Resolution Is Passed

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee today voted 20-15 to pass H. Con. Res. 166, a resolution disapproving a Department of Commerce rule interpreting the federal consistency provisions of the Coastal Zone Management Act of 1972.

The rule in question defines which actions by the federal agencies "directly affect" states' coastal zones. Under the law, if a state has a federally approved Coastal Zone Management program, any action by a federal agency directly affecting that state's coastal zone must, to the maximum extent practicable, be consistent with that state's management plan.

Committee debate focused on whether federal pre-lease decisions and activities preparing for Outer Continental Shelf oil and gas development should be subject to the consistency requirement. The Department of Commerce rule would exclude most OCS pre-lease activity from the consistency provision. Earlier this year, a federal district court in California overturned a portion of OCS Lease Sale 53 off the central and northern coasts of that state on the basis that the consistency requirement does apply to pre-lease activities.

Unless both Houses of Congress adopt concurrent resolutions disapproving the Department of Commerce rule by October 16th, that rule automatically goes into effect.

H. Con. Res. 166 was sponsored by Hon. Gerry E. Studds (D-Mass) and co-sponsored by Hon. Joel Pritchard (R-Wash) and 42 other Members of the House.

Unique Product To Be Introduced

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — The ferris wheel, natural gas heat, ice cream cones and the telephone have something in common. They all were unveiled to the public at a World's Fair.

The 1982 World's Fair at Knoxville, Tenn., will have its own unique product, UHT milk, which will be introduced by Dairymen, Inc.

Today, at the 70-acre 1982 World's Fair site in Knoxville, Tenn., officials of the fair and Dairymen, Inc., announced the dairy cooperative's plans to participate in the six-month (May 1 through October 31) world exposition.

Since "energy Turns the World" is the official fair theme the introduction of an energy-saving UHT milk to the expected 11-million visitors is in keeping with energy conservation.

"Our new UHT milk has disconnected milk from the refrigerator," Dairymen President P. L. Robinson said at the announcement site. "Our participation will give a lot of people an opportunity to sample a product they will soon be buying and storing on their pantry shelf, with refrigeration as needed, means many consumers will not run out of milk at critical times.

The new dairy product, that can be stored three months without refrigeration, will be produced at a new sterile milk plant in Savannah, Ga., just in time for the fair's opening. The UHT milk will be processed and packaged by the Ultraco Division of Dairymen, Inc., a regional farmer-owned milk marketing cooperative.

World's Fair President, S. H. (Bo) Roberts, Jr., congratulated Dairymen's Chief Executive Officer Ben F. Morgan, Jr., on the cooperative's decision to be a major exhibitor. "UHT processed milk is certainly the kind of unique product we are looking for ... it's innovative, extremely useful and may be launched into great popularity from Knoxville next year."

But that's what world's fairs are all about," Roberts continued. "They are designed to spur new technology and products such as UHT."

"Our display will highlight our new UHT milk and the role of our dairy farmer-members have played in providing an adequate supply of wholesome milk year-round for our many customers," Morgan said. "Of special interest will be an exhibit showing how milk is processed and packaged to enable it to be stored without refrigeration for three months."

The Dairymen exhibit, housed in the Energy and Lifestyle Building, will cover approximately 3,000 square feet. Some of the neighboring exhibits include U. S. Steel, Eastman Kodak, General Electric, Stokely-Van Camp, Ford Motor Company and Delta Airlines.

In addition to Dairymen's participation in the fair as a major exhibitor, it's bottling subsidiary, Flav-O-Rich, will be the official supplier of all milk, ice cream and other dairy products used at the exposition.

"We're proud to be a part of the World's Fair, as both an exhibitor and supplier of dairy products," Morgan said. "Our dairy farmer-members who produce the milk, and our employees who process and package the official dairy products for the fair both share in this pride."

Dairymen, Inc., is a regional milk marketing cooperative owned and operated by approximately 8,000 dairy farmers in 17 states, primarily located in the Southeast.

Garden Party To Be Held

WILLIAMSBURG, VA. — In the custom of colonial conviviality, the grounds of the elegant Governor's Palace will welcome visitors on Sunday, Oct. 11, to a garden party of period merriment.

From 4 to 6 P. M., costumed entertainers will offer music and diversions amidst the boxwood hedges, topiary flowerbeds and shaded marl paths of the Palace's formal gardens. The festive scene will reflect those social occasions when the governor of the colony would entertain the gentry during the autumn sessions of the legislature and courts in this former Virginia capital.
