

Action, Money Connect

North Carolina farmers who are taking part in the feed grains, wheat and cotton programs are being reminded that early compliance and early certification will mean early payments this year.

H. O. Carter, state executive director for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, said that while farmers should certify compliance as soon as possible, they also must understand that acreage certifi-ations are not to be made until they know they are in compliance with all program regulations.

When a participant in a 1970 farm program certifies compliance, he certifies accurately to acreages in the program crops and to diverted acreage. He also certifies that he has complied with conserving base provisions, with regulations that apply if he has an interest in more than one farm, that the diverted acres on his farm are devoted to an approved conserving use, and that all other program requirements have been met.

As soon as a program participant certifies, the County ASOS office begins processing papers for his full payment for 1970 program participation. Payments to producers will begin soon after July 1 and are expected to be completed by the end of August—the earliest date ever set for completion of program payments.

TOURS ALBEMARLE—Jim Hall, director of the Division of Cultural Arts with the State Department of Public Instruction, recently toured Northeastern North Carolina in an effort to determine progress made in the arts. He is shown with Mrs. Thomas Cheers, Jr., head of the Albemarle Arts Council, Inc. They are shown in front of council headquarters on East King Street.

Director Of Cultural Arts Visits Here

The State Department of Public Instruction has established a Division of Cultural Arts and the newly appointed director, Jim Hall, toured Northeastern North Carolina recently getting first hand information about what is being done in this field.

Hall, traveling with Mrs. Nelson Cheers, executive director, Albemarle Area Arts Council, was amazed at the progress already made. "You have a wonderful potential here, like establishing a summer art school," he said during a brief stop to AAAC headquarters on East King Street.

Earlier he wrote: "I am most anxious that the Albemarle Arts Council succeed and grow into a real force in the 10-county area you are serving. Without the encouragement of the citizens in your area, the school arts program will be slow in developing. I have faith that the arts will eventually enter into education in a strong way across the state; but with strong coordination from your citizens, we may be able to serve those boys and girls now in your classrooms."

Hall said in addition to professional contacts, the division will need strong county groups which can help inform the public and who will support, firmly and vocally, the principle that children have a right to an opportunity with the arts.

He said his visit proved to him the Albemarle Area will support a program since the ground work has already been laid. He encouraged the existing council to continue to work toward "specific aims" and to realize they will take years to come to maturity.

Stolen Auto Recovered Here

A car stolen in Washington was recovered here early Sunday morning and two Marines arrested when the vehicle was stopped for a routine check.

Chief J. D. Parrish of Edenton Police Department said Patrolman T. G. Miller stopped the 1962 Ford and found it to be a stolen car. Arrested were Lance Norman Lohm, 19, and Henry Vernon Rothrock, 18, both stationed at Parris Island, S. C.

They were later released to Beaufort County authorities.
