

Around Chowan County Farms

By R. M. THOMPSON
County Extension Chairman
Many of our soil samples have come back showing no recommendation for anything but potash where peanuts and soybeans are concerned. After looking at the reports on peanuts or soybeans with regular fertilizer will give the fertility that you generally need to produce soybeans or peanuts for the next year. We strongly urge that you bottom plow and flush your peanut land with trash turners so that you can bury this trash deep enough to reduce the disease build-up in your peanut soil.

We would also like for you to consider planting your peanuts as soon as the soil warms up to 60 degrees for three days. In the past this has been somewhere about the third or fourth week of April. I know this is earlier than many people have been planting, but looking at the yields of peanuts it seems to bear out the fact that peanuts that are planted when the soil temperature is ready and planted early have a little more success in yields than those that wait until the middle of latter part of May.

We are suggesting that you consider using a nematocide and insecticide for corn for 1975. There is a possibility that a systemic insecticide could hold off the two spotted mite damage that we had last year in some of our corn fields.
