

Mrs. Wood Is Speaker

Winnie Wood, democratic candidate for state Senate, was the keynote speaker for the April 17 meeting of the Edenton Business and Professional Women's Club. Her words were persuasive as she urged club members and visitors to "unfurl their sails and weigh anchor on the sea of life."

"More and more women are becoming the head of the household and we can ill afford to wait for someone else to act," she said. Use your talents and strive to reach your full potential so we can leave the world a little better for having been here in this period of history."

Carolyn Ricks, secretary, was awarded for recruiting the most new members for the current year. They were, Susn Furlough, Joan Privott, Jean Keeter and Cindy Ricks.

Benefit Dinner To Be Held

A fried or barbecue chicken dinner will be held this Saturday from 11 A.M. until 7 P.M. for the benefit of Mrs. Bessie Costen by the Elks Lodge on East Carteret Street.

The cost will be $2 per plate and may be ordered in advance by calling 482-3020, or may be purchased at the Lodge on Saturday.

Blue Mold Sighted In N.C. Farms

Blue mold is present in North Carolina. The disease was identified on two farms in Columbus County on April 14 and on one in Robeson County on April 15. Please note the following.

Massive sporulation was noted in both beds in Columbus County. Weather conditions this past Monday were favorable for spore production, movement, and infection. All growers that have not started treating their beds should begin to do so immediately as the plants approach the dime to quarter size. Those with larger plants should continue treatment application on a once or twice a week basis (depending upon weather conditions) and continue until transplanting to the field is complete. Fungicides containing ferbam (black material) are suggested for small plants. Those containing zineb, maneb, or metiram (white materials) are not as safe but more effective, and, therefore, are suggested for larger plants.

Operation "T.T.B." - short for "Treat Those Beds" - is a Campaign designed to encourage all growers to follow the preventive program. Correct use should result in production of an abundant supply of healthy transplants and may reduce the chance of a field outbreak.

The final step of the Campaign is to destroy plants in old bed site when transplanting to the field is complete.

Several field outbreaks of blue mold have occurred in both Florida and Georgia. Recent reports from Georgia suggest that the disease has become systematic (has gone inside plants) and has caused severe stunting and some bud kill. Some growers with high incidence of systematic blue mold are plowing up and planting over.

North Carolina growers should consider field control methods. Ridomil, applied as a preplant incorporated treatment at one to two quarts per acre, flue-cured, and two quarts for Burley, provides full season control. The best way to apply the material is to spray on broadcast, followed by discing and bedding up. Some growers that applied multi-purpose chemicals are spraying material over bed and incorporating with a rolling cultivator or by re-bedding.

Growers that did not use Ridomil should "tool up" for field spraying. Fungicides containing maneb (Manzate 200, Dithane M-22 Special, and Dithane M-45) and streptomycin (Agri-mycin 17 and Agri-Strep D) are effective. These materials are mixed with water at the rate of 1 pound per 100 gallons and applied in spray form one or two time each week to give full coverage. The first spray should be applied about 1 to 2 weeks following transplanting and repeated once a week until the threat of a field outbreak has passed.

Senior-Teen Division - Elizabeth Hornthal, red ribbon; Glynis Evans, red ribbon; Ginger Ober, 3rd place blue ribbon; Patricia Ashley, 2nd place blue ribbon; and Beverly Walker, 1st place blue ribbon.

Beverly was declared overall blue ribbon winner and will represent Chowan County at State 4-H Clothing Camp on May 2-4. She will be competing with girls all over North Carolina for an opportunity to model in the 4-H Fashion Show at State Club Congress in Raleigh. Her outfit is a fashionable unmatched suit—a knit mauve colored jacket and a creamy white pleated skirt.

Awards for the top winners were sponsored by Belks, Roses, Mill End and United Piece Dye Works. Narrator for the program was Connie A. Sherrill, Assistant Home Economics Extension Agent. Three outstanding clothing leaders were recognized for working with groups of youth in preparation for the event. They were Mrs. Ella Foxwell, Mrs. Elizabeth Goodwin, and Mrs. Lucille Stalls. Andrew and John Cox were ushers.

Dr. Myers To Conduct Services

Dr. C.D. Myers, Associate Director of Development and Director of Deferred Giving at Union Theological Seminary in Virginia, will conduct the Sunday morning service at First Presbyterian Church, Edenton, N.C. April 27, in observance of Seminary Sunday.

Seminary Sunday is celebrated each spring in congregations throughout UTS's two supporting synods of North Carolina and the Virginias. It is a day devoted to emphasizing the importance of theological education.

Students, faculty and alumni-ae will visit approximately 200 congregations which have expressed a desire to participate in the event.

Union Seminary, founded in 1812, is the oldest of four seminaries of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. and the oldest seminary in the South. It ranks academically among the top ten of the nation's 134 accredited theological institutions.

The student body of more than 300 is made up of men and women from 32 states and seven countries, with living alumni numbering more than 2,800.

Union, which emphasizes education for the pastoral ministry, offers the professional degrees of Doctor of Ministry and Master of Divinity, and the research degrees of Master of Theology and Doctor of Theology. UTS President Fred R. Stair, Jr., in expressing his appreciation to members of the UTS community and supporting congregations, called Seminary Sunday "a great opportunity for us to strengthen the aims of theological education and maintain the ties between the congregations and their seminary."

Vote John Mitchener... For Chowan County Board Of Education

Chowan County is becoming one in education. I am a citizen of Chowan County first who lives in Edenton.

As Consolidation nears, I know the uneasiness some parents and students feel about going to a different school and being new in another student body.

As the father of a third-grader and two pre-schoolers, I understand your feelings.

I am determined that all of our students—from the turkey farms in the north to the vineyards in the south—receive equal attention and facilities.

We have much to learn from each other.

I look forward to that.

Aggressive leadership working overtime for Chowan County—that is my pledge to you.

There are three kinds of people in this world:

...those who make things happen.

...those who watch things happen, and

...those who wonder what happened.

Join with me to make good things happen for education in Chowan County.

Vote for LEADERSHIP on May 6th.

Elect JOHN MITCHENER to the Board of Education.

Thank you for your vote!
John Mitchener

Senator J. J. "Monk" Harrington ...In tune with the people.

- 18 Year Veteran Senator
- 3rd Ranking in Senate
- Local Business Leader
- Dedicated To His Community

Senator Harrington has served seven consecutive terms as Chairman of the important Senate Transportation Committee.

In a recent study, fellow legislators, the news media, and other interested parties voted Harrington one of three most effective senators in the General Assembly.

Many of the new roads and bridges in the First District came about as a result of Senator Harrington's influence.

The Senator is recognized as a leader in Agriculture, Conservation, Government, and Education. The Senator has always been responsive to the needs of All the people.
