Two Gallons Less Might Do the Trick

If U.S. motorists would buy two less gallons of gasoline per car per week, the savings would be more than enough to meet President Ford's goal of reducing foreign crude oil imports by one million barrels a day, according to the Automotive Information Council.

IN MEMORIAM

Alex Martin
Departed This Life
April 3, 1970
Five years ago we knew very little of God's love. Refusing to face reality we refused to face life. God did not stay on his remote thrown, He came down and became, "Like unto his brethren," and instructed us to get together in love. Today He has answered our questions with love and taught us how to live in an empty house.

Sometimes we cry but thats alright, Jesus wept! He was called a man of sorrow, surely he hath born our griefs and carried our sorrows.

The years have seemed to stretch endless for us, but we must remember our loved ones are not really dead but in an eternally now. Life goes on for them as it goes on for us. We can face our loss through our Lord Jesus Christ.

He died also and then He came back to reassure us it was alright, all the way there and back Jesus said, "He that believeth in me tho he were dead, yet shall he live and who-soever liveth and believeth in me shall never die.

Learning something of Him has quieted our hearts and minds. Surely that is a miracle of love.

brimmed hats are "big"; scarfs in, too

Hassle-free hairstyles head into Spring 1975

Bursting into Spring with the Big Look, new fashions ease away from last year's fitted tailored looks and slip easily into new soft clothes that are feminine and comfortable. Up top, hair keeps cadence with soft curls, waves, and sweeps to swing with the loose-fitting styles. Top to toe, the total look is so different from last Spring that anyone hoping to coast along in 1974's fashions will be as obvious as a bikini in a snowstorm.

To put the new fashion look into gear, styling experts at The Gillette Company suggest starting with a new hairstyle to match the windblown air of Spring's billowing tent silhouettes and modified chemises. A lightweight tool like the company's Super Curl 3 In 1 Steam Styler with attachments is an easy-to-use aid in creating new coiffures right at home. For example, give shoulder-length hair a new twist and try this subtle style: shampoo and dry hair; comb top section forward and use Super Curl's large roller attachment to blend top and side hair into a frame of relaxed waves that sweep off and away from the face.

Those who prefer the ease of shorter hair and the look of lots of curls can get professional-looking results with the small roller attachment on Super Curl 3 In 1. This lightweight tool gives strands shape and fullness for fluffy, off-the-face styles suitable for work and play. Good for touchups or for straight-to-curly creations, the gentle styler steams as it curls for a longer-lasting set.

To top new graceful hairstyles and clothes, think "big" with headgear by favoring large-brimmed hats that balance the generous capes, ponchos and smock blouses. Spruce up an older hat with a large feather or lively patterned band.

The scarf will continue to be all-important in a heads-up appearance for Spring '75, worn in a long, loose neck-tie fashion; or completely hiding the hair in an old-fashioned babushka to complement the new peasant blouses.

The first and last word in any beautiful new look is natural-looking hair, so don't put out a penny for new clothes without first fashioning a hairstyle as fresh and feminine as fashions for Spring.

Library Doings

In keeping with the library tradition of having interesting and educational displays for public enjoyment, the library in April is having Jerry Miller's pen and ink print display. Miller was born and raised in North Carolina and educated in his home state. He has drawn such historical spots as Tryon Palace, Andrew Johnson's home, Chowan County Courthouse, the Governor's Mansion, the State Capitol, and the Legislative Building. Miller is a former President of the NC Association of Home Designers, and Past President of the North Carolina Institute of Residential Design. Miller is the kind of artist that relaxes by filling a sheet of paper with intricate lines and delicate style. If you truly want to see a masterpiece collection of pen and ink art, please come down to the library the month of April and enjoy Jerry Miller's collection.
