

Creative Cooking From The Herald Kitchen

By Mildred Huskins
Have you become bogged down making nothing but "sensible" family-type recipes lately? "We just have the same old thing and I'd like to do something different" we heard a popular young homemaker complaining the other sunny spring-fever day.

Why not plan a gala, grown-up dinner for some special friends and for dessert serve a spectacular pie "for adults only" or offer a choice of more than one? Each of those we have chosen can be made the day before, with very little effort. And you don't have to bake the filling. All of them use convenient sweetened condensed milk.

Frozen Whipped Topping, thawed
In large mixer bowl, beat cream cheese until light and fluffy. Add sweetened condensed milk and concentrate; beat until smooth. Add rum and then fold in topping. Pour into prepared crust and refrigerate four to six hours or until firm.

Frozen Brandy Alexander Pie
1 (9-inch) graham cracker crumb crust
1 can (14 oz.) sweetened condensed milk
1 cup whipping cream, whipped
2 tablespoons creme de cacao
2 tablespoons brandy
Shaved chocolate for garnish

In large bowl, combine sweetened condensed milk, whipped cream, creme de cacao and brandy. Pour into prepared crust. Freeze four to six hours or until firm. Garnish with shaved chocolate. Return leftovers to freezer.

Mai-Tai Pie
1 pkg. (8 oz.) cream cheese, softened
1 can sweetened condensed milk
1 can (6 oz.) frozen orange juice concentrate, thawed
one-third cup light rum
1 container (4 1/2 oz.)

In large bowl, combine sweetened condensed milk, whipped cream, creme de cacao and brandy. Pour into prepared crust. Freeze four to six hours or until firm. Garnish with shaved chocolate. Return leftovers to freezer.

Patty's Key Lime Pie
1 can sweetened condensed milk
1 large container Cool Whip

This is the easy way to make a delicious Key Lime Pie. Our friend Patty Marion gave us this one several years ago. It is extra delicious poured into a press-in-the-pan corn flake crumbs crust.

Shaved Chocolate for garnish

Whip
1 small can frozen limeade, thawed
2 drops green food coloring

Combine all ingredients and pour into prepared crust. Refrigerate until set, three to four hours. Makes one nine-inch pie.

Food Notes
To note 75 years of good food ideas The Kraft Kitchen has put out one of the most attractive and convenient cookbooks we have seen. It is of loose leaf variety and folds back to stand alone as you work and refer to the interesting recipes many of them shown in living color. Look for information about this cookbook where Kraft products are sold or send $4.95 to The Kraft Cookbook Offer, Box 746, Dept. FE, Chicago, Ill. 60677.

To aid those with physical disabilities, a new edition of Mealtime Manual for People with Disabilities and the Aging has been revised by the Institute of Rehabilitation Medicine, New York University Medical Center, and the Campbell Soup Company. Copies of the new 269-page spiral-bound manual cost $3.25 each and are available by mail. Direct your request to Mealtime Manual, Box 38, Ronks, Pa., 17572. Judith Lannefeld Klinger, editor of the Manual, is an occupational therapist. "With help in planning and learning specific techniques people with physical disabilities manage well, even joyously, in their own homes," she believes.

Just in time for the summer salad season, new Good Seasons buttermilk farm style salad dressing mix is available ready to mix up fresh and spoon over crisp greens, ripe tomatoes and all the favorite summer specialties. You need not have buttermilk on hand for the buttermilk solids are right in the mix. You need only fresh milk and mayonnaise. We found the flavor delightful. If you're conserving calories, you can JUST DESSERTS!—Richard Litchfield enthusiastically delivers a cream pie to the face of English instructor Robert Stephens. The action took place at College of The Albemarle during the Pie-in-the-Face auction which marked the beginning of COA Week on the campuses of the community college. Students actively bid against one another for the pleasure of smashing a plateful of goo into the face of their favorite faculty and staff members. The students participated in many other fulfilled events during the week. (COA Photo).
