

Windsor Native Seeks State Insurance Post

George B. Cherry, Jr., a native of Windsor and resident of Raleigh, is running on the Democratic ticket for Commissioner of Insurance. He campaigned in Edenton recently.

Cherry is married to the former June Short of Florence, S. C., and they have four daughters. They are members of the Episcopal Church.

He attended Raleigh Public Schools and attended N. C.

George B. Cherry

State University and Wake Forest University. He served in the U. S. Navy in the Pacific Fleet.

He is a past president and secretary of Raleigh Independent Insurance Agents; past chairman of the Wake County March of Dimes, former board member of the PTA and past president of the Wildwood Country Club.

He was the president of General Insurance & Realty Agency for 15 years and is presently with Suburban Realty Company as a real estate broker.

Cherry takes the following position on insurance matters: Draft for study and enactment a personalized N. C. no-fault auto liability plan using thoughtful guidelines and reference; approve a multi-rate classification plan as a step to ease irregularities and discriminations in auto liability rates and to gain necessary experience in more precise areas of auto exposure; retain prior approval on all rates, keeping an open mind for any file and use and open competition filings; urge requirement that four hours of auto insurance and one hour of general insurance be taught in driver education classes.

Cease and desist companies from mass cancellation or non-renewals in "hand-picked" areas; urge standard basic limits of auto liability for all states; study feasibility of possible all states endorsement for N. C. policies that automatically conform to limits in other states to protect our insureds who have accidents in states that have different liability requirements than we do; pay closer attention to department audits of claims paid by companies for "convenience sake," causing insureds to be surcharged under the safe driver plan; avoid all federal encroachment into insurance business; find ways to better inform the public of pending filings and changes in the insurance contracts being offered for consideration.

Urge all agents to exhaust all avenues of voluntary placement of insurance before using the various pools for placement, and expect all companies to take their responsible place in the market place.

A Thought to Remember

By MARVIN BARHAM

The story is told about the famous French tight-rope walker who was preparing to walk across Niagara Falls on a rope.

"Do you believe I can walk across these falls?" he asked a bystander.

"Yes," was the reply.

"Do you believe I can carry a man on my shoulders?" he further inquired.

"Yes, I do," the man stated.

"Would you be the man to ride on my shoulders?" he asked.

"No, not me!" he emphatically replied.

Faith, sometimes, is a strange thing. Like the man and the tight-rope walker, it takes on a different meaning when it involves us personally. We often believe in great achievements and ideals, but we do not want to be an actual part in their accomplishments. Great faith is that which is supported by our own efforts—our own energies and talents.

OUR THOUGHT TO REMEMBER: "If you believe in something—be willing to be a part of it."
