Public Parade

Learning Our ABC's

Success in this country is becoming more and more an alphabet game. The ABC keeps Chowan County taxes down; the E&W does likewise for the Town of Edenton; AADA works for a better 10-county area; EIC assists the poor.

A newest abracadabra or configura-tion circulated along the Public Parade is ARPDC, i.e., Albemarle Regional Planning and Development Commission. In a meeting in Municipal Building today (Thursday) discussions will be held on gaining designation of the Town of Edenton as a growth center by Economic Development Association.

Edenton could become one of two designated growth centers within ARPDC's 10-county service area. The benefits to be derived from such designated nation are greater than most local minds can comprehend.

To be so designated would be tre-mendous. But to have ARPDC headquartered in Edenton is equally as beneficial to Ye Ole Towne On Queen Anne's Creek.

Chowan County has a highly effective representation on ARPDC's executive board. W. B. Gardner, town administrator, succeeded Wesley Cullipher as chairman, Cullipher became executive director); N. J. George and C. A. Phillips of the county commissioners; and Dr. J. H. Horton, head of the Good Neighbor Council, a member of Edenton-Chowan Board of Education, and one of this community's greatest leaders, worked tirelessly to make this commission not only a reality but one responsive to the needs of the area.

Because of their leadership, the headquarters was established here. And because of this administrative decision. Washington County abandoned the Mid-East Association, a going but it, to con-tinue association in a 10 county Albemarle Area.

To maintain superiority in the com-munity, area, region, and state, we must continue to develop leadership such as was demonstrated in establishment of another alphabetic youngin' along the Public Parade. Singularly we fall, or maybe merely survive; while collectively we prosper.

Since there ain't many of us numberwise, it behooves us more then anything else to play the alphabet game to the Birthdays, Notwithstanding!

The Democratic Party of our time — What? Where? When? Why?

Who?
Well, we went down to Wrightsville
Beach Saturday to the Young Democratic Clubs' Summer Luau, before we aged out, to seek the answer and/or solution to these questions.

We would be less than frank to those who regularly meander along the Public Parade if we did not enumerate, not necessarily in order of priority, our reasons for heading south to the beaches instead of east. It reads like:

To see if the Holiday Inn was as terrible as it was on an earlier visit with

To lend support to friend Phil God-win of neighboring Gates who comes closer and closer every day to testing the waters as a candidate for lieutenant governor;

To try to find out if Atty. Gen. Bob Morgan is really as coy as he would tend to have you believe about running for more lofty political office; To support Charlie Winberry of Rocky prexy and candidate for governor in 19??: Mount, ex of Statesville, who is YDC

To see if the advance man Sen. Sam J. Ervin "loaned" Sen. Henry Jackson could be an Edentonian—i.e., Bobby Smith or Bill Goodwin;

But mainly because Saturday was the birthday of the lady member of Edenton-Chowan Board of Education and mother of our five children.

and mother of our five children.

We found answers to most of these wonderings and among other things that Roy Sowers, the Sanford business executive who is director of the prestigous Board of Conservation and Development, had joined Travel and Promotion Director Chuck Barbour in using the lofty office of Governor of North Carolina to further his own ambitions.

Mr. Sowers has taken advantage of his position and friendship with Gov. Bob Scott by accepting the first secretaryship in the state's reorganization program, knowing he would announce for lieutenant governor in five months.

for lieutenant governor in five months. It's a damn sham

Sen. Jackson, the Washington State onservative, did a tremendous job in is swing through Tar Heelia. We'll

THE CHOWAN HERALD

Volume XXXVII-No. 30. Edenton, Chowan County, North Carolina, Thursday, August 12, 1971

Single Copy 10 Cents

Board Asks At Wass Site

Edenton Planning in has recommended denial of a rezoning request for the Waff property on the waterfront and strongly suggested that the town purchase the tract for a community park.

Town Council received the recommendation at a regular meeting Tuesday night and called for a public hearon the Waff's request at the next scheduled meeting, September 14.

The town has taken steps to condemn the old fish house on Edenton Bay along with the old freight station, in which Mayor George Alma Byrum has interest, and the Hobowsky building on East King Street. When the Waff property was discussed last month, owners asked the town to either purchase it or change the zoning from residential to downtown commercial.

Town Administrator W. B. Gardner reported that Mayor Byrum is discussing removal of the freight building with a contractor. Since no word has been heard from the Hobowskys, council instructed W. J. P. Earnhardt, Jr., town attorney, and Building Inspector Sam Long to proceed with proceedings to get the building removed from East King Street.

Mayor Byrum asked members of the Finance Committee if they had discussed purchase of any waterfront property. The answer was negative.

In calling for the public hearing, the mayor again asked the Finance Committee to consider purchase of the Council increased the rate for grave spaces in Beaver Hill Cemetery from $50 to $75 for residents and continued the policy of doubling the rate for outof-town purchasers.

Councilman Herbert Hollowell said Continued on Page 4

A possible request by Albemarle

Commission to have Edenton designated one of two growth centers in the 10-county region will be discussed at a meeting here today (Thursday). Wesley Cullipher, ARPDC executive director, said the meeting will begin at 9:30

A. M., in the Municipal Building.
Once designated by Economic Development Administration, the town will become eligible for federal work grants, loans and other benefits that will upgrade job opportunities and make the area more attractive to industry, it was needs to be done in Edenton to make

The discussion will include what pointed out.

Growth Center Designation Sought

Regional Planning and Development housing, health and medical facilities,

Topic? Highways-When Joe Nowell, Jr., of Winfall, left, and Postmaster Levin Culpepper of Elizabeth City get together you can bet their conversation eventually gets around to highways. Nowell, area highway commissioner, and Culpepper are shown at last week's meeting of State Highway Commission in Elizabeth City.

$6-Million Allocated For Area Roads

ELIZABETH CITY—The State Highway Commission, in a rare appearance in Northeastern North Carolina, last Thursday allocated $171-million for construction and maintenance. This area will receive some $6.1-million during fiscal 1971-72 for primary, secondary, urban and public service roads.

Commissioner Joe Nowell, Jr., of Winfall, has some 411 miles of primary system roads in the counties of Camden, Chowan, Currituck, Dare, Gates, Pas-quotank and Perquimans. He will operate with a construction allocation of $176,000.

The first division, where Commissioner Carroll Gilliam of Windsor covers Bertie, Hertford, Hyde, Martin, Northampton, Tyrrell and Washington counties in addition to the six in Nowell's area, has been allocated $2,744,000 for primary system maintenance.

it more attractive to industry; such as educational facilities, recreational facilities, establishment of an industrial park, improvements to fire, police and emergency services, and water and be put to the area outside the town which may be potential industrial development areas, which thereby should

John Frailey of Huntington, W. Va.,

EDA regional planner, will be in attendance at the meeting to assist the local group.

W. B. Gardner, town administrator, is chairman of the ARPDC which has offices at 102 East Queen Street.

be included in the growth center.

Cullipher said thought also needs to sewer services, etc.

Nowell's area received an allocation of $246,000 for secondary system construction. Chowan County's share has been set at $22,000.

Chairman Lauch Faircloth pointed out that the state expects to spend $53-million in this fiscal year for maintenance to the secondary system. Of this amount, the division has $2,660,000 from which will come $144,000 for Chowan County.

Urban system construction in Nowell's seven counties will be $46,000 with the division maintenance set at $239,000.

Statewide, allocations are: Primary System, Construction: $45,-

675,000. Primary System, Maintenance: $37,-

660,000. Secondary System, Construction: $15,-

525,000. Secondary System, Maintenance, $53,-000,000.

Urban System, Construction: $11,-900,000. Urban System, Maintenance: $5,-

Continued on Page 4

4-H'ers At Camp

Twelve Chowan County 4-H'ers are attending 4-H Camp at Betsy-Jeff Penn 4-H Center in Reidsville this week.

They are: Wayne Chappell, Randy Chappell, Dean Allen Wills, Al Ward, Gerald Hall, Keith Hall, Cindy Ricks, Vickie Chappell, Jackie Perry, Jeanette Ward, Margie Rayner, and Arlene Monds.

Mrs. Daisy Bembry and Murray Goodwin, extension agents and Mark Thompson, adult leader are accompanying the group.

Is Reversed For Chowan

Patrol Move

Chowan County will be returned to the Elizabeth City District of the State Highway Patrol, effective September 1, The Chowan Herald has learned.

Several months ago, in a surprise move which wasn't made public until two months later, Chowan was assigned to the Ahoskie District. When questioned as to the reasoning behind such a move, SHP officials said it was to give the two districts a better balance in terms of number of counties served.

Law enforcement officers and court officials protested. They contended it was done for political reasons and it was in the best interest of all Chowan citizens to be aligned with Elizabeth

At its annual meeting here recently, Sheriff Troy Toppin introduced a motion to Albemarle Law & Order Association requesting Chowan be changed back to the Elizabeth City District. Later Sheriff Toppin and Clerk of Superior Court Lena M. Leary requested assistance of Chowan County commissioners. The board passed a motion requesting reversal of the former ac-

House Speaker Phil Godwin of Gates said he was happy to learn the change "You folks down was being made. there work closely and every effort should be made to keep Albemarle Area counties together, especially where services such as law enforcement are concerned," he noted. "It is definitely in the best interest of all the good people in Chowan County to be under the jurisdiction of the State Highway Patrol office in Elizabeth City.

Sen. J. J. (Monk) Harrington of Lewiston, was also said to be helpful in getting the change made back to Elizabeth City.

District Court Judge Wilton Walker, Jr., of Currituck, one of the first to protest the SHP action, said upon learning of the September 1 switch: "I'm delighted. Everyone can work together better now.

Guard In Training

Major elements of North Carolina's 30th Infantry Division departed the state last weekend for two weeks of annual field training at Ft. Stewart, Ga. A truck convoy departed from the local National Guard Armory Saturday morning, as did convoys from units throughout the state. Although the multi-column vehicular traffic crowded the highways, no major accidents were reported.

The 'Old Hickory' Division, commanded by Maj. Gen. Dan K. Edwards of Durham, has units in North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia. The majority of the division still is located in the Tar Heel State, however. Troops from the three states usually converge on Georgia or at Ft. Bragg for summer training.

The Tar Heel Guardsmen are scheduled to return to their home station during the weekend of August 21.

Sen. Jackson Finds Prospects Good In Tar Heel State

WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH — House Speaker Phil Godwin of Gates County was among platform guests here Saturday night at a summer luau sponsored by the Young Democratic Clubs of North Carolina. Charlie Winberry of Rocky Mount is YDC president.

Featured speaker at the supper was U. S. Sen. Henry M. Jackson of the State of Washington, a possible candidate for the Democratic nomination for Introduced by U. S. Sen. B. Everett Jordan, the keynoter declared: "A Democratic President would not sit by and watch this nation's economy deterior-

Sen. Jackson, who was warmly received by the audience of some 500 party faithfuls, also stated:

"This Administration has managed to raise unemployment and inflation. Under its policies money flows out of the country and imports flow in. And their only response is to put out another optimistic press release.

"The Democrats will act to spur economic growth, cut unemployment, reduce poverty — just as we did in the 1960's. The Democrats in Congress have already passed new legislation to curb inflation, to cut taxes, to increase public works, to provide confidence — but these bills have been vetoed or ignored by the White House.

"Don't let anyone tell you there's no difference between the two major parties. Just look at the record: three recessions in eight years under Eisenhower-Nixon, compared to America on the move under Kennedy-Johnson. We've got things to do in this decade — but Republican mismanagement can't do them.

"We need to provide 40 per cent more jobs each year in the 70's than in the 60's - but this Administration can't do that.

"We need to build 1,000 new cities the size of Raleigh by the year 2000but this Administration can't do that.

We need 2.6-million new housing units each year for a decade-but this Administration can't do that.

'We could end poverty in America in our lifetime-but this Administration can't do that.

"Instead, we have unemployment, not more jobs; bankrupt cities. not new Continued on Page 4

crats At Luau-Some 500 Democrats gathered in Wrightsville Beach last Saturday for a YDC luau. House Speaker Phil Godwin of Gates County is shown at left with Mrs. L. F. Amburn, Jr., of Edenton, and Charlie Hodgson of Chapel Hill, state American Legion commander. At left the Speaker is with U. S. Sen. Henry Jackson of Washington and YDC President Charlie Winberry of Rocky Mount. Mrs. Amburn is pictured above talking with Bill Goodwin of Edenton and Washington, D. C.