

Tables Provide Tax Information

GREENSBORO — The amount North Carolina taxpayers can deduct for sales tax on federal tax returns can be found in tables printed in the 1040 tax instructions.

J. E. Wall, district director of Internal Revenue for North Carolina, said the tables show the sales tax deduction by family size and income. The table is based on consumer spending patterns and shows the average sales tax paid by North Carolina residents, he said.

The sales tax on automobiles purchased is not included in the table. Taxpayers who bought cars in 1969 may add deductible sales taxes paid on them to the amount shown in the table.

The table is furnished as a guide for the convenience of taxpayers who do not keep detailed records of payments. Taxpayers who prefer to deduct the actual amount of state sales taxes paid during the year should have records as proof of payment, Wall said.

Soya Princess From Gatesville

GREENSBORO—Miss Margaret Adair Rountree of Gatesville, a sophomore at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro, has won the title of Miss North Carolina Soybean Princess Soya for 1970.

The winner was announced following competition held recently in Raleigh.

As Miss North Carolina Princess Soya for 1970, Miss Rountree has won a $500 college scholarship, a silver bowl and a chance to compete in the national competition in Minneapolis, Minn., August 14-19.

During the next 12 months she will appear in various festivals, parades and other functions around the state as a representative of the North Carolina Soybean Producers Association.

Miss Rountree, 19, a tall, ash blonde, is the current Miss Ahsokie. She is majoring in communications arts in the School of Home Economics at UNC-G. As a career, she hopes to work either for a woman's magazine or in television.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Thomas Lilley, Jr., of Gatesville, she is five feet, six inches tall and has hazel eyes. Her hobbies include singing, playing various musical instruments, knitting and trying new recipes.

In winning the competition, she topped seven other finalists. Second place winner was Ann Marie DuVal, 21, of Pollocksville, a senior at Methodist College in Fayetteville. Placing third was Gloria Jeanne Brisson, 20, of St. Pauls, a student at UNC-G. The eight finalists were selected from other contestants. Finalist competition included a speech, swimsuit competition, street dress and evening gown competition and response to a humorous question.
