

Around The Farms In Chowan County

By R. M. THOMPSON
County Extension Chairman

The 1972 Regional Swine Conference is scheduled to be held in Chowan County on Wednesday, November 29. You will hear more about this as the time draws closer, but the program has been reworked and we believe will be much more interesting to farmers than before.

The AADA banquet is scheduled for Tuesday night, December 5. This year it is scheduled to be held in Edenton. The program has not been finalized at the present time. The communities that have participated in community development will be judged on Thursday, November 9 with the winners in the area being judged on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, November 13, 14 and 15. Many families have been involved in community development for the past several years and as most of you already know, the AADA banquet is when the area winners are announced.

It probably would be to your advantage to get your soil samples taken as soon as possible. The rush at the soil testing lab is not as great this time of the year as it is in the spring. The late fall or early winter is also a good time to put out lime if it is needed as the weather is usually suitable for lime trucks to run over your field. We would suggest that you contact your fertilizer dealers and secure some boxes if you are interested in getting your soil samples taken. This is a service that fertilizer dealers in Chowan County have offered for many years and is one that they are most happy to perform.

If you have questions concerning soil sampling, you can contact us at the county extension office.

If you have never looked at some of the programs on Channel 2, you might have missed an opportunity to get some information that could be of benefit to you. For instance, on Monday night at 7 to 8 o'clock they have a question and answer period on horticulture, including landscaping, etc. You can participate by either writing in with your question or calling in. Many of the questions that are answered could be the ones you were looking for. We hope that you will look at Channel 2 once in a while.

As we begin to harvest soybeans, field losses should be checked to see if you have your machine adjusted to minimize the losses. Research indicated that many operators can save one to two bushels of soybeans per acre by adjusting their combines. You should try to reduce the loss with modern day machinery to where it would be from 1/2 per cent to 1 per cent. Many times the losses are due to excessive cutter height. Other losses can occur when the beans are too dry, which is 12 per cent moisture or below, or when they are too wet, which is 17 per cent or above. As you go into the field to harvest soybeans this year, be sure and check the combining operation to make sure that you have done everything in the line of adjusting and operating your

There has been some changes in the law concerning the use of pesticides that deal with dealers and applicators.

"No person shall act in the capacity of a pesticide dealer, or shall engage or offer to engage in the business of, advertise as, or assume to act as a pesticide dealer unless he is licensed annually. A separate license and fee shall be obtained for each location or outlet from which restricted-use pesticides are distributed, sold, held for sale, or offered for sale. This provision of the N. C. Pesticide Law applies to those dealers who sell any pesticide appearing on the list of restricted-use pesticides directly to the end user.

Every licensed pesticide dealer shall submit to the Board with each application for an original or renewal license, and at such other times as the Board may prescribe, the names of all persons employed by him who sell or recommend restricted-use pesticides. Each licensed pesticide dealer shall also be responsible for the actions of every person who acts as his employee or agent in the solicitation or sale of pesticides, and in all claims and recommendations for use or application of pesticides.

January 1, 1973 is the effective date prior to which pesticide dealer licenses must be obtained.

Regulation No. 4 of the N. C. Pesticide Board waives the requirement that pesticide dealers be subject to written or oral examinations prior to licensing during 1972. However, the basic qualifications of the N. C. Pesticide Law of 1971 were required. The examination requirement will become effective during the 1973 calendar year. The examinations will be given at various locations in North Carolina.

FOOD COSTS

Food costs have risen and the rise has attracted a lot of attention, but food hasn't been the leader in the general rise of nearly all consumer goods. Food prices last year were 18 percent above 1967 and 34 percent above 1960. But the consumer index for all items showed an increase of 20 percent over 1967 and 36 percent over 1960. Housing, health and recreation prices have risen more than food prices.

Refrigerator freezing compartments are not designed to give temperatures of zero degrees Fahrenheit. As a result, frozen foods should be stored for 1 or 2 weeks only. In refrigerator-freezer combinations, however, foods may be kept for the same storage periods as in a food freezer.

Even ready-to-eat cereals lose crispness and flavor rapidly in opened packages. Transfer them to a tightly sealed canister.

Some of our best friends are our best customers. And vice versa.

When folks come in to look at our new cars the first thing we do is listen. That way we know their needs and can match them up with just the right Ford for them. With the right kind of financing. With the right standard and optional equipment.

Say, for instance, you want a little luxury without spending a lot of money. We'd say Galaxie 500. Maybe with a vinyl roof and interior trim, with an AM/FM stereo radio. And all that standard Ford quiet. That would be our suggestion—or you might have one of your own. So we'd listen again until you were happy. After all, if you can't trust your friends, who can you trust? And vice versa.

THE FORD TEAM WANTS TO MAKE YOU HAPPY.
