ABSOLUTE DIVORCE

What are the grounds for an absolute divorce in North Carolina?

The statutory grounds for an absolute divorce in North Carolina are as follows: (1) If the husband or wife commits adultery; (2) If either party at the time of marriage was and still is naturally impotent; (3) If the wife at the time is pregnant, and the husband is ignorant of the fact of such pregnancy and is not the father of the child with which the wife was pregnant at the time of the marriage; (4) If the husband and wife have lived separate and apart for one year; (5) If either party has engaged in an unnatural or abnormal sex act with a person of the same sex or of a different sex or with a beast; (6) If the other party is suffering from incurable insanity and has been confined for five consecutive years next preceding the bringing of the action in an institution for the care and treatment of the mentally disordered.

Approximately 97 per cent of all absolute divorces obtained in North Carolina are granted on the ground of one year separation.

May the court order a husband to pay to his wife money for her subsistence and attorney fees during the time that the divorce proceeding is pending?

This may be done if the judge finds that the wife does not have sufficient means whereon to subsist during the prosecution of the suit and to defray the necessary expenses of the suit.

This is predicated upon the justice of affording the wife sufficient means to cope with her husband in presenting her case before the court.

What is the legal effect of a divorce upon the children of the marriage?

Divorce terminates the legal relation of husband and wife. It has no effect upon the legal relation of parent and child.

The liability of the father primarily to support the children remains as well after as before a divorce, and even where the custody of the children has been awarded to the mother.

How soon after the divorce may the parties remarry?

Either or both of the parties may enter a marriage with another person immediately upon the granting of the divorce decree.

Of course, if they desire, they may enter into a second marriage between themselves.

Hornets Have Big Victory

The Hornets defeated the Bertie Rams Wednesday, November 4. This was the last home game of the season and our team worked hard for victory. The score was 50-8. Coaches Cole and Booth have worked very hard with our team this year.

We will have our last game of the season Wednesday, November 11 at Bertie. We will again play the Bertie Rams and hope to win.

Student Council Meeting
The D. F. Walker Junior High School Student Council met in the Home Economics Department Friday, November 6 at the sixth period.

Some very important business was discussed. Mr. Kinion wants to see if we can stop throwing trash on the grounds in order to keep the school cleaner.

A new dress code was established. Girls may wear long pants to school in cold weather.

Book Fair Schedule

The week of November 16-18 is Book Week. The theme of the book fair for this year is "This Is the Age of the Book." During the week the library will be open to everyone who wishes to come. Paperback books will be on sale and Mrs. Belfield, our librarian, will be on hand to answer any questions you might wish to ask. We would like to have you come in sometime during the week and visit.

loan to a specified buyer. The farmer must furnish the name of the buyer, the amount to be sold and the approximate date of the sale. The buyer will pay the amount due ASCS and any difference to the farmer.

Farmers desiring to use any part of the commodity in the bin for seed or other purposes must repay the amount loaned on the bushels to be removed from the bin before any of the commodity can be removed from the bin.

Commodities under ASCS loans are mortgaged property and it is a violation to dispose of mortgaged property.

It is very important that farmers observe the regulations in effect on ASCS commodity loans in order to avoid any trouble.

Wool Incentive Payments
Wool producers must have sales documents for shorn wool and unshorn lambs in order to earn incentive payments for 1970 marketings. All unshorn lamb purchases must be reported at the time an application is filed for a wool incentive payment.

Application for wool incentive payments for 1970 marketings must be filed at the county ASCS office by January 31, 1971. It is important that filing of applications be virtually complete by January 31 so that data from the supporting sales documents will be available for use in determining the national average price received for wool.

Reminders
Changes in farm operations or ownership should be reported to the county office. Return tobacco and peanut marketing cards when sales are completed.

Acreage diverted under the feed grain and/or wheat programs for 1970 can now be grazed, but no crops can be harvested.

UP, UP, UP

Sure, a lot of us can remember (although we hate to admit it) when the movies — with popcorn — cost only a quarter...

That was a long time ago. Why, we can hardly get the popcorn, alone, for a quarter now. Lots of things have changed since then — even the quarter...

But, if you'll think about it for a minute, in the face of rising costs with nearly everything these days, your telephone is still the best and biggest bargain in your household budget!

Now isn't that true?

A Thought to Remember

By MARVIN BARHAM

Just about every day we hear someone ask: "What is this generation coming to?" The question that should be asked is: "How did we get here?"

There are a hundred different places that could be blamed, but don't overlook the home.

Happy is the man who believes that the training of his children in the way of truth and righteousness will secure for his nation the stability that is so needed in this modern day. The Puritans and the Pilgrims built a nation centered about the family, and no matter what may be said about the blue laws of New England, America has not suffered by them. It is the laxness of all law that is filling our reformatories and prisons with lawbreakers scarcely out of their teens.

Maybe we should take a long look at "old-fashioned" tactics in our "modern" world.

OUR THOUGHT TO REMEMBER: "One seldom rises above the leadership."
