Child Find Day

Gov. James B. Hunt has proclaimed the first Monday of each month as Child Find Day throughout the current school year. Edenton-Chowan Schools' Exceptional Children Division is participating in this campaign.

Child Find is a statewide effort to locate all handicapped and gifted children, ages birth through 21, who are not currently receiving appropriate educational services. Its purpose is to insure that these children receive educational services when they reach the age of five years and also to inform parents of screening, intervention, and other services available to special needs children from birth.

The Child Find census is one of the requirements of major state and federal laws dealing with exceptional children. The census will be coordinated by the Department of Public Instruction's Division for Exceptional Children. According to Ted Drain, Director of the division, "This effort will involve all public school systems and other state-operated educational programs in North Carolina. The campaign will be aimed at locating children who are mentally retarded, epileptic, learning disabled, cerebral palsied, emotionally disturbed, orthopedically impaired, autistic, multiply handicapped, pregnant, hearing impaired, speech impaired, blind or visually impaired, genetically impaired, other health impaired, or gifted and talented."

A concentrated awareness campaign will be launched through the news media with the target days of each first Monday for the remainder of the current school year. Special tapes and radio spot announcements are being distributed throughout the state.

Citizens who wish to report a child with a special need should call the Division for Exceptional Children at 733-3921; CARE-LINE (toll-free) at 1-800-662-7030; or their local school systems.

For additional information, contact Mrs. Mary Horton, Edenton-Chowan coordinator of exceptional children's programs at 482-4436 or Katherine Moore, Division for Exceptional Children, Raleigh, at 733-3921.

Expert stilt walkers used to be able to travel as fast as a horse could trot. The footrests they used were often five or six feet above the ground.
