Stand Is Taken By Fellowship Army Band Slated For COA

Rev. Paul Hawkins, pastor of The Immanuel Baptist Church, and assistant pastor, Rev. Ashby Browder, along with approximately 800 other Fundamental Baptist ministers met at the Northside Baptist Church in Charlotte on November 27-29.

This was the annual meeting of the Southwide Baptist Fellowship. At this meeting the following resolutions were adopted: 1-In opposition to X-rated films being shown on TV; 2-In opposition to "Key 73", a national evangelistic effort; 3-In support of the Christian School ministry; 4-In opposition to bans, limitations or restrictions on the playing of the National Anthem and or the display of the American flag at public gatherings; 5-In support of capital punishment; and 6-In support of pastors who stand for the Lord and for the Faith, who hold the Bible as God-breathed, who continue faithfully in soul winning and who are striving to build good solid churches.

The U. S. Continental Army Band will continue its current tour of free public performances when it appears in concert at College of Albemarle Gym, Thursday at 8 P.M. The Band's performance in Elizabeth City is sponsored by College of the Albemarle and is free of charge to students, faculty, and the general public.

The U. S. Continental Army Band is an official touring musical organization sponsored by the United States Army. Throughout its lengthy history, the band has traditionally supported the official military functions of the United States Continental Army Command at Fort Monroe, Virginia. Not the typical martial band, the U. S. Continental Army Band's concerts include compositions of famous composers, popular melodies and the stirring strains of fine band music.

The CONARC Band was created in 1945 as the 50th Army Ground Forces Band at Camp H. E. Bass, J. L. Chestnut, "Mr. Republican"; Mrs. David O. Wright, hostess, and Joe Hollowell.

GOP VICTORY CELEBRATION—County Republicans celebrated the election of the first GOP governor in this century with a dinner at Edenton Restaurant Saturday night. Some 80 people attended. Adapted by the United States Continental Army Command as its official musical representative, the band has operated for years in the dual capacity as both 50th Army Band and the United States Continental Army Band. This ultimately led to the change in name when, in 1972, the band was renamed the United States Continental Army Band and declared the official touring representative of the Continental Army Command.

News From Chowan Academy

By Lynn Jackson The students from Chowan Academy seventh-10th grades took a trip to Chapel Hill on Tuesday December 5. They went to the Morehead Planetarium to see a Christmas program.

Christmas is coming up and all of the students are getting ready to decorate.

The Chargeettes majorettes from the third, fourth, and fifth grades will be in the Hertford, Elizabeth City and Edenton parades.

Some of the first and second grades are going to be on a Christmas float. They are all looking forward to the Christmas parade on Thursday.

The third grade is making Christmas presents and writing letters to Santa.

A student of the fourth Grade Cathy Bateman took a trip to New York during the Thanksgiving holidays. The students of her class were very enthused over her trip.

The Fifth Grade is planning a trip to the nursing home, and is busy fixing their bulletin boards for Christmas.

The sixth graders are making projects on the middle East. The eighth graders are making starts for their Christmas decorations.

And the 10th Grade put out our first school paper. The editor is Ortis Cowper; associate editor is Pam Amick; feature editor is Martha Jo Hollowell; sports editors are George White and Cindy Bass; the art editors are Lynn Jackson, Colleen Flynn, and Byrant Perry; proof readers, Lorri Dees and Millard Bond and the circulation manager is Gary Smith.

The Student Council is having a paper drive. If you have any newspapers call the academy.

Also the Student Council is heading Operation Santa Claus. Please take a new unwrapped presents to the People's Bank and Trust Co. or Bank of North Carolina N. A. or the academy.

From all the students in Chowan Academy to you, we wish you a MERRY CHRISTMAS!
