temporal things that the chosen twelve forsook. But we will be asked to forsake a life of ease, a life of pleasure—and definitely a life of sin. And mankind being mankind, that is not an easy task. This is where self-discipline and dedication enter the picture.

Loyalty to one's beliefs is another facet of the cost of following Christ. We must be prepared to face the scoffers, the non-believers, and ignore derision. But we must do more than that—we must make every attempt in our power to change their scoffing to the acceptance of Christ and salvation. A challenging task, indeed, and not a race to be won by a vacillating spirit.

AND SIGNS OF SPRING COMETH—Trees are always good subjects, like pretty girls. And John A. Mitchener, III, has captured the beauty of a simple tree in this series of photographs taken in Edenton recently. Mitchener's collection of trees here shows the nakedness of winter along with a few signs of spring in the blossoms—even though they appear a bit premature.

the purchaser obligates himself by contract to assume all of the liabilities on your loan, and if he satisfies the VA that he is an acceptable credit risk. However, in a situation like this, you will not be eligible for restoration of your loan benefits until this loan is paid in full.

Q. I must sell my GI loan-financed home because I am being transferred. I find it advantageous to let my GI loan be assumed by the purchaser. Is there any way I can be released from my liability to the government on the GI loan?

A. No. Disabled veterans of World War II were last given the opportunity of applying for insurance from Veterans Administration if May 1, 1965, through May 2, 1966.

A. Yes. You may be released from liability to the Veterans Administration if May 1, 1965, through May 2, your GI loan is current, if 1966.

A Thought to Remember

By MARVIN BARHAM

There is a story told about a man riding down the beach on a bicycle and he saw a young man out in the water calling for help. Immediately the man jumped from his bicycle and swam to the boy's rescue.

"Thanks, mister, for saving my life," said the boy. "That's all right, son; just prove that your life was worth saving."

You may feel that the man made a rather crude remark, and in a sense it is rather a hard way of looking at the situation. Or is it? There are so many blessings in the lives of all of us that we take for granted. The cost and sacrifices that have been made for us are so often forgotten.

Our freedom was won by others—and by looking today at many of our actions they could easily say, "Were they worth it?"

It was Goethe who said: "... each generation must win anew its basic freedoms." In a sense, we must start from scratch, and that is a great responsibility.

OUR THOUGHT TO REMEMBER: "Gratitude is born in hearts that take time to count mercies."

In New Rooms, New Heating Meets Need

When home improvement means adding a room, there comes the question of heating. Chances are, the existing heating system was designed for the home as it now is, so new additions call for additional heating.

One method of heating a new room is with electric ceiling heat. This can be done either with cable imbedded in ceiling plaster, or with the heating element as an integral part of 4 x 8 gypsum boards.

With either system, nothing shows but the thermostat on the wall.

The ceiling seems to be a large radiant heating panel, warming the area below, notes the Electric Heating Association.

KIDS. THE NEW SUPER 55 COULD GET US ALL IN PLENTY OF HOT WATER

It's a parental plot. The people who invented water heaters (you can bet your marbles they're all parents) have come up with a new one. It's better. For parents. Because it makes more hot water than old-type water heaters. And it makes it faster than most of them.

They call it the "Super 55." And they made it electric so the finky thing would be dependable. In fact, if your parents get the proper size "Super 55" for your family, there's hardly any chance you'll ever run out of hot water. Almost never!

Just think about it. With the new "Super 55," there's no more use in hiding until everybody else has taken their baths and the hot water's run out.

If we don't stop this thing now, every parent in the country might get a new "Super 55." Enough hot water to keep every kid in the country unbearably clean. It's a dirty shame.
