Waff Contracts For Town

Improvements to the dock around the Barker House Visitor Center-Museum were approved Tuesday night by Edenton Town Council. Waff Brothers will do the work at a cost of $3,850.

W. B. Gardner, town administrator, told councilmen that Waff is finishing up the pier at the waterfront park and since equipment was already on the site the needed repairs could be made cheaper than at any other time.

Also with regards to the new park area, Mayor Roy L. Harrell suggested that the town sponsor a contest to name the park, which is to be dedicated during the four-day Bicentennial Arts Festival next month.

Councilmen agreed with the idea and a prize will be given to the individual whose name for the park is chosen.

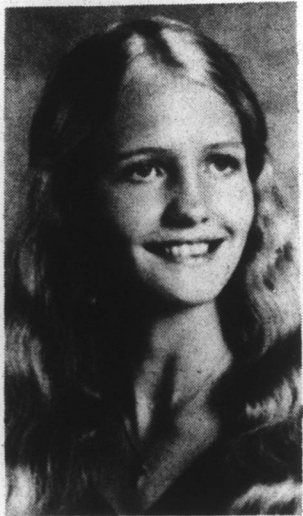

Gardner informed councilmen of a new policy regarding permits and meter bases. He said in the past the town has experienced some difficulty in collecting for the permits. In the future, no permits or meter bases will be issued until payment is received.

Bill Matthews, head of the inspection department, said all contractors have been notified of the policy and informed of state law regarding permits in Edenton and its one-mile extraterritorial jurisdiction.

Councilman Allen Hornthal passed along some complaints he has received concerning parking around the courthouse. He noted that it is especially bad during court days. To which Councilman Jesse Harrell replied: "And we have a town full of court."

Police Chief J. D. Parrish said stricter enforcement in no parking zones would be forthcoming.

Jimmy Yates, master of Unanimity Lodge No. 7 invited councilmen to attend an open meeting of the North Carolina Masonic Lodge in Swain Auditorium at 7:30 P.M. on April 10. This is another event during the Bicentennial Arts Festival. Edenton Tractor &

INSTRUCTIONS TO VOTERS

1. Move the Red Operating Lever to the Right Until Bell Rings.
2. To vote FOR any question, turn down a voting pointer over the word FOR. To vote AGAINST any question, turn down a voting pointer over the word AGAINST. LEAVE THE POINTER DOWN.
3. Move the Red Operating Lever to the left.

Each candidate's voting pointer is located just above the name; a voting pointer must be turned down over the name of each candidate for whom you wish to vote, AND LEFT DOWN.

No votes are registered until the Red operating lever is moved to open the curtain. (The Red operating lever is on the right side.)

The needles are so arranged that you cannot turn down more than the proper number of voting pointers for each office. You cannot spoil your ballot by voting for too many candidates.

No one will know how you have voted, because the word voting pointers opening lever returns the word voting pointers to their original position before the curtain begins to open.
