

Mrs. Spruill, 88 Taken In Death

Mrs. Tallew Spruill Hurdle, 315 West Queen Street, died Saturday in Chowan Hospital following an extensive illness. She was 88.

A housewife, she was the widow of Richard W. Hurdle.

Mrs. Hurdle was born August 11, 1892, in Perquimans County, daughter of the late Charles and Francis Collins Spruill.

Surviving is a son, Horace R. Hurdle of Norfolk, Va.; two daughters: Mrs. Etta Mae Bateman, Route 1, Edenton; and Mrs. Sara H. Ballenger of Norfolk, Va.; a sister, Mrs. Fleete Spruill of Norfolk, Va.; and two grandchildren.

She was a member of Edenton United Methodist Church.

Funeral services were held at 2 P.M. Monday in Williford-Barham Funeral Chapel with Rev. Richard Blankenhorn officiating. Burial was in Beaver Hill Cemetery.

Pallbearers were: Carroll Hill, E.J., Royce, Ray, Lindsey and Richard Hurdle.

Memorial donations to Edenton United Methodist Church Building Fund are recommended.

Dr. McCallum Joins ECU Staff

GREENVILLE — Dr. James McCallum, Jr., pediatrician and past president of the Pamlico-Albemarle Medical Society, has joined the East Carolina University staff as director of Student Health Services.

He assumed directorship of the student health facility January 5. Dr. Fred Irons, former director, remains on the staff as a physician.

A native of Colerain and a Wake Forest University alumnus, Dr. McCallum conducted a private practice in pediatrics in Williamston for the past 20 years.

He received his medical education at the Bowman Gray School of Medicine and served as an intern at the U.S. Naval Hospital in Pensacola, Fla. He completed residency terms in pediatrics at N.C. Memorial Hospital, Chapel Hill, and the Duke University Medical Center, Durham.

Dr. McCallum is active in local, state and regional medical organizations and in several historical and collectors' groups. His non-medical interests include American history, military history, and early American coinage and firearms.

He is author of "Martin County During the Civil War," a publication sponsored by the Martin County Historical Society in 1971.

As director of ECU Student Health Services Dr. McCallum will supervise primary patient care, program planning and management. His staff includes four physicians, a consulting psychiatrist, two nurse practitioners, 14 nurses, laboratory technicians, a part-time pharmacist and supporting clerical staff.

Student Health Services, which provides out-patient and in-patient health care for ECU's 13,000 students, is supported by student health fees. As director, Dr. McCallum will maintain close liaison with ECU Division of Student Life officials, local private physicians and Pitt

Memorial Hospital personnel.

Commenting on ECU's selection of Dr. McCallum for the Student Health Services post, ECU Vice Chancellor-Student Life Elmer Meyer said, "I am very pleased that Dr. McCallum has decided to join us at the Student Health Center. "His outstanding medical background as a family practitioner and his knowledge of the area medical community should be of great help to us all, especially our students."

N.C. Opera To Perform

CHARLOTTE — North Carolina Opera (NCO), the educational and touring affiliate of the Charlotte Opera, will perform Seymour Barab's "The Toy Shop" at E.A. Swain Elementary School for Swain and Walker students (K-6) on February 5, at 9:30 A.M.

The Toy Shop tells the story of dolls that come to life, the lonely toymaker who treats the dolls like children, and Aaron Blunder, an evil magician who wants to steal the dolls.

Death Claims Mrs. Boyce

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon for Mrs. Ethel Hughes Boyce, 83, 230 East Queen Street, Edenton.

The services were held in Williford-Barham Funeral Chapel with Dr. John Allen officiating. Burial was in Beaver Hill Cemetery.

Pallbearers were: Jimmy Stallings, James Dail, Charlie Swanner, Willie Spruill, Roy Harrell and James Byrum.

A native of Chowan County, Mrs. Boyce was born September 10, 1897, daughter of the late Miles A. and Lena Hedrick Hughes. She was the widow of Carroll A. Boyce, Sr.

Mrs. Boyce was a retired beautician and shop owner. Surviving is a brother, M.A. (Gus) Hughes of Edenton; two grandchildren, and one great-grandchild.

She was a member of Edenton Baptist Church.

The Toy Shop is performed by NCO as an educational program for children from kindergarten through sixth grade. The program is designed to enrich children's lives by increasing their capacity to use their senses meaningfully through planned learning experiences.

The Toy Shop is being sponsored locally by the Chowan Arts Council.

The N.C. Opera was formed in 1978 as the touring and educational affiliate of the Charlotte Opera Association. NCO took over the educational
