October Juvenile Diabetes Month

Mayor Roy Harrell has proclaimed October "Juvenile Diabetes Month." A presentation ceremony was held Monday, September 27, 1982 in Edenton, North Carolina. In attendance at the ceremony were members of the Northeastern North Carolina Chapter of The Juvenile Diabetes Foundation and other interested persons.

The proclamation stated: WHEREAS diabetes, a chronic, metabolic disorder which adversely affects the body's ability to manufacture or utilize insulin, now afflicts over twelve million Americans; and WHEREAS health care costs resulting from diabetes now exceed $7 billion in the form of disability payments and lost wage costs; and WHEREAS the cause and prevention of diabetes is still unknown and the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation International, an accredited volunteer health agency, has as its primary objective the support and funding of research to prevent complications of diabetes and ultimately find a cure; NOW, THEREFORE, I, Roy L. Harrell Mayor of the city of Edenton, North Carolina, do hereby proclaim the month of October, 1982 as "Juvenile Diabetes Month". Juvenile Diabetes Foundation (JDF) International is the major funding source for diabetes research in the world. Organized in 1970 by a group of parents whose children suffered from the disease, JDF to research, many new breakthroughs have occurred in the treatment of this disease and cancer. JDF International contributed $4.9 million to diabetes research this year. For further information, contact the Northeastern North Carolina Chapter of the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation, P.O. ### INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

CAN CROSSED EYES BE BEAUTIFUL?

Among the ancient Mayans, it was a sign of beauty to be cross-eyed. Mayan mothers would hang beads in front of their children's eyes to make them permanently cross-eyed and consequently, "more beautiful." Needless to say, tastes have changed significantly since then. Modern parents are concerned about correcting this condition, not inflicting it.

What does it mean to be "cross-eyed"? To begin with, the technical term is strabismus, and it applies to all abnormalities in coordination of the movements of the two eyes, not only those which are deviated inward (convergent). It can assume many forms: one eye turned up or down, in or out, a combination of the two. It may be constant or occasional. But even if your child only exhibits this symptom rarely, it is unwise to ignore it because it might lead to amblyopia (lazy eye) where early detection is crucial for successful treatment.

In our age, beauty and good vision go together.
