

Recreation Scoreboard

The Edenton-Chowan Recreation Department will be offering beginning tennis lessons starting July 1st and 5th. If you are interested in taking lessons, you are to report on either of these days to sign up at the tennis courts. Classes for ages 8 to 16 are to begin at 9:00 A.M. Classes for ages 16 and up will be held at 10:30 A.M. Please report to the tennis courts on either of these given days at the specified times to receive further information. If you have any questions, please contact the Edenton-Chowan Recreation Department (482-8595).

The Edenton - Chowan Recreation Department in cooperation with the Shepard-Pruden Memorial Library will have a story hour every Tuesday from 1:00-2:00 P.M. in the Edenton - National Guard Armory. All interested children are invited to attend.

Arts and Crafts classes are being held in the Armory on Tuesdays, 2:00-3:00 P.M. for ages 5-9 and on Thursdays, 2:00 - 3:30 P.M. for ages 10-15. All interested children are urged to attend. There is no charge for these classes.

A few openings still remain in the second session swimming lessons to begin July 5 at Sandy Point Beach. The beginners classes are for ages 6-12. Come by the Edenton-Chowan Recreation Department in the Armory to sign up.

Gilliam Earns Honor Award

BOONE — Moses B. Gilliam, III, of Windsor a student at Appalachian State University, is among 53 students to receive an honor teaching award for spring semester.

The award, which goes to approximately 10 per cent of the student teachers from the university each semester, becomes part of his permanent record.

Gilliam, a senior American History major, spent the semester at Johnson County High School working with supervising teacher Mrs. Mary Ward. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Moses Gilliam, Jr., 210 W. Gray Street, Windsor.

A half cup of ammonia and an eighth of a cup of vinegar added to a quart of warm water makes a solution that is excellent for washing windows without leaving film or streaks.

Library Happenings: Gift Memorial And Kid's Storytime Hours Are Begun

New books received recently at Shepard-Pruden Memorial Library include the following:

Adult Fiction
"Afternoon of a good woman" by Nina Bawden; "Hard feelings" by Don Bredes; "Raw silk" by Janet Burroway; "A woman's story" by Brian Dyer; "Season in purgatory" by Thomas Keneally; "The slow awakening" by Catherine Marchant; "Her death of cold" by Ralph McInerney; "Perilous passage" by Bruce Niclaysia; "Runestruck" by Calvin Trillin; and "The Fourth Stage of Gainsborough Brown" by Clarissa Watson.

Adult Non-Fiction
"Careers in journalism for the new woman" by Megan Rosenfeld;

"Railroads" by National Geographic Society, and "Christmas decorations from Williamsburg's folk art collection".

There's always something new at Shepard-Pruden Memorial Library, as you well know, and this week we've begun what we feel is an especially appropriate and meaningful way to recognize our memorial gifts. We have started a listing of gifts with the memorial given in memory of Mrs. Birdie Lee Speight Debnam by Mrs. Ruth Bond and Mrs. Lyn Bond of Edenton. This listing is displayed in the Library and will be added to as gifts are received. A gift memorial to the Library is one permanent way of remembering, and is greatly appreciated by the Library staff and patrons.

Hey! Kids! We're right here — where are you? Yes, we're here every Tuesday morning at 10:30 sharp for our story time at Shepard-Pruden Memorial Library. During the summer months, June, July, and August, we're sponsoring two story time programs on Tuesday mornings. We always have our usual story time for ages three through six at 10:30, and while the little ones are enjoying stories, games, films and crafts and lots of other fun things, the older boys and girls will be working on crafts, watching movies and listening to weekly continued stories — some old and some new — to keep them interested during the summer. So kids, don't ask Mom what can I do now? Instead, tell her you'd like to come to the Library

— we'll be looking for you — all ages — at 10:30 to 11 every Tuesday morning.
