

Mrs. Ruth Bond — Creativity Winner

Mrs. Frances Copeland — Tri-Color Winner

Winners Are Named In Flower Show

Three top awards were presented in the standard flower show held Saturday by the Garden of Eden Club in cooperation with Historic Edenton, Inc. Nearly 500 people viewed the exhibits in the historic homes and public buildings from 10 A. M. until 5 P. M.

Mrs. Frances Copeland won the tri-color award for her formal tea table arrangement in the Cupola House.

Mrs. Ruth Bond's entry in the Iredell House kitchen won the creativity award.

The third award presented went to Mrs. Frances Inglis. She won an Award of Merit in the Horticulture Division, displayed in the Panel Room of Chowan County Courthouse.

Mrs. L. F. Amburn, Jr., general chairman of the first standard flower show here, said the Blooming Tea Party was a booming success. She said the nine judges took more than five hours to judge the entries and were most complimentary.

On May 2 the voters of Chowan County will determine what direction public education here will take in the 70's. The election of Edenton-Chowan Board of Education is the beginning of a new era. Over the past few weeks I have shown you but five of the reasons I am interested in quality public education. I will be just as interested in every child now in the system or those coming along in the future. Your interest in my candidacy as well as your vote on May 2 will be sincerely appreciated.

Dear Friends of Edenton and Chowan County:

On Saturday and Sunday, April 25th and 26th, we will observe our second anniversary in this community. It is on the eve of this anniversary that we pause to express to you our sincere appreciation for the receptiveness which has been accorded us during these first two years in operation.

We feel a deep sense of humility in having been afforded the privilege to walk with the hurt and hope that in some small way have provided a measure of comfort and help.

It is, and has been, our aim to provide a service in keeping with the very highest principles of our profession and to be distinctive by our anticipation of every need. Anything short of this, we feel, is less than what you deserve.

In observance of our anniversary this weekend we wish to extend a special invitation to you, our friends, to visit our facilities and chat with our personnel.

Thanking you again, we are,

Most cordially,

Colonial Funeral Home
