Grant Hearing Is Set

Citizens and local elected officials in Chowan County and across the state will have an opportunity to comment on the state's proposed plan for distributing approximately $45 million in 1983 Community Development Block Grant funds at two public hearings on January 10 in Asheville and Raleigh.

The Asheville hearing will begin at 2 P.M. in the Owen Art Management Building on the campus of the University of North Carolina at Asheville. The hearing in Raleigh will be held in the ground floor hearing room of the Archdale Building, 512 N. Salisbury Street, beginning 7:30 P.M.

The Department of Natural Resources and Community Development is the state agency responsible for administration of the program. NRC Secretary Joseph W. Grimsley feels the public hearings are essential to continued success of the CDBG effort.

Commenting on the upcoming hearings, Grimsley stated, "In order for the limited CDBG allocation to have the greatest local impact, it is imperative that we continue to work closely with local officials and citizens. We cannot operate in a vacuum and expect the CDBG funds to have the most beneficial effect possible in North Carolina."

Specific topics for discussion at the hearings include modifications in the state CDBG program regulations and the proposed Statement of Program Design for fiscal 1983. The statement will be forwarded to the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development once it is finalized.

North Carolina began administering the program during 1982 and awarded approximately $45-million in Community Development Block Grants to eighty-nine cities and counties for community revitalization, economic development and development planning projects.

Citizens who wish to comment at the public hearings are asked to register 30 minutes prior to the beginning of the proceedings at both locations.

Plans Finalized For National CP Telethon

GREENVILLE — The local portion of the "Weekend With The Stars Telethon for Cerebral Palsy" will be filmed before a live audience at the Moose Lodge in Greenville, N.C. on January 22 and 23, with other portions of the program originating in Los Angeles and New York. Two CBS daytime drama stars will head the host list.

WNCT-TV, Channel 9, Greenville, N.C. will broadcast the telethon which will have local "cutaways" for participation from Greenville and including all the surrounding area. Hours will be from 11 P.M. Saturday, January 22 to 7 P.M. Sunday, Jan. 23.

Seventy-five percent of the proceeds raised in Greenville will stay here to support the United Cerebral Palsy Developmental Center which services Greenville and many other counties, local telethon coordinator, Nita Rasberry, said.

She said the Greenville Center has for many years been subsidized through funds raised from other North Carolina telethons. "This year residents of Greenville and all areas ranging from Morehead City to Nags Head will have the opportunity to share in this fund-raising effort by contributing their time and talent."

Coming here from New York to lead the hosting of the local portion of the telethon will be two stars of the CBS daytime series, "As The World Turns". They are Margaret Colin, who portrays Margo Montgomery, and Frank Runyon, who plays Steve Andropoulos. She said the two have offered their time and effort to support cerebral palsy and that their flights here are being paid for by a business firm.

Ms. Colin is a Brooklyn native who studied drama at Hofstra University and the New York State Summer School of the Arts. She previously appeared for about six months on the daytime series, "The Edge of Night".

Runyon is a Reading, Pa. native who attended Princeton University and has worked as a disc jockey, a standup comedian, an actor, and a clerk-typist. He has played Steve Andropoulos since May 1980 and is an aspiring writer for the Broadway Theater.

Co-hosts of the local portion of the telethon will be TV personalities Jim Woods, Slim Short, Susan Roberts and Allison McDuffy. Assisting will be Nancy Jenkins, Nita Rasberry and other radio personalities. James Whitehurst of WNCT-TV is producing the show, assisted Mack Nicholson, Macon Dail and others from WNCT-TV.

National hosts are John Ritter of "Three's Company", whose brother is affected by cerebral palsy, Dennis James and Paul Anka. Don Ho from Hawaii will also make an appearance with other celebrities.

Talent auditions will be held January 8th and 9th at the Greenville Moose Lodge. All those wishing to set up an audition should phone Sam Swett, Talent Chairman, at 919-757-1212 January 4th through January 7th between the hours of 2 and 4 P.M. All auditions must be set up in advance.

Field Of Vision

Normal vision is made up of two parts—accurate, sharp sight when looking directly at an object, coupled with a general awareness of the scene around you. Both are necessary for proper vision. The loss of either the central vision or peripheral vision could be considered legal blindness.

There are many diseases which can rob us of either the central or peripheral vision. Glaucoma is an example of one that gradually shrinks the peripheral vision until, in the final stage, it is like looking through two narrow tubes.

It is also possible for a small portion or section of the overall field to be lost in one eye. This is particularly hard for the individual to detect because the blank area is often filled in by the sight from the other eye. An optometrist, however, by testing with small lights or moving colored spots can detect such blind spots or field of vision losses. Advice—if you are having problems with your central or peripheral vision, have an eye check-up at your earliest convenience!
