Greenville, supervisor of Winn-Dixie Stores in this area, assisted in the opening along with division personnel from Raleigh.

Eddie Betway of Wilson is produce manager; Albert Yelverton of Wilson heads the grocery department; and James E. Moore of Jacksonville, Fla., manages the meat department. All are veteran Winn-Dixie employees.

Drawdy, 31, started with Winn-Dixie seven years ago as a stock clerk. He worked his way up in the chain and was an assistant manager in Raleigh at the time he was chosen to head the store here.

He is married to the former Shirley Brown of Selma and they have three children. The Drawdy's are Baptist and reside on Snug Harbor Road.

PROGRAMS SLATED

The rehearsal will then continue with selections accompanied by the string ensemble and organ.

The society represents one of several fine arts programs initiated in the fall of 1964 under the supervision of the College of the Albemarle Adult Education and Community Services Division, then headed by Tivis Wicker under the auspices of the Fine Arts Division Committee of the Albemarle Area Development Association.

Membership in the society, which recently was incorporated as a permanent state-chartered and non-profit organization under the supervision of the COA Adult Education Division, is open to all singers of senior high school age and over. The average yearly membership over the past five years has been 81.

Major works which the society has performed over the last five years in its spring and winter concerts include: "Rejoice, Beloved Christians" by Buxtehude, "A Christmas Oretorio" by Saint Saens, "The Messiah" by Handel and "The Bartered Bride", a comic opera by Smetana. Some of their works were performed on joint programs with the N. C. Little Symphony, the Ciampi String Quartet and the East Carolina String Ensemble. The comic opera was completely staged with orchestral accompaniment and was staged by the Society's director, Dr. Clifford Bair, and Mrs. Lucy Vaughan, director of the COA Satyrs. The orchestra was made up of players from the Norfolk Symphony and the Elizabeth City High School Band and was directed by Scott Callaway.

In addition to its two major programs yearly, the Society has supplied choral forces for light opera shows, has appeared on the N. C. Educational TV circuit and presented programs at various banquets.

The society's officers, director and members are grateful for the opportunity of having played a vital role in the area's cultural growth over the past five years and on the occasion of the Society's Fifth Anniversary, pledge renewed devotion to a fuller realization of the Society's aims in the years to come.

Instead of worrying about where the next international crisis will occur, we might concentrate on being ready to meet one.

Heard & Seen

"By Buff"

Lorch Stallings just about made me sick one day last week. He came in the shop with a package in which was wrapped two speckled perch which looked more like the size of a shad than speckled perch. Lorch said he and Leroy Skinner at long last got into 'em and landed 35, most of which were about the size of those Lorch was showing off. And at a time when I'm unable to try my luck.

So many "weeks" are observed these days that it's hard to name them all. But if "Turkey Week" is not observed, it should be. With so many turkeys on the dinner table for Thanksgiving, a lot of us will be eating some form of turkey for about a week — hence this should be "Turkey Week."

Leroy Haskett and his sister, Mrs. W. C. Bunch, have returned home after visiting their very sick brother, Carlton Haskett, at Fort Myers, Fla. Friend Haskett said he had a new experience by being able to jump into a swimming pool, then pick oranges and grapefruit from trees at the Haskett home and go back in the house to eat what he said was the best fruit he ever tasted. Anyway, here's hoping my long-time friend Carlton will be able to regain his health.

Just in case anyone is interested, the Methodist Men's Club will serve another pickled herring breakfast at the church Saturday morning. The hours are from 7 to 9 o'clock and, as usual, a person is allowed to eat all he or she wants for only a buck. Those in charge of the breakfast hope a large crowd will turn out.

At this time of year a lot of us receive requests from various orphanages, children's homes, etc., for a Thanksgiving and Christmas contribution. Of course, there's some people who do not contribute, giving as their reason that "charity should begin at home." But like I heard a fellow say the other day, "it usually ends there, too." Anyway orphanages and children's homes and hospitals can use contributions and to be sure any contribution will be greatly appreciated.

A lot of people look forward to retiring, but a lot of times retirement is not so hot. Such was the case with former Edentonian Ralph R. Hall, who now lives at Greenville. A note from him read: "Retirement got too old, so I accepted a position as project director for the Board of Education of Pitt County Schools. So I guess the fish will have to wait."

Not too much praise can be heaped on the Edenton Aces for going through the football season with 12 victories and only one defeat, and that at the hands of powerful Northeastern High of Elizabeth City. It was a happy crowd of Edenton fans at Goldsboro Friday night when the Aces ran rough shod over South Stanley High 48-26. To be such a winner it takes a group of stars, so that every member of the squad is entitled to some of the credit for becoming Eastern champions in the 2-A Conference. This year, though, there was an exceptional star in Joe Bunch for his educated toe which sent the ball through the uprights for extra points 42 times out of 49 attempts and that's a record any place kicker would be proud of. Of course, the extra point was not needed to win any game this year, but that extra point often means the difference between a victory or defeat. Northeastern North Carolina has been in the football limelight this year. The Aces have won the Eastern 2-A Conference championship and next door Northeastern won the Eastern 3-A conference title over Lumberton 21-0. Besides, Manteo was Eastern champion in 1-A Conference and lost the state title to Robbinsville 14-8. Which only goes to show that football is a very popular sport in this neck of the woods.

This (Thursday) afternoon Santa Claus is scheduled to come to Edenton, when a parade will march down Broad Street. And here's hoping the weatherman will be kind with agreeable weather so that youngsters (and adults, too) can enjoy the affair.

ACES ENJOY

stronger after each game. The team scored 114 points in three playoff games. The defense played a big role in this, accounting for six touchdowns in the playoffs.

While hesitant to single out any player Coach Kirby did point to the work of Joe Bunch a sophomore who had an "exceptional" year for a newcomer. "He put his foot in the ball 51 times and got 48 points" he noted.

Also Mike Lamb's running gave the Aces the hard-nosed effect in the backfield according to the coach.

Earl Chesson who was moved to quarterback after the season began completed 60 per cent of his passes in the last seven games.

Chesson's passing gave the Aces a chance to use Gigi Leary more for long pass patterns. Leary received high praise from the coach for both his offensive and defensive work during the year.

"Johnny Barrow stepped forward and was the emotional leader", Coach Kirby said. "Elliott Harrell teamed with him to give us the best linebacking in the conference."

"We're just real pleased with the way things happened," he added.

What about next year? Coach Kirby had rather continue the current season. There were 22 seniors on the squad.

The trouble with most community and civic campaigns is that the preliminary arrangements wear out the workers.

Horner Presides

Judge Fetress Horner of Elizabeth City heard a variety of traffic cases Tuesday in Chowan County District Court.

The judge convicted Hubert Preston Dail, Jr., of reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident. He sentenced Dail to six months on the roads, suspended upon payment of $200 fine and costs.

Notice of appeal was given and bond was set at $200.

Judge Horner asserted that in his opinion Dail was under the influence of alcoholic beverages and did not want to talk with investigating officers until he sobered up.

Donald Wayne Ward, also charged with reckless driving, was sentenced to six months, suspended upon payment of $200 fine and costs and ordered not to drive for 12 months.

Ward was arrested by Edenton Police after an investigation of complaints from School Street and Park Avenue.

James Ed Overton, operator of a school bus, was found not guilty of running a stop light.

Solicitor Wilton Walker prosecuted the docket and the following other action was taken:

Shelly Willingham, speeding, 30 days, suspended upon payment of costs. The defendant was also fined $25 for failure to appear last week.

Janie Gramby, assault, nol pros.
 Lewis Eugene Mizelle, drunk driving, 90 days, suspended upon payment of $125 fine and costs. Notice of appeal entered and bond set at $200.

Alvin Ray Copeland, overheight equipment, prayer for judgment continued upon payment of costs.

Walter Raleigh Hawkins, traffic violation, $25 fine and costs.

Marvin Earl Bond, traffic violation, costs.

James Marshall Leak, speeding, $15 fine and costs.

Henry Milton Simmons, traffic violation, $10 fine and costs.

Julian Jernigan, breaking and entering, prosecuting witness taxed with costs of court.

Oneda Sallie Ashley, traffic violation, $10 fine and costs.

public will be sure to see it and sit up and take notice. Thank you, Debbie Lynn Overton."

Debbie went farther than most. She made it even easier by writing her own headline for the article. And we couldn't turn her down.

OPERATION SANTA CLAUS

Each year the Yeopim 4-H Club participates in the Edenton Christmas Parade. This year as the main theme for their float, the 4-H'ers have chosen "Operation Santa Claus". "Operation Santa" is a project in which all 4-H'ers share a part of their Christmas with the boys and girls at Caswell School for mentally retarded children.

Already 4-H Clubs have made plans on what they can do to help cheer up these boys and girls at Christmas time. Many times these children at Caswell School are forgotten at such a joyous occasion so you, the people of Chowan County join these 4-H'ers in making these children have a very Merry Christmas and do yours.

If you wish to take part in "Operation Santa Claus", gifts may be large wagons, large tricycles, gun and holster sets, popcorn poppers, record players, tea sets, rubber balls and large squeeze toys. Please try to mail all packages before December 15 in order for them to arrive on time. Also, cash donations will be appreciated in order to purchase one large gift for all the children.

Be sure to pay special attention to the Yeopim 4-H Club float on Thursday, December 4, at 4 P. M., in the Edenton parade.

That's Debbie's article.

P. S. to Debbie: You could have made it even easier by having it type-written — double spaced, of course.

Layton. Commissioners also approved listing for swine and livestock.

Chairman Bond brought to the board's attention the recent grand jury comments concerning the crowded conditions in the court house and other county offices.

Commissioner Phillips said it is evident the county will not be able to build a new office building in the near future and every effort possible should be made to solve the matter in some other way.
