

Couple United In Marriage

On December 7, in a candlelight ceremony amidst white and pink gladioli, white mums and burgandy pom poms, Miss Candy Jeanne Winslow became the bride of Mr. James Earl Belch at 4 P.M. in The First Christian Church. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Preston E. Cayton.

Mrs. James Earl Belch

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Alton Winslow, Route 2, Edenton. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Allene Sawyer of Windsor and the late Lloyd T. Belch.

Escorted by her father and given in marriage by her parents, the bride chose a gown of Chantilly lace. It featured a Queen Anne neckline enhanced by seed pearls and sequins. The sheer bishop sleeves fell in wedding points over the hands, also accented by seed pearls and sequins. The gown fell in tiers of ruffles and formed a chapel length train. The chapel length veil of illusion trimmed in Chantilly lace featured a Juliet cap complimented by seed pearls and sequins.

The bride carried a long cascade consisting of pink and white silk rose buds and blooms, silk star flowers, silk Lily of The Valley and dried baby's breath.

The bride chose as her matron of honor, Mrs. Irene Stotesberry of Edenton. Mrs. Stotesberry wore a formal gown of pink polyester featuring a criss-cross bodice with an overlay of chiffon. The accordeon pleated skirt fell softly from the empire waist.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Linda Pierce of Merry Hill, sister of the bride, Mrs. Donna Williams, Miss Barbara Ann Wright, both of Edenton, and Miss Deborah A. Simpson of Roper. They wore gowns of burgandy fashioned the same as the matron of honor.

The bride's attendants carried nosegays of silk flowers. They consisted of pink and burgandy cosmos, pale pink sweetheart roses, variegated forget-me-nots, pink and burgandy star flowers and dried baby's breath enhanced by flowing streamers.

Little Miss April Dawn Winslow of Edenton, niece of the bride served as flower girl. She wore a gown of Chantilly lace flowing into a train identical to the bride's. She carried a white basket of pink and burgandy silk flowers accented with baby's breath. She also wore a comb of matching flowers in her hair. Her ornament was a single strand of pearls, a gift from the bride.

For her daughter's wedding the bride's mother chose a formal gown of cotton blue polyester featuring an empire waist. A soft flowing chiffon cape complimented the gown. She was presented a corsage of fresh white sweetheart rose buds and baby's breath.

The groom's mother wore a gown of scarlet featuring ruffles around the neck and wrists. She also wore a corsage of fresh white sweetheart rose buds and baby's breath.

Both mothers were presented long stem red roses.

Mrs. Janet Winslow of Edenton, sister-in-law of the bride, presented the guests with programs and attended the guest register.

The bride chose Mrs. Becky Bassett of Edenton to serve as mistress of ceremony.

Mrs. Kay Cherry of Edenton, organist, presented a program of music selected by the bride. Mr. Elmer Overton, Jr. of Edenton was soloist.

The groom chose as his attendants Mr. Charles H. Williams, Jr. of Edenton to serve as best man. Head ushers were Mr. McCoy Winslow, brother of the bride, and Mr. Lloyd Belch, brother of the groom, both of Edenton.

JOYFULLY GIVEN; JOYFULLY RECEIVED — This year being no exception to that of several past, The Edenton's Woman's Club recently presented a gift to the Edenton-Chowan School System. On behalf of the six school principals among whose schools the contribution will be pro-rated, school Superintendent John Dunn, gratefully accepts a $600 award from Ann Ellis. Mrs. Ellis and Linda Keel (left), were co-chairpersons of the Woman's Club's Annual Bazaar, the proceeds of which are distributed annually to support community programs. Most school principals survey indicated that the generous gifts received would be used to purchase supplemental materials for students in reading and math, exceptional children's and art program.

Two Are Outstanding Scholars

CHAPEL HILL — Two students from Chowan County are among outstanding scholars at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill studying this year under the prestigious James M. Johnston Scholarship program.

Johnston Scholars include: Wanda Carol Bunch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Bunch, Jr., Route 2, Edenton; and Christopher R. Harmon, son of Mrs. Peggie E. Harmon, 2 Hawthorne Road, Edenton. They are both graduates of John A. Holmes High School.

The James M. Johnston Scholarship program is the largest scholarship program in the University of North Carolina system and the state in amount of money awarded and number of students enrolled. It provides $600,000 each year for UNC-CH students and for students in special programs at UNC-G and N. C. State.

"The Johnston awards program is intended to open wide the doors of the University to the ablest young people who apply and who need financial assistance," said Eleanor S. Morris, UNC-CH director of student aid and program administrator.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Jones of Richmond are visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Coleman during the holidays.

Miss Sheila Blankenhorn, student of University of Tenn. arrived home last weekend to spend the Christmas holidays visiting her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Richard Blankenhorn.

Sara Miller spent last weekend in Richmond visiting Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wiltshire.

When American banker Amadeo Peter Giannini died in 1949, the Bank of America — which he began as the Bank of Italy — had become the world's largest unincorporated bank.

The James M. Johnston Scholarship program has 415 students enrolled at the three participating campuses. In the program's 11 years of existence, 1609 students have received Johnston scholarships.

James M. Johnston, who provided the funds for the program, was born and raised on a farm just north of Chapel Hill. He moved away to become an influential figure in the field of investment banking in Washington, D.C.

Long Range Plans Adopted

Pi Chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma Society International, met at the Holiday Inn, Elizabeth City on December 6. Mrs. Ella J. Buckingham, president, conducted the meeting.

A report on the Executive Board meeting showed this group recommending suggestions to the proposed long-range plans of the state organization.

A program was given by Mrs. Mary Browning of Edenton, on research which ended with some thought-provoking questions on the research of Christmas that included the traditions, literature, music, origin and date, persons and other areas.

Mrs. Peggy Herndon sang two selections from the Messiah and Mrs. Gwen Bell gave a devotional based on her research on Dr. Phillips Brooks who wrote one of the familiar carols. The group joined in singing of three American carols.

The next meeting of Pi Chapter will be in March in Edenton. At this meeting the state President, Mrs. Mary Thomas Smith will be the guest. A bake sale will be conducted at this meeting.

A bazaar was held during the December meeting and the money received will be used for the state scholarship fund.

Miss Jacqueline Rountree

Seal Out Dental Decay

Dental decay is the most prevalent disease in the world. It occurs most frequently on the chewing surfaces of teeth. Rarely does a person go through childhood without some cavities and fillings in these areas. Now, there is a way to avoid much of this damage and repair.

Plastic film, known as sealant, can be applied by the dentist to these chewing surfaces to seal vulnerable pits and grooves in which decay-causing bacteria can be trapped. The sealant prevents the plaque and acid from attacking the tooth surface. Sealants for tooth surfaces are already past the experimental stage and are in use, especially for the biting surfaces of molars.

The sealant protects teeth as long as it is retained. In studies of several thousand children, the material was retained from a few months to several years. If lost, the sealant can be reapplied.

Adhesive sealant can also be used to repair broken edges of front teeth. They can match tooth color, are economical and easy to handle.
