

East Carolina University Sponsors Public Affairs Program

GREENVILLE — "Great Decisions, 1974," a program of discussions of current issues, will be sponsored by East Carolina University's Division of Continuing Education again this year.

Public Hearings On Medicine To Be Held

The N. C. Joint Legislative Commission on Medical Manpower will hold public hearings in two eastern North Carolina cities on medical needs. The announcement was made by William R. Flowers, Mayor of Plymouth who is chairman of Citizens for Eastern North Carolina Health Improvement.

Flowers stated that on October 4 at 2 P.M. at Martin Technical Institute in Williamston and on October 5 at 2 P.M. in the Roberson County Library in Lumberton the commission will hear all interested citizens.

Flowers pointed out that these hearings will provide one of the few opportunities for Eastern North Carolinians to express directly to a legislative commission their medical needs and concerns. The commission will be seeking to determine what the people feel their health needs are and how they should best be met.

All individual citizens, groups, or organizations are urged to attend and those who wish to speak will be heard.

A survey of about 40,000 California partyboats' logs for 1972 shows that 789,513 anglers landed 5,437,925 fish. That's an average of 6.89 fish per trip for each angler.

year by the Foreign Policy Association, a private, non-profit and nonpartisan organization. Its purpose is to develop through education an informed and articulate American public opinion on major issues in world-affairs. ECU is Eastern North Carolina's coordinator of group participants in the program and will assist eastern North Carolina community colleges and technical institutes in organizing local groups.

According to the Foreign Policy Association, North Carolina led the nation in the last two years in number of "Great Decisions" participants.

The basic requirement for involvement in the program is for at least five interested persons to meet once weekly for eight weeks and discuss the topics covered in this year's "Great Decisions" booklet.

Topics will include the Atlantic Community of Europe, the role of the U. S. President versus Congress in foreign policy, Soviet-American relations, Cuba and the Panama Canal Zone, the energy crisis, Israel and the Middle East conflict, the People's Republic of China, and the population explosion.

The "Great Decisions" program can be used for personal development, for political club activity, for church and civic group projects or for teacher certification credit.

The only cost of participation is the price of the "Great Decisions" booklet. No professional discussion leader is required, since all information needed is supplied by the booklet, but a number of resource speakers from the ECU faculty will be available to meet with participating groups. The UNC television network will carry weekly programs related to the series beginning in February. Groups who wish to use the television programs as an additional resource may schedule their series then.

Eastern North Carolina participants in the 1973 series included discussion groups in 17 counties:

Carteret, Chowan,

Edgecombe, Gates, Halifax, Hertford, Lenoir, Martin, Nash, Northampton, Onslow, Pamlico, Pasquotank, Perquimans, Pitt, Sampson and Wilson.

Further information about the program is available from Gayle Everett at the ECU Division of Continuing Education, Box 2727, Greenville.

"THE LIGHT"—Patrick Flynn, a College of the Albemarle student who resides at Paradise, made this composite and called it "a picture for time, and light and other things."

Elliott Assumes Hospital Position

Keith Cavanaugh Elliott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Wills, is on the staff of Greenville Memorial Hospital in Emporia, Va.

He is a lab assistant. Elliott is a graduate of D. F. Walker High School and attended W. W. Holding Technical School, College of the Albemarle, Winston-Salem State University and Elizabeth City State University.

He is married to the former Dorecia Demonda Honeyblue of Elizabeth City and they have two children.

Microwave oven owners (there are now said to be more than 500,000 in the U.S.) are well prepared for economy cooking, too, according to industry experts. The "instant" oven cooks frozen foods and leftovers in a jiffy, and reduces cooking time of complete family meals to a matter of minutes.

New Pipe Holds Chill

A new low-cost insulated PVC pipe for underground chilled water distribution has been introduced by Johns-Manville. It comes in 10-foot lengths and is joined by a flexible rubber ring that is sealed in a deep groove to allow for thermal expansion. The rubber ring joint also compensates for each movement.

White Elephant Sale Scheduled

The Museum of the Albemarle, the regional history center for the counties of the Albemarle Area: Camden, Chowan, Currituck, Dare, Gates, Hyde, Pasquotank, Perquimans, Tyrrell and Washington, will hold a two-day sale at the museum October 19 and 20.

A white elephant sale will be held both days from 9 A.M. to 5 P.M. These objects will be contributed by friends and members of the museum.

The auction sale will begin Saturday at 1 P.M. Clarence Tatem, well known auctioneer of Elizabeth City, will conduct the sale.

Articles of almost every description will be offered — antique, bottles, old duck decoys, guns etc. Articles should be brought as early in the week as feasible in order for cataloging and for giving prospective buyers an opportunity to look items over before the auction begins at 1 P.M.

More than 30 members have volunteered to serve on the committee. Chairman for the various counties are: Mrs. Clay Ferebee for Camden; Mrs. Merrill Evans, Jr., for Chowan; Mrs. John Wright for Currituck; Mrs. Carolista Fletcher Baum for Dare; Mrs. John A. Payne for Gates; Leor Ballance for Hyde; Mrs. William Crutchley for Pasquotank; and Mrs. Julian Winslow for Perquimans.

Jack Baum of Elizabeth City is the over-all chairman. He says that the whole committee is working with such enthusiasm the sale promises to be one of the largest and most diversified held in our section in a number of years.

The museum is located about one mile south of Elizabeth City on U. S. 17.

Persons having items auctioned (that are not donated) will receive 80 per cent of the proceeds of the sale. The museum will receive 20 per cent.
