

Degree Earned By Miss George

RALEIGH—Miss Mary Suzanne George, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. George of Virginia Road, Edenton, was graduated Sunday from Meredith College, having completed requirements for the Bachelor of Arts Degree.

The baccalaureate sermon was preached by Dr. John Howell, minister of First Baptist Church in Washington, D. C., Sunday morning in Jones Auditorium on the campus. Commencement ceremonies were held in the Elva Bryan Melver Amphitheater. The commencement address was delivered by Dr. William C. Archie, executive director of the Mary Reynolds Babcock Foundation, Inc., in Winston-Salem.

Miss George was a home economics major.

While a Meredith student, she was Stunt co-chairman, business manager of the Oak Leaves, the school yearbook, treasurer of the BSU, and a member of the home economics club and the Philaretia Society.

Social Security Questions-Answers

Q. My 18 year old son filed for social security benefits on his deceased father's record. He is a full-time student in college. I am 43 and want to know why I cannot receive a check also. I have no other children.

A. In order for you to receive checks you would have to have a child under age 18 in your care or be at least 60 years old.

Q. My husband died last month and I have received the check for this month made payable to both of us. What should I do with the check?

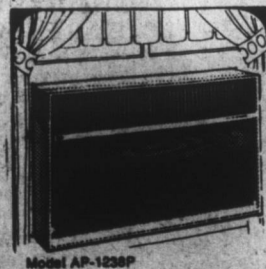

A. Bring or mail the check to the social security office so that we may endorse it and you will be able to cash it for the full amount. Adjustment for the amount which is not due you will be made at a later date.

Q. How can I claim payment of doctor's bills on a deceased beneficiary?

A. If the bills have been paid, bring a paid itemized statement to your local social security office for assistance in filing a claim. If they have not been paid, your doctor can file a claim and payment can be made directly to him.

Wilson Merchant Cited As "Retailer Of Year"

JOE BARSHAY

RALEIGH—Joe Barshay of Wilson Monday was announced as 1970's "Retailer of the Year" by Carl V. Venters, Jr., president of the N. C. Association of Broadcasters. The award is jointly sponsored with the N. C. Merchants Association. Venters will present a plaque to Barshay at the Merchants' annual convention at the Carolina Hotel in Pinehurst June 8 at their Presidents' Luncheon.

Barshay was selected by a committee headed by Clay Cline, general manager of Station WDBM, Statesville. Members were C. Robert Ray, vice president of Alamance Broadcasters' Company and general manager of Station WBBB, Burlington; Kermit Edney, president of Station WHKP, Hendersonville, and Robert C. Currie, Jr., vice president and general manager of WNBE-TV, New Bern. "Mr. Barshay has been a Wilson merchant for 36 years," said Venters. "Starting in the depression, he built his women's fashion store to a point that he required a large building. Today his store is one of downtown Wilson's drawing cards. He has the reputation of selling more merchandise per square foot of sales space than any merchant in Eastern North Carolina. "When shopping centers first came to Wilson, he built a larger store there. Thanks to his flair for merchandising, business is good at both stores. Thus he has helped prove that you can have a strong downtown and suburban shopping centers, too. "We looked for more than just retailing. We looked for good business citizenship. We found Mr. Barshay has been president of the Wilson Merchants Association, Rotary Club, Chamber of Commerce, Mental Health Association, Temple Beth-El, and Heart-of-Wide-Awake Wilson Merchants Association (downtown organization). He has been a director of the Wilson Industrial Council, Recreation Commission and Builders Federal Savings and Loan Association. "We are proud to join the N. C. Merchants Association in saluting Joe Barshay as North Carolina's 1970 Retailer of the Year."
