Degrees of Cooperation

There has developed some disagreement as to the degrees of cooperation being enjoyed by a new program in Edenton-Chowan Schools. We speak of Volunteer Services, Mrs. Lane Kinion, guidance counselor, has worked hard on the program as have many, many others. This newspaper has on two different occasions told the VS story in pictures and words.

It is not the pictures but the stories which has caused the rub. We suspect It is not what was written but what was not written that has been a bone of con-

Here at The Herald we take the news as it comes. For this reason, the Holmes High program got first billing. Last week the Walker Junior High program was covered. But, as is generally the case, not to the satisfaction of everyone

This has resulted in a Letter to the Editor published elsewhere in the newspaper. We have again penciled out a copy of the hand-out given our reporter.

We admit knowing very little about the Volunteer Service program although in theory it sounds like a winner. We do, however, know the policy of this newspaper. In this regards, it is not to run material, except in paid ads, exactly as they are submitted. They must be edited to conform to style, etc., as well as to be integrated into information on the same subject received from

We, therefore, can't measure the degrees of cooperation the VS program receives at one school or another. We do know the ground rules at this newspaper. And so long as you play in this league the same rules apply to every-

Neighboring Culture

Dr. Clifford Bair, "Mr. Culture" in Northeastern North Carolina, will direct Albemarle Players in "Music Man" in Elizabeth City next week. The production will be March 25-27 at 8 P. M., in Sheep Auditorium.

Those who meander along the Public Parade who are interested in taking advantage of this bit of culture, may purchase advance tickets at Edenton Chamber of Commerce.

Straight From Bogue

Jim Tyler of the Division of Commercial and Sports Fisheries of the N. C. Department of Conservation and Development (whee!) writes from the "Bogue Banks" thusly:

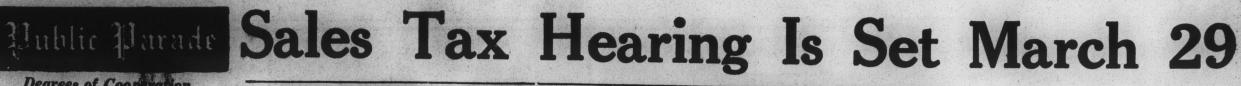

. . She must have been close to 60, but her posture was good and her strides were strong as she worked the beach, bucket in hand.

day called a public hearing for 10 A. M. March 29 to discuss the Local Government Sales Tax Act which was ratified this week by the 1971 General Assembly. This would reinstate the 1 per cent sales tax for use by local governments. The tax could be reinstated May 1

Chowan County commissioners Mon-

by board action.

Immediately a hassle developed over the basis for distributing the tax between the county and Town of Edenton.

The law states distribution can be based either on population or ad valorem tax levy. It has been estimated that $138,000 would be realized from the tax within the next year.

Based on population, the county would receive $95,649 of the total with Edenton getting $42,351. On the ad valorem basis, the county would realize $113,321 while the town's share would be $24,674.

John W. Graham, county attorney, told commissioners if the split is based on population then funds derived from the tax could be spent for necessary or non-necessary items. If not, then sales tax funds cannot be spent for such things as airports, hospitals, recreation, etc.

Graham recommended the ad valorem method of sharing the tax. He said he feels the county is in worse need for the extra tax source than the town.

Commissioner C. A. Phillips advised the board that Edenton Town Council had met earlier Tuesday and requested the split be along population lines.

to contribute. Carlton Jackson, director of Red Cross for the county, stated that 50 per cent of the money contributed by the residents will be used in Chowan County and 50 per cent would go on the national level. He also remarked the money kept home is used to pay for the canteen held at each Tidewater Regional Bloodmobile visit and a portion is used to help people that get stranded in Edenton without money so they may have food and lodging.

Soliciting for the funds will be local and county civic clubs. Also a talent show and the production of a "Womanless Wedding" will be given on April 2, at 8 P. M., at Swain Elementary School auditorium.

Jackson stated that the national and local Red Cross is governed and financed by volunteers. He continued saying that to every paid staff member of the Red Cross there are 166 volun-ed strenuous objection to a councilinitiated plan for merger of the two elected boards. The sometimes heated discussion lasted 45 minutes and ended with Mayor George Alma Byrum saying while no problems had been solved the boards "have cleared the air on a number of things".

Mayor Byrum, a strong advocate of a single elected board to run all the affairs of the town, asked for continued thought on the question. "There has been no meeting of the minds (but) maybe sometime in the future we will," he said. "We want to do what is best in the most progressive and economical fashion.

Earlier, Chairman Jesse L. Harrell of the Board of Public Works defended his position that it would not be more economical or efficient to merge the boards. He contended councilmen did not have sufficient time to handle existing business and the affairs of the electric and water department.

He was joined in his defense by J. H. Conger, Jr., J. P. Ricks, Jr., and W. J. P. Earnhardt, board members.

Mayor Byrum said relations between the boards in recent years has been "excellent" while this was not the case in past years. He said he has a high regard for the manner in which the department has been operated but feels it is in the best interest of Edenton to have one elected board.

The mayor said the council feels another referendum should be held concerning the merger. (A vote was held 1967 and the merger was defeated by 33 votes).

He said the council work load has Continued on Page 4

Area Development District Funded

Rep. Walter B. Jones of the First Congressional District Thursday announced a federal administrative grant to the Albemarle Regional Planning and Development Commission. The grant is in the amount of $45,000.

Wesley B. Cullipher of Elizabeth City, chairman of the latest designated Economic Development Administration district, relayed the congressman's announcement to Albemarle Area Development Association board members, in session at Holiday Inn.

Cullipher is immediate past president of AADA, the organization which initiated the EDA plan for the 10-county Albemarle Area.

The first federal grant to come from EDA since the new district was designated went to Manteo. It was announced Monday. A $52,400 grant is part of a $147,000 grant by EDA to be used to help construct a municipal water treatment plant. Total cost of the project has been set at $507,500.

ARPDC board members have voted to establish area headquarters in Edenton. The board began receiving applications this week for the position of executive director. Other staff members will be employed soon.

The 10 participating counties will put up a total of $15,000 for the first year's Twisdale has been assistant manager of the State Historic Site at Halifax since January, 1970.

Elliott Bows Out; Town Political Pot Is Warming Up

James E. Darnell

There was a bevy of activity this week on the political front as the March 26 deadline for filing to run in Edenton's May Municipal Election nears. It went like this:

Jesse L. Harrell

A veteran councilman announced he would not seek re-election.

A second veteran representative filed with the board of elections. A newcomer to the political arena paid his filing fee. Two veteran members of the Board of Public Works filed as did a new-comer who seeks one of the three seats
