THE CHOWAN HERALD

TYPE ERRORS EASY TO SEA!

The typographical error is a slippery thing and sly,

You can hunt 'til you are dizzy, but it somehow will get by. 'Til the forms are off the presses

it is strange how still it keeps, It shrinks down in the corner, and it never stirs or peeps. The typographical error too small for human eyes, Till the ink is on the paper, when it grows to mountain size. The boss just stares with horror, then he grabs his hair and groans;

The copy reader drops her head

upon her hands and moans; The remainder of the issue

may be clean as clean can be,

But the typographical error

is the only thing you sea!

homes.

-copied

motorists; 50 per cent for mobile bulk tobacco barns;

10 per cent for crop hail; 16.4

per cent for medical payments insurance; 50 per cent for recreational motor

"My record is clear -- I have reduced rates and prevented unjustified increases. In spite of almost total insurance industry

oppositon, we in North Carolina have changed

more laws to abolish discrimintion than any other state, Ingram said.

WORKING FOR CANCER CRUSADE—The Student Government Association of Swain Elementary School has been busy in recent days with funds raising projects for the Chowan County Cancer Crusade. A talent show was one of the activities. Some of the participants are shown in the left photo. Perhaps the highlight was Tuesday, when the Edenton Jaycees provided use of their dunking machine and teachers and student aides placed themselves at

DECA Elects Club Officers For 1976-77 Four Refresher

The elections for 1976-77 daughter of Mr. and Mrs. DECA club were held on September 13. After a hard Pam Griffin, daughter of week of campaigning the results were:

Griffin: historian, Joyce President, Melvin Lane, Belch, daughter of Mr. and son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Mrs. H. E. Belch; and Lane Sr.; vice president, photographer, Ken Kinion, Carrol Skinner, son of Mr. son of Mr. and Mrs. James and Mrs. Larry Skinner; Kinion. secretary, Janet Harrell,

This year's activities Isaac Harrell; treasurer, started off with three officers speaking to the BPW Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Club of Edenton. This was the first of the many ac-, tivities planned this year. The officers are going to do their best to make this the most successful year ever, a spokesman said.

OFFICERS ELECTED-The newly elected officers of the John A. Holmes High School DECA are shown above. From left to right they are: Carroll Skinner, vice president; Janet Harrell, secretary; Joyce Belch, historian; Pam Griffin, treasurer; and Melvin Lane, president.

for Plant Operations, on C tters Health Course

East Carolina University course which may be taken will offer a course in health care systems at College of the Albemarle in Elizabeth City later this month.

private practioners, com- Health Department. Reg-

for credit or audit. The Division of Continuing Education, East Carolina University, is sponsoring The course is designed the course with local cofor practicing health sponsors, College of the professions, including Albemarle and the District

M. - 9:30 P. M. Classes will be held each Thursday night for 10 weeks.

Any questions regarding the course may be directed to Miss Elaine White, 338-2167. If you plan to register for the course, please call Miss White or D. R. Dancey, chairman. Department of

EMT Courses Offered By COA

Four refresher courses for Emergency Medical Training (EMT) personnel will be taught in this area under the auspices of the Continuing Education Department at College of The Albemarle. The classes will be conducted in accordance with state and federal requirements which call for the recertification of EMT practitioners every two years. Ernest Mickey, who will teach the 20-hour refresher in Elizabeth City and Currituck County, said that only those who have satisfactorily completed the initial 81-hour EMT course will be eligible to enroll in the review classes. There are 324 certified EMT persons in the 10-county Albemarle Area.

Classes will begin simultaneously in Elizabeth City and Hertford on Tuesday, October 26. Although meeting schedules will vary at each location, the classes will meet from 7 P. M. until 10 P. M. during each session.

Registration is free if the student is a member of an area rescue squad, Mickey said. A $5 registration fee will be charged all others, and registrants are asked to bring their Social Security numbers with them. The course will be taught in Room 435 in the main building on COA's Riverside Avenue campus in Elizabeth City. It will continue for two weeks, until November 5, meeting on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights the first week. During W

Insurance Commissioner John Ingram, a Democrat four-year term, said that he campaigning for re-election made two specific promises here recently, said that "I am again asking the people of North Carolina to help us keep fighting for them against the special interests."

mechanism failed on John Schroeder, center photo, Holton allowed an eager pupil one final shot from point blank range. The result was predictable. The same fate awaited Ray Tew, who at right, is shown making his descent. As of Tuesday morning, Mrs. Betty Bissette and Mrs. Theresa Jordan, adult advisors, report that the $100 goal had already been exceeded.

Jim Layden Died Friday

Jim Layden, 66, of Glocester, Va., and brother of Henry Layden of Edenton, died Friday afternoon in Riverside Hospital, Newport News, Va., after a short illness.

Goodwin Layden, and two daughters. Other survivors in addition to those already listed include two other brothers: Clyde Layden of Winfall; and Dick Layden of Newport News, Va.; one sister, Mrs. Edna Bass of Great Bridge, Va. and four grandchildren. A funeral service was held Monday at 2 P.M. in Hogg Funeral Home Chapel with burial in a Newport News Cemetery.

NC

AUTUAL

MEMORA

"Laws have been written on the books fulfilling these two promises," Ingram said. "Even after the General Assembly changed the law and I approved the only plan ever to abolish age and sex discrimination, the insurance industry through court appeal is keeping our safe driving young people from getting the immediate benefits from the new law. Busloads of parents and young people who came to Raleigh to help abolish age and sex discrimination know that we met total insurance industry opposition to this new law. The important thing is that after the court decision is handed down, young people and their parents will get a refund because the Legislature said there would be no rates based on age or sex after September 1, Ingram said that other changes and reforms are now in effect and have not been delayed by insurance industry court appeal. Changes during his first termin office include:

End To Discrimination Promised By John Ingram abolished. -Special office to remove architectural obstacles for the handicapped established.

-Discrimination against newborn babies in family health policies abolished. Now family health policies must insure infants from the first moment of birth. -Smoke detection devices in all new homes required. -Fire and rescue line of duty death benefits increased from $5,000 to 25.000. Ingram said that he had disapproved unjustified rate increase requests and had placed rate reductions in effect saving the people of North Carolina millions of dollars.

Rate reductions now in effect include 33 per cent for tobacco sales warehouses; 66.7 per cent for uninsured

A person who weighs 160 pounds on earth would weigh only 30 pounds on the moon.

A native of Perquimans County, he was a son of the late Dick and Harriet Lavden. He was a Baptist and was retired from the Shipbuilding & Drydock Co. in Newport News, Va. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Gladys 1975.'

-Discrimination because of the sickle cell trait in life and health insurance providers and managers in the tax supported human service agencies, and for professional and community leaders working in or with voluntary health agencies The course content will include a historical summary of how our different health care systems developed, a review of major health problems of today, and current trends in funding and planning for the delivery of future health care. Emphasis will be placed on helping the participant understand how our different health care systems are managed, how they operate within, with, and against each other.

The basic objectives of the course are to help the participants be more sensitive to where he or she really is and what is happening in his or her own system, and how to work more effectively with his or her peers, other professionals, other systems and the community.

It is a three quarter hours munity health service istration for the course will be held on October 21 from 6 P. M. until 6:30 P. M. at Room 436, on the COA main campus. The first class will be held on the 757-6961, so as to give an night of registration 6:30 P. indication of the class size.

Franklin Fulcher Died Sunday

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va.-Franklin Astor Fulcher, 63, brother of Preston C. Fulcher of Chowan Beach, died Sunday. A native of Currituck

County, he was the husband of Emily Bray Fulcher, and a son of Franklin J. Fulcher of Jarvisburg. He was a retired mechanic at Oceana Naval Air Station.

He was a member of Rock Church: Corinthian Masonic Park. Lodge No. 266; Charity Lodge No. 10, Knights of Pythias; and International Association of Machinists and Aerospace, Workers,

Brickhouse of Grandy; and

Community Health, Belk Building, East Carolina University, Greenville, 27834, telephone (919)

Mrs. Carnie Stewart of Norfolk; and four other brothers: Willard Fulcher of Coinjock, Clester Fulcher of Portsmouth, Lansing Fulcher of Mathews County, Va.; and Stanfred Fulcher of Little Rock, Ark. Funeral services were held Wednesday at 2 P.M. in the Rock Church by Rev. John Gimenez. Burial was in Rosewood Memorial

Local No. 39. Other survivors include a son: Franklin Ray Fulcher of Virginia Beach; two sisters: Mrs. Edith Sturgeon is the largest fresh water fish and can weigh 2,250 pounds.

will be held from Tuesday through Friday night.

In Hertford, the course will be taught by Marsha Massey at the Hertford Rescue Squad Building. This class will meet each Tuesday and Thursday nights through November 16.

A three-hour practical examination will be given at the end of the course. Mickey explained that the test will be administered by examiners who are appointed by the Emergency Medical Service of North Carolina.

Continued On Page 6

Ellis Winslow Dies Suddenly

HERTFORD-W. Ellis Winslow, 57, Route 1, Belvidere was dead on arrival at Chowan Hospital Tuesday night. He was a Perquimans County commissioner.

A native of Perquimans County, he was the son of the late William Hardy and Inez Hollowell Winslow. He was a member of Hobbsville Baptist Church, a farmer and had been on the county board for 12 years.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Amy Van Roach Winslow; a daughter, Miss Sarah Elizabeth Winslow of the home; a step-daughter, Miss Leah Harris of the home; a step-son, Van Harris of Raleigh; a sister, Mrs. Beecher Ward of Tyner; and a brother, J. L. Winslow, Route 1, Swindell Funeral Home is n charge of arrangements. uneral services will be eld today Thursday at 2:00 clock in the chapel of the windell Funeral Home in tford. Burial will be in arwood Cemetery.

Because Your Family's Good Health Is Our Business

The Water Department is pleased that ater from the county system is now available to residents in every section of the county. All meters have been set. Once hook-up has been made call the Water Department to have the water turned on.