Farmers' Exchange Student Here

Chowan County is host for an unusual guest. He is unusual in the respect that he is from across the Atlantic Ocean. Jan Geluk, 22, of the Netherlands is taking part in the International Farmers' Youth Exchange and will be in North Carolina until October 15.

While in Chowan County he will be the guest of the Yates Parrish and Eugene Jordan families.

The purpose of his trip to the United States, he reported, is to study farm practices as compared to those in his native land. He is also interested in studying American culture.

cars were made sturdier to last longer. In his country, stated Jan, the laws concerning littering aren't stringent, the people just don't do it.

One big difference he noted about America is that the American culture does not reflect its history the way the history of his country can be seen in the architecture and way of life.

Soccer is the main sport in the Netherlands, but Jan said that sports are not emphasized as heavily in his country. He also stated that baseball is played there but not extensively.

Jan's excursion has included a stay on Long Island, New York, and on to Denver, Colo., several days later, for a stay on a cattle ranch. He then came to Raleigh. Prior to coming to Chowan County, he visited Rockingham, Currituck and Lenoir counties.

After his time in North Carolina is over, he will be able to enjoy 10 days of free traveling time during which he plans to visit relatives in Philadelphia, Pa.

Holmes Adopts Code Of Conduct

During the summer a faculty committee met to develop a Code of Conduct for Holmes High School. It was the recommendation of this committee that a point system be developed.

This point system was presented to the faculty and administration before the opening of school and was approved.

Although the code deals mainly with conduct during school hours, those sections which are applicable will be enforced at all school sponsored functions.

A review and evaluation committee composed of representatives from the student body, faculty, administration and parents will be formed to give a written evaluation of the code of conduct by the end of the first six weeks.

Any parent interested in serving on this committee is asked to contact the school at 482-3513.

It is hoped that this committee and the printing of the code of conduct will help keep parents better informed on school policies and improve cooperation between the home and school.

Five Churches Plan Service

On Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock five area churches will participate in a joint baptismal service at Edenton Baptist Church. The five Baptist churches are Capeharts, Rocky Hock, Warwick, Yeopim and the host church, Edenton.

The service will also include special music, hymn singing and the continued showing of slides of Rev. Robert E. Gray's recent "Missionary Journey of Paul" tour. This week's slides will highlight Baalbek and Damascus.

"The Go-Spell" will be the sermon topic used by Mr. Gray at the 11 o'clock worship service Sunday morning. Scripture will be taken from I Corinthians 15:1-11 and Matthew 28:18-20.

Nursery facilities will be provided and the public is cordially invited to attend both services.

CARD OF THANKS

Our sincere thanks to the many wonderful people in Edenton and Chowan County for your prayers, your gifts of flowers and the notes of good wishes and encouragement during Linda's recent illness. May God richly reward each of you for your concern and good wishes.

Punt, Pass, Kick Event Is Open To Boys, 8 - 13

RALEIGH—Gov. Bob Scott, encouraging youth athletic activities and the spirit of competition, has proclaimed the week of September 17-23 as Punt, Pass and Kick Week in North Carolina and urged youngsters aged eight through 13 to participate in the 1972 PP&K program.

The governor's proclamation, presented in ceremonies at the State Administration Building by Secretary of State Thad Eure, was welcomed by five youngsters who have registered for this year's PP&K program—among them the first girl to sign up in North Carolina.

PP&K, the largest youth program of its kind in the country, is sponsored jointly by the National Football League and the Ford dealers of America. More than eight million youths have participated in PP&K since the program began in 1961, and 1972 registrations are expected to exceed one million for the fifth consecutive year.

PP&K registrations are being taken at participating Ford dealerships through September 29. No purchase or entry fee is required, but entrants must be accompanied by a parent or guardian. No special equipment is required, there is no body contact in the competition, and participants do not endanger their amateur status.

In PP&K, youngsters aged eight through 13 punt, placekick and pass only against others their own ages. Scoring is based on a combination of distance and accuracy.

First place winners in each of the six age groups advance through a series of competition levels to the national championships January 21 at the NFL Pro Bowl Game in Dallas, Tex.

Local level competitions will be held September 30 or October 1, and zone finals are scheduled for October 7. Zone winners from Eastern North Carolina will take part in the district competition at Richmond, Va., on October 14, and progress to area competition November 12 and division competition December 16.

Area, division and national events will be held pre-game and at half time of NFL games, with the event of this area scheduled at the Washington Redskins-New York Giants game.

Trophies will be presented to winners at all levels of the competition. National champions will have their names permanently enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio. Their trophies will be presented by NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

Everybody's got a dream lurking around in the back of his mind. A dream vacation. A dream cottage. A dream car. Dreams can be a lot more fun if you know you're doing something to make them come true.

And that's what the Payroll Savings Plan is all about. When you sign up an amount you specify is set aside from each paycheck and used to buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

Now Bonds mature in less than six years. That's the shortest maturity period ever, and makes Bonds a practical way to save for dreams you want to come true while you're still young enough to enjoy them.

See the folks in the payroll office where you work. They've got dreams for sale.
