

Herald Kitchen: Chocolate Snacks Provide Nutritional Value

By Mildred Huskins
Nutrition studies show that mother was right. What mothers have known for centuries - that their children are always hungry - before meals, after school and before bedtime - has been confirmed by a number of studies reported on nutrition. Indeed, several of them go so far as to state that children are unable to eat enough calories at one time to be well-nourished on three meals a day. Drs. Selma E. Snyderman and L. Emmett Holt, Jr., in "Nutrition in Infancy and Adolescence," state that nutritional requirements are conditioned primarily by pubertal growth. They point out the increase in appetite reflects the need for more calories but also the need for other nutrients, including nitrogen. Helen Andrews Guthrie, noted food authority, in her latest edition of her textbook, "Introductory Nutrition," cited research showing that "smaller, more frequent meals are utilized in such a way that depresses the formation of adipose tissues, as desirable during growth as in the prevention of obesity." So, there it is for the snack! It assumes an important place in the diet and should be given some extra thought so that what we have on hand is nourishing, tastes really good and is easy to make. In the well-balanced diet there is room for choice of foods even favorites like goodies made with chocolate, say the chocolate manufacturers. They make out a good case for "chocolate is good for you." And they have provided these recipes for chocolate snacks.

Chocolate Nut Brownies
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup unsifted all-purpose flour
1/4 cup unsweetened cocoa
1/4 teaspoon baking soda
3/4 cup chocolate flavored syrup
3/4 cup chopped nuts
In medium mixing bowl, cream butter, sugar, eggs and vanilla until light and fluffy. Add flour, cocoa and baking soda alternately with chocolate syrup to creamed mixture; stir in nuts. Pour into a greased 9x9x2-inch pan. Bake at 250 degrees 30 to 35 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Makes 16 brownies.

Chocolate Almond Brittle
1 1/2 cups chocolate baking pieces
1 3/4 cups chopped almonds
1 1/2 cups butter or margarine
1 3/4 cups sugar
3 tablespoons light corn syrup
3 tablespoons water
Lightly butter a jelly roll pan or two 9x9x2-inch pans. Spread 1 cup chocolate pieces evenly over bottom; set aside. Spread almonds in shallow pan or on baking sheet; toast in 350-degree oven stirring occasionally, 7 to 8 minutes or until golden brown. Set aside. Melt butter in 2 1/2 quart saucepan; blend in sugar, corn syrup and water. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, to hard-crack stage ((300 degrees). Remove from heat; stir in 1 1/2 cups toasted almonds. Immediately spread mixture evenly over chocolate pieces in pan, being careful not to disturb the pieces. Quickly sprinkle with remaining 1/4 cup almonds and remaining 1/2 cup chocolate pieces; score into 1 1/2-inch squares, if desired. Cool; cover pan and store overnight. Remove from pan; break into pieces. Store in tightly covered container. Makes about 2 1/2 pounds.

Meringue Chip Cookies
2 egg whites
1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
1/4 teaspoon salt
One-third cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup semi-sweet chocolate baking pieces.

In small mixing bowl, beat egg whites with cream of tartar and salt until soft peaks form. Gradually beat in sugar; continue beating until stiff peaks form. Add vanilla. Fold in chocolate pieces. Drop meringues by teaspoonfuls onto greased baking sheet. Heat over to 375 degrees. Place cookies in oven; immediately turn off oven and allow cookies to remain overnight or until oven has cooled. Makes 3 dozen cookies.

Safari Bars
Safari Bars are quick and easy to make because they begin with oatmeal cookie mix. So if the natives are restless, calm them with your own snack attack - a pan of Safari Bars.

Safari Bars
1 pkg. oatmeal cookie mix
Two-thirds cup chopped nuts
One-third cup mashed ripe bananas
1 pkg. (6 oz.) semi-sweet chocolate pieces

Combine cookie mix, one-third cup nuts and banana; mix well. Spread into lightly greased 13x9-inch baking pan; bake at 350 degrees about 20 minutes. Remove from oven; sprinkle with chocolate. Return to oven about 1 minute or until chocolate is soft; spread evenly to cover. Sprinkle with remaining nuts; cool. Refrigerate to set chocolate; cut into bars. Store in tightly covered container at room temperature.

Plants have many things in common with people. They will not be at their best with too little or too much food, water or warmth.

CHOCOLATE SNACKS - Safari Bars are a super, nutritional snack to calm the natives. These are made with a cookie mix to make it easy on cook.
