

March Of Dimes Sunday

Birth defects strike more than 250,000 babies in the United States each year. The Edenton Jaycettes and the March of Dimes Foundation kick-off their 1982 campaign in Edenton against birth defects with door-to-door collections on January 24.

Some birth defects can be prevented or corrected by current medical knowledge. Most cannot. The March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation funds research, medical services and education programs.

Through money raising projects, the Tidewater Chapter of the March of Dimes has continued its support of the Regional Perinatal High-Risk Center in Norfolk. Many infants born in Chowan County are transferred to Kings Daughters Hospital for more intensive care and a hope for a normal life which may not have been possible a few years ago.

Service requests for transportation and supportive equipment were granted to patients in the Tidewater area.

The Edenton Jaycettes will be going door-to-door on Superbowl Sunday, January 24, for contributions to fight birth defects. Remembering someone who has touched your life with a gift to the March of Dimes is a simple, dignified expression of your love and concern and at the same time will further the crucial task to which we are committed - a healthy start in life for every child.

Twiddy Takes Trip

Angelia Colombo Twiddy from Edenton, now living in Kitty Hawk, N.C., recently spent some time in the Bahamas and in Nassau.

Her employer, Tommy Daniels who owns the Ben Franklin Store in Nags Head, N.C. gave her and eight other girls that are employed at the Ben Franklin store a vacation. Daniels closed the store for two weeks after Christmas and took the girls to the Bahamas.

Hunt To Head Delegation

Governor James B. Hunt and members of the Democratic National Committee from North Carolina will head the Democratic Party's delegation to the Party's Mid-year Conference in Philadelphia in July, according to Chowan County Chairman Lueta Sellers, Route 2, Edenton.

Chairman Sellers has received a letter detailing the State Party's delegate selection plan for election of an additional six (6) delegates and four alternates at a meeting on February 20 of the State Executive Committee called by the Party Chairman State Senator Russell Walker of Asheboro. Sellers is a member of the Executive Committee and will be representing Chowan County Democratic Party in this selection process.

The delegation will be chosen from among the Democrats who file a notice of candidacy with the staff at the Party's Raleigh Headquarters no later than February 15. Filing forms are available from Chairman Sellers or directly from the Raleigh Headquarters upon request.

Any active Democrat may run for delegate or alternate to the Mid-year Conference by submitting the notice-of-candidacy form to the Headquarters before the February deadline. According to Chairman Sellers an active Democrat is defined in the Delegate Selection Plan as a person who has been registered to vote as a Democrat for at least ninety days, except in the case of an initial registrant, and who gives of his or her time and/or means to further the interests of the Democratic Party.

RA's Score Win Over Opposite Team

The Chappell Hill Baptist Church Royal Ambassador basketball teams registered a triple win over Powells Point Baptist Church in games played at Griggs School in Currituck County on Saturday night.

In Chowan Baptist Associational league play the older Pioneer team, led by David Stallings with 31 points, easily defeated the Powells Point team. Stallings was followed by Mike Pippins and Darryl Stallings with 6 points a piece, and Scott Stallings and Brian Baker with 4 points each. The final score was 53-33. The Younger Pioneers of Chappell Hill defeated Powells Point by a score of 27-24. Paul Harrell led the winners with 15 points, followed by Kendal and Wendal Buhls with 8 points and 4 points respectively. In the Crusader game, the team from Chappell Hill won a squeaker from Powells Point on a game ending foul shot by Danny Pippins who was fouled at the buzzer. Pippins led the Chappell Hill Crusaders with 13 points as his team nipped the losers by a score of 17-16. Dennis Cox followed Pippins with 2 points, while Michael Lane and Curtis Byrum as well as Phillip Jones helped out defensively. Royal Ambassador basketball is sponsored by the Brotherhood of Baptist Men through the Chowan Baptist Association.

Newspaper Underway For Youth Of N.C.

A newspaper written by, for and about North Carolina young people is off the press and is making its way into the hands of Chowan County youth.

The four-page tabloid newspaper, entitled underAge, is believed to be the first statewide effort of its kind. Scheduled for distribution in January, March, and June underAge will feature stories on education, legislation, youth employment, teen sexuality, relationships, juvenile justice and other areas concerning and effecting young people.

Distribution for this pilot project is limited, according to Heather Newton, a senior at Athens Drive High School in Raleigh, one of the editors of underAge. "Copies are being sent to public libraries and to junior and senior high school guidance offices in Chowan County," she said. "With the anticipated cooperation of librarians and guidance counselors, students should have easy access to underAge."

Other underAge editors are Angie Gill, a junior at Broughton High School, Raleigh, and Bryan Gates, a junior at East Wake High School, Wendell.

The youth newspaper, headquartered in the Youth Involvement Office in the N. C. Department of Administration, is funded by a special grant awarded to the Governor's Advocacy Council on Children and Youth.

The most popular breed of dog in the United States today is the poodle.
