

Golf News

The last two flights in the Chowan Golf and Country Club championship were played this past weekend. It was reported that Bill Norvell defeated Reggie Griffin one up to win the fourth flight and Jim Darnell defeated P. C. Ashley one up to win the sixth flight. Both matches were stated to be tight down to the last hole.

Golf pro Lew Dexter states that the member-guest tournament is coming up on October 28 and 29. At present only a small number of names are registered. He encourages golfers to take advantage of the good weather and course condition.

FALL PLAIDS

Plaids are the biggest pattern for fall fashions. Tartans are tempting in miniature to jumbo blocks, notes Dorothy Barrier, extension clothing specialist, N. C. State University. Solid fabrics sing in clear reds, eggplant, navy and earth colors.

A LOT OF SNAKE — That is a five-foot rattle snake which is being displayed by Patricia Easterling. Her father, Bill, killed the snake while on a hunting trip recently. A number of big snakes have been killed this year in Chowan County.

Abandoned Autos Target Of Council

Hazards imposed by abandoned vehicles in Edenton were discussed at the Town Council meeting last Tuesday night, and action was taken to curb the problem.

On the basis of a request by Edenton Police Chief J. D. Parrish, the council enacted an ordinance making it a misdemeanor to leave a vehicle abandoned. A violation of this ordinance will be punishable by a fine not greater than $50 or imprisonment not longer than 30 days.

The passage of the ordinance received the unanimous consent of the council.

Alton Elmore reported that $9,713.84 had been paid out in expenses for the "250" celebration, with $5,300.76 in receipts. He recommended that the remaining special "250" ash trays be donated to Historic Edenton as a money-making project.

Elmore was congratulated for a job well done as chairman of the 250th anniversary celebration.

Town Administrator W. B. Gardner received approval of a recommendation concerning the use of the town attorney by council members and department heads. His plan states that those desiring to consult the attorney should contact the administrator first in order to eliminate unnecessary consultations. He also proposed that the attorney submit bills to the town on a monthly basis.

Chief Parrish and Gardner recommended the hiring of a part-time dog warden on a daily basis. The recommendation, which was approved, is designed to more adequately enforce the existing dog ordinance. The initiated program will be established on a probationary basis in order to determine the effectiveness of the action.

Mayor George A. Byrum made several appointments to council committees. On Law and Finance, Leo Katkaveck and Roy L. Harrell were appointed; on Utilities, W. H. Hollowell, Jr., and James C. Dail, and on Public Works, David White and Clyde Hollowell.

BUYING BEEF

In 1950, one hour's labor in the United States would buy 1.7 pounds of beef. Today, it can buy 3.3 pounds, and the beef is considerably better and of more uniform quality.

James Harrell Finishes Course

NEWPORT NEWS, Va.—James Louis Harrell, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Harrell, Sr., 929 North Broad Street, Edenton, has completed his studies at the Apprentice School of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company, a subsidiary of Tennessee, Inc. He will continue his work as a toolmaker in the Virginia Shipyard.

Harrell entered the school in July, 1968, after graduating from John A. Holmes High School. During his apprenticeship he served as delegate of the Student Council in 1969, and as an alternate in 1972.

During its 80 years of operation, the Newport News Shipyard's Apprentice School has graduated more than 4,000 skilled workmen in 25 crafts. Vocational training and academic instruction equivalent to a junior college education are provided during the four and five year courses offered by the school. The program also includes athletics and other extracurricular activities.

The Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company is the world's largest and most fully integrated shipyard.

Juniors Order Class Rings

One of the most exciting events for junior class members is that of acquiring class rings. This year the students had a larger selection of styles and colors from which to choose. However, the majority decided on the traditional ring. The class is eagerly awaiting their arrival.

Pictures

Individual pictures were taken on September 20 and 21. Again this year identification cards will be made.

FORESTRY NOTES

By Sam Taylor

Service Forester

Sylvia Stallings, district clerk with the N. C. Forest Service, is shown examining gypsy moth trap. The N. C. Forest Service cooperated with the U. S. and N. C. Departments of Agriculture in the gypsy moth survey this summer. Rangers placed 10 traps on private woodlands scattered throughout each county.

The traps are waterproof cardboard tubes with a sex attractant inside. A sticky material and funnel shaped entrance prevents the male moth from escaping once inside. The sex attractant is said to attract male moths for distances up to two miles. The female does not fly and is usually found resting quietly or laying eggs.

Each trap was checked monthly during the summer and suspicious moths inside were sent to Raleigh for positive identification. The only moth found in the Albemarle Area was near Manteo during August. It is felt this moth hitchhiked into our area on a camper from a Northeastern State. Male moths were also captured in Chapel Hill, Beaufort, Mocksville and near Kings Mountain. No female gypsy moths were found in North Carolina this summer.

BIG INVESTMENT

A sample of over 100 North Carolina dairies enrolled in the N. C. State University Farm Business Records Program shows that the average herd size is 72 cows and the average investment is $2,582 per cow, or a total of $186,771.

Birthday Calendar Sale Is Underway

It's that time of year again. Beginning September 23 and continuing through October 6, canvass will be under way to sell birthday calendars. All proceeds go to Historic Edenton. Chairmen from four organizations will be conducting the drive. They are: Trudy Parker, Edenton Jaycettes, 482-4859; Peggy Dees, Woman's Club, 482-4113; Cherie Davenport, BPW, 482-4756, and Wayne Sawyer, Edenton Jaycettes, 482-2191.
