

VEGETABLE MAIN DISH — Make your vegetables into gourmet's delights. Cheese-Stuffed Eggplant is hearty enough for the main dish with cheese and ham adding up protein. Extend that cup of leftover ham with vegetables and cheese.

From The Herald Kitchen

By MILDRED HUSKINS

If you've never made much of vegetables, then it's time to take a tip from the Hungarians who do.

They never serve them plain. A vegetable is a production to be baked, boiled, fried, sauced and seasoned. It is often a gourmet's delight.

That's what happens to an eggplant which is a large enough vegetable to come to the table as a main dish. Cheese is the bonus protein that extends and flavors not only eggplant, but also the bit of ham, carrot and celery. Oregano, the herb that is so good with tomato sauce, is used here to give character to the vegetable dish. If you have about a cup of leftover ham, pick up a nice, firm eggplant and present Cheese-Stuffed Eggplant one of these twilights.

Cheese-Stuffed Eggplant
 1 medium size eggplant
 2 cups water
 2 tablespoons lemon juice
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce
 2 tablespoons lemon juice
 1/4 teaspoon oregano
 1 tablespoon butter
 1/2 cup chopped onion
 1 cup cooked ham cut in small pieces

One-third cup coarsely grated carrot
 1/4 cup finely chopped celery
 2 cups shredded Cheddar cheese

Cut eggplant in half lengthwise. Scoop out center, leaving one-half inch around edge. In three-quart saucepan bring water, lemon juice and salt to a boil. Place eggplant shells in boiling water, cover and parboil about five minutes. Drain; set aside. Chop up eggplant pulp. In saucepan mix together eggplant, tomato sauce, lemon juice and oregano. Heat to boiling. Meanwhile in a large skillet melt butter; add onion and cook until tender. Remove from heat. Stir in ham, carrot, celery and cheese. In buttered baking dish, spoon in two-thirds of the tomato mixture, then arrange the eggplant shells on top. Fill shells with ham and cheese mixture, pour over remaining tomato sauce. Bake at 375 degrees 25 to 30 minutes, or until hot. Makes four servings.

There seems to be no end to the ways we can use those wonderful refrigerated crescent rolls. Chicken Asparagus Rolls combine a chicken spread, canned asparagus spears and mushroom soup. Serve it with a hearty green salad for the
