

COLLEGES WITH A PURPOSE

TRAINING FOR FUTURE JOBS

In the next ten years, the rate of demand for technically-trained workers is expected to be twice that of all other workers.

If community colleges can meet this challenge by providing comprehensive occupational education programs to meet the technical demands of the job market, then employers may turn increasingly to graduates of two-year community colleges for much of their manpower.

Even though community college enrollments have more than quadrupled (from 600,000 to three million) and may reach six million by 1980 (a Carnegie Commission on Higher Education prediction) growth alone does not guarantee quality or effectiveness.

Many occupational educators feel that too much emphasis is placed on academic degrees of instructors, pupil-teacher ratios, physical facilities, classrooms, libraries, etc., rather than on the ability of the teachers and performance of the students.

The best way to assure that community college training of students will be adequate to meet job requirements is to include representatives from specialized occupational groups in the program evaluation process when granting accreditation to community colleges. In this way their expertise on the job can be used to help establish criteria and procedures that assure the training provided will be the best possible for the student and his future occupational opportunities.

Show And Sale Set For Boston

SOUTH BOSTON, Va. — Twenty antique dealers and collectors from two states will take part in the first annual Antique Show and Sale here September 8-9.

The show and sale will be held at the Halifax County Academy gymnasium located on Route 501, one mile north of South Boston. All proceeds from the show will be donated to that institution.

The show will be open from 11 A.M. to 10 P.M. Saturday and from 10 A.M. to 6 P.M. on Sunday.

A Brunswick stew and homecooked meals will be available both days, and door prizes will be awarded at each booth.

The sponsors of the show pointed to what they called "one of the most outstanding groups of dealers in the southeast" for the Academy's first annual show and sale.

Hundreds of antique lovers, collectors and dealers are expected to turn out for the first event of its kind in this area. Among the items featured will be furniture, silver, pattern glass, fine china, bottles, chairs, frames and prints, wooden accessories, brass, cast iron, mirrors, clocks, trunks, crocks, lamps, candlesticks, porcelain, jewelry, fireplace items and candlesticks.

Dealers who will be at the show include Edenton Antiques.

Quarterly Meetings Are Scheduled

The Chowan-Perquimans Sub-District UMYF Council met Tuesday night, August 28, 1973 at 7:30 P.M. at Anderson United Methodist Church.

The meeting was called to order by the President, Barry Lane. We were led in prayer by Rev. Forbes.

During the business session a motion was made and seconded that we use the 1973-1974 as a trial year for quarterly meetings. The meetings were then set up as follows: First, October 7, 1973 at Anderson; Second, January 6, 1974 at Edenton; Third, March 3, 1974 at New Hope; and Fourth, May 5, 1974 at Woodland. All meetings are set to start at 3:30 P.M.

It was decided for those attending the Council meetings to plan the program for the sub-district meetings. The Five Council meetings will be as follows for 1973-1974: First, September 10, 1973; Second, October 8, 1973; Third, January 14, 1974; Fourth, March 11, 1974; and Fifth, May 13, 1974. These are all scheduled to start at 7:30 P.M.

Rev. Forbes suggested that the Area Chairmen present to the Sub-District the purpose of their work. Several ideas were presented and discussed as to how the people in the sub-district could become better acquainted with each other.

Each local MYF will now be required to pay $35.00 instead of the regular $50 to the sub-district.

A Spring Youth Revival of 1974 in Edenton was discussed with the sub-district participating.

A motion was made and passed to exchange churches in visiting the Nursing Homes in other communities twice a year.

It was also passed for Publicity Chairman to write up a "Newsletter" after the Council meetings to be distributed among the local MYF groups.

It was decided to drop giving out perfect attendance flags. This is also on a trial basis for 1973-1974.

The meeting was then adjourned.

Respectfully submitted, Barry Lane, President Debbie Harrell, Secretary

A check that can't be cashed, but can draw interest, is expected to become popular, with the coming of cooler weather, that help keep up men's spirits as they help keep up their property.

With the increasing popularity of gardening machines such as the Bolens lawn and garden tractor in the picture, men who plant, and also dig, fashionable clothing, are having fun with fashion by choosing stylish H.D. Lee work clothes made of Avril rayon.

Soon, though for some the grass may be greener on the other side of the fence, there may be a compensation: neighbors in more mite suits who are also green—with envy.

Democrats To Report

On Teletion Success

RALEIGH — Three North Carolina political leaders who have been "among the most visible" in the Democratic Party's recent affairs will report on the success of the state party's fund-raising efforts during the National Teletion September 15, State Democratic Teletion Chairman Ed Renfrow announced.

Renfrow said Atty. Gen. Robert Morgan, former Lt. Gov. H. Pat Taylor, Jr., and Hargrove (Skipper) Bowles, the party's 1972 candidate for governor, have agreed to go to Los Angeles to appear as a teletion reporting team to give summaries of results in North Carolina.

The reporting team will afford a bit of symbolism of the Democratic Party's spirit of concerted action in building its North Carolina organization to full strength, Renfrow said.

Bowles and Taylor opposed each other in last year's Democratic primary for governor and have joined other Party leaders, such as Morgan and other members of the Council of State, in seeking actively to re-build Party strength following the losses last November.

Renfrow aid the three were chosen as Democrats who are "among the most recognizable by North Carolina TV audiences during the teletion September 15."

The teletion entertainment originating in Los Angeles will be in progress from 7 P.M. on that date until 2 A.M., and the North Carolina reporting team will appear from time to time to tell the national audience how North Carolina supporters are contributing to their party.
