

The Christian's Hope

By DALTON WARD, RYLAND, N. C.
 As we think of a Christian
 For there is nothing on earth can compare;
 It causes us to think of Heaven,
 And the mansion that is waiting for us there.

We also think of a Christian
 As the one who has paid the price;
 And if we will follow the Master's leadings,
 He can give us some good advice.

To prepare ourselves to live onward
 We must have a great change in heart;
 And keep our eyes on Jesus,
 For He is the one who saved us at the start.

The Christian will always remember
 That from sin he has been made anew;
 And try to be a blessing to others,
 For he is our saviour and redeemer, too.

The Christian may have some disappointments
 But there is a God who sits on the throne;
 And if you will take your problems to Jesus,
 He is ready to take care of his own.

The Christians — they have a sure anchor
 An anchor that will always hold;
 So let us follow the right pattern,
 And strive for God's highest goal.

The hope of a Christian shines brighter
 When our all on the altar we have laid;
 For we know that only Christ is the answer,
 And that in Him we have fully obeyed.

So when we lie down to sleep on our pillow
 Knowing that we have all of our sins under control;
 And if Christ should come before morning,
 That all would be well with our soul.

A New Answer To Traffic Jams

A new horizontal elevator-like monorail called the "Transivator," which runs on a guideway I-beam, is being developed.

The system is designed to move people at airports, in congested traffic areas, from parking lots to stores, at shopping malls and amusement parks.

Seating six passengers, with six standees, the cars are computer-controlled in line with traffic movement requirements.

Car speeds of 15 to 20 miles per hour are expected in business districts, while on long runs or express runs much higher speeds can be maintained with passenger comfort and safety.

Three Firestone divisions are involved in the development with the Sky-Kar Corporation of Ft. Worth, Texas.

The Christians — they have a sure anchor
 An anchor that will always hold;
 So let us follow the right pattern,
 And strive for God's highest goal.

$1.5 Million Is Spent Daily to Fight Pollution

The president of the American Petroleum Institute has announced that the oil industry's yearly domestic anti-pollution expenditures have more than doubled in the past five years.

Frank N. Ikard disclosed that a new API survey of oil companies showed that annual spending increased from about $270 million in 1966 to $559 million in 1970—a rate of $1 1/2 million a day—on pollution-control equipment and environmental research. Over the five-year period, the industry has spent more than $2 billion in the conservation field, the survey showed.

"These sharply increased conservation expenditures come at the very time that business profits generally have declined," Mr. Ikard pointed out. "But oil companies have wisely decided to accept the reduced profits that result from anti-pollution expenditures. They view this as a sound, long-range investment in both the public and corporate interest."

Heavy investments made in the Caribbean and elsewhere to provide low-sulfur fuel oils required to meet new air pollution regulations in the U.S. were not included in the survey findings.

Head Start On Sterling

Two heads are better than one — especially when it comes to choosing a lifetime possession such as sterling silver flatware. Many a bride-to-be enlists the help of her fiancé in selecting the pattern, for it's important that he, too, should be happy with the look and feel of the sterling. Bridal consultants say that when the couple's pattern is registered early, relatives and friends are much more likely to add to the set with place or serving pieces.
