

Swain Speaks

The Dental Health program ended last Monday after classes: brushed and flossed at school, had tasting parties, made flip charts, made posters, etc.

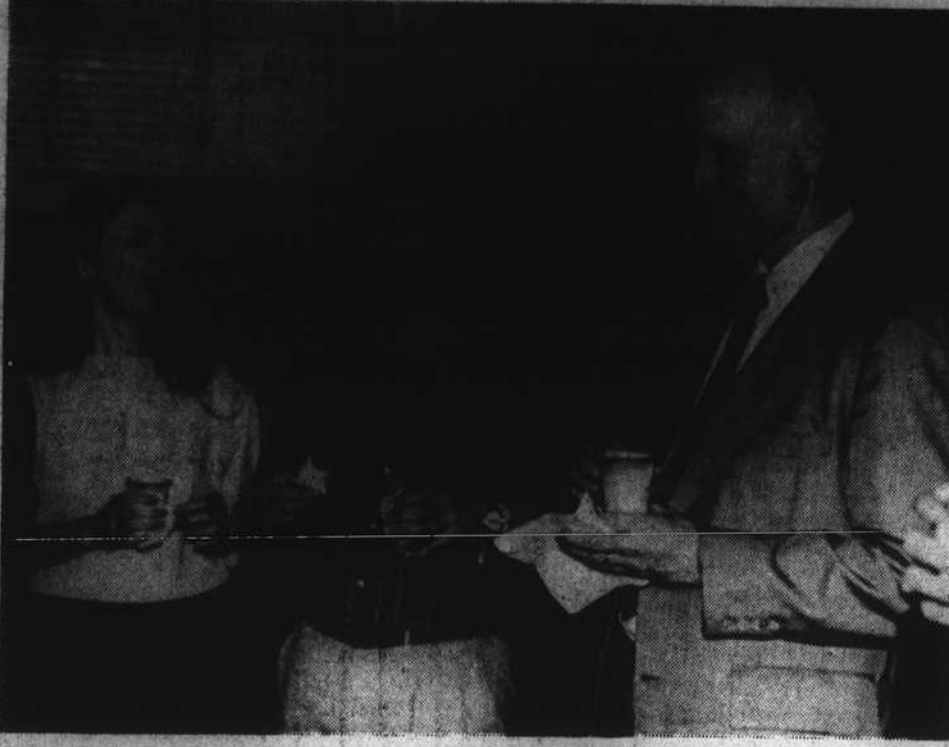

Tuesday, the Conservation Posters were turned in. Swain had five winners. In 4th grade, first place was John Johnson from Mrs. Byrum's room. In 5th grade, first place was Kevin Goodwin in Mrs. Roberts' room. Second place was Denise Moye from Mrs. Hollowell's room. In 6th grade, first place was Jonathan Morgan in Mrs. Walker's room. Second place was Chad Johnson in Mrs. Stall's room. We are very proud of these students.

Wednesday the school was decorated with musical instruments as the teachers readied their classes for the North Carolina Symphony. Mrs. P. Byrum had her students do reports on composers. She displayed these by the auditorium. Mrs. Byrum, Mrs. Hollowell and Mrs. Swanner decorated this area with students' musical artwork. Mrs. Roberts made a large welcoming banner. Wednesday morning the whole student body met in the auditorium. Mrs. Sutton, even with a sore throat, got us ready to sing "The Old Tar River" with the symphony.

Thursday was Symphony Day. White Oak and Chowan joined us. The conductor spoke about passive and active listening. He taught the students about speed and mood in music. Then Mrs. Hollowell's 5th graders played on the bells and autoharp for the Symphony. They were fabulous. They sounded like one person because each child was in tune perfectly. Then, the whole audience sang. Mr. John Becker of Edenton narrated "Peter and the Wolf" for us as the Symphony played. The surprise was when the Symphony played an extra song for us. It was a Hungarian dance.

Next week, we have six week tests. Please start helping your child prepare. Thank you.

ATTEND RECEPTION-N.C. Symphony Chamber Orchestra Associate Conductor James Ogle (center) is shown here talking with Terry Wackelin, President of the Chowan Chapter of the N.C. Symphony and Superintendent of Edenton-Chowan Schools, Dr. John Dunn, at a reception in the band room at John A. Holmes High School. The reception was held Thursday February 24.

Letter To The Herald Editor

Dear Sir:
The recent establishment of a new department "for women" in State Government shows clearly that Mr. Hunt will stop at nothing to promote his Senatorial dream at taxpayer's expense. We have had a freeze on teacher pay and state worker's pay, but we have not had aatorial campaign of Mr. Hunt.

When I announced for the U.S. Senate last September, I stated I would focus on three main issues:

1. Controlling a run-a-way defense budget.

2. Working to reduce deficit spending by not engaging in customary back-scratching in Washington.

3. Promising to get this nation to re-commit ourselves to the unfinished agenda toward making life better for black Americans.

What is going on in North Carolina State Government in regard to our black employees? A recent report from the North Carolina Human Relations Council confirmed this. There has been a decline of minorities in administration category, and a leveling off in the professional category. This decline has taken place even though 220 personnel changes were made at these levels during 1982. The Human Relations Council noted; however, a raise in the employment of women in all categories. What this means in State Government and most other public and private employment is opportunities for women, more often than not - white women - are being made at the expense of previous gains made by black employees.

I am not against opportunities for women. I support ERA and other efforts to benefit all women; however, I do not feel opportunities for women must be made at the expense of meager gains made by blacks in recent years.

Homemakers Meet

Center Hill Extension Homemakers Club met on Tuesday night for their annual Husband's supper. Special guests were husbands of the club members, the Valentine theme was carried out in the table decorations.

Mrs. Helen Hollowell welcomed the group and Emmett Jones gave the invocation. A delicious buffet dinner was served.

After the meal each person told of special Valentine remembrances of the past.

All of us were happy to welcome back Mr. and Mrs. George Talbot and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hollowell.

The state of Alaska, the nation's largest, has a population smaller than New York City's borough of Staten Island.
