

Highway Talk Draws Big Crowd

PAUSE FOR REFRESHMENTS—Postmaster Levin Culpepper of Elizabeth City, left, and Mayor John Bell take a break between proceedings to have a "heavy" conversation with W. B. Gardner of Edenton. Gardner and Bell have both served as chairman of ARPDC.

ELECTED OFFICIALS—Mayor Roy L. Harrell of Edenton, left, and Raleigh Carver of Elizabeth City, right are shown with three state legislators at Thursday night's meeting. They are: Rep. W. Stanford White of Manns Harbor; and Sens. J. J. (Monk) Harrington and Melvin Daniels. Carver is chairman of Pasquotank County commissioners.

...AND IT ISN'T EVEN ELECTION YEAR—State Sen. J. J. (Monk) Harrington of Lewiston, left, had a warm greeting for J. Gilliam Wood and C. A. Phillips both of Edenton. Phillips is chairman of Chowan County commissioners and Wood is a former state highway commissioner.

MAYORS CONFER—What did the Mayor of Elizabeth City say to the Mayor of Nags Head? John Bell, left, didn't stop the conversation with Charles Evans to tell when the photographer showed up.

BRIEFED ON AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION—J. C. Jones of Raleigh, district extension chairman, has a discussion with Don Baker, center, Pasquotank County extension chairman; and Raleigh Carver, also of Pasquotank. At right is R. L. Stevenson of Perquimans County, president of Albemarle Area Development Association.

GETTING THE RECORD STRAIGHT—R. S. Monds of Perquimans County, left, chairman of Albemarle Regional Planning & Development Commission has an attentive ear for State Sen. J. J. (Monk) Harrington. Partially hidden at right is Sen. Melvin Daniels.

COUNTIES REPRESENTED—Russell Langley, second from left, vice chairman of Dare County commissioners, meets Majorie Fields of Perquimans County at the joint meeting. At left is W. B. Gardner of Edenton, town administrator, with Joe Nowell of Perquimans County, former state highway commissioner in the center.

EXECUTIVE SESSION—R. S. Monds, chairman of Albemarle Regional Planning & Development Commission and Mrs. Pete Broughton, Hertford Town Commissioner, are shown prior to Thursday's meeting between ARPDC, AADA and Albemarle Association of Counties & Towns.

Staff Photos By Amburn