

Serving local internship

Tony Lassiter

Partners with Youth throughout the Perquimans and Chowan County areas.

A native of Edenton, Lassiter is the son of Pearlle and Marie Lassiter, and the youngest of eight children. He is a true sports enthusiast, having participated in football, wrestling, and track while attending school.

Among other honors, he is President of the Interfraternal Council and a member of the Criminal Justice Club.

Lassiter says he feels that he is able to relate well to other young people, and looks forward to helping them develop a positive attitude about life through their participation in Partners with Youth.

Perquimans-Chowan Partners with Youth has an Elizabeth City State University student serving an internship with their organization, according to an announcement made last Friday by Director Talmadge Dunn.

Tony Lassiter, an ECSU senior, will be working with the program for nine weeks while he continues working toward a degree in Criminal Justice.

After graduation, he plans on attending North Carolina Central to obtain his master's degree. From there, he hopes to obtain a governmental position.

Lassiter's duties while working with Partners with Youth include preparing cassettes, assisting Dunn with setting up training programs, learning the ins and outs of obtaining funds for the program, and helping Dunn promote

Contest winners chosen

The Albemarle Conservation Poster Contest, sponsored by the Albemarle Electric Membership Corporation, is a climax to the poster contests held in each of the District's five counties. A luncheon honoring the students was held at Angler's Cove in Hertford with Tom Burns, District Supervisor from Pasquotank County, the main speaker for the occasion. Others attending the event were parents, school officials, and conservation district supervisors.

First place posters in the contest will be entered in the North Carolina Area Five Conservation Poster Contest to be held in late March.

The Albemarle District wishes to express their appreciation to the Albemarle Electric Membership Corporation, the students participating, and to the teachers and school officials for their outstanding contribution in making this contest possible.

Precinct meetings slated

Democrats in Chowan County are launching their election year activities with their annual precinct meetings on Thursday, March 13 at 8:00 p.m. This date is the previously scheduled make-up date designated by the State Executive Committee. In case of severely inclement weather or lack of quorum, March 20 will be the make-up date for Chowan County. Any registered Democrat is invited to attend.

The change in scheduling Chowan County precinct meetings was made due to the performance of the North Carolina Symphony in Edenton on the date selected for statewide meetings. "We made the change with community spirit in mind," stated Sarah Tynch, Chair of the Chowan County Democrats. "We realize the Symphony performance is an important event for our area and it is quite well attended. We chose to change the date for our precinct meetings to allow involvement with both activities."

Mrs. Tynch said the precinct meetings are an important step in the Party's overall election year strategy. "We're a ground-up party. Our strength has always been in the hundreds of good people we have in precincts across the state. The precincts are strong, our county organizations are strong, and our state party is strong."

Each precinct will elect delegates to the Chowan County convention on April 5. Precincts will have the chance to pass resolutions expressing their views on political and public policy issues.

Mrs. Tynch said she expected a good turn-out for the March 13 precinct meetings which are held at each precinct polling place. They are: Wardville, Rescue Squad building; Center Hill, Fire Department; Rocky Hock, Rescue Squad Building; East Edenton, County Office Building; West Edenton, New Rescue Squad Building; Yeopim, New Armory. Anyone who needs more information about the precinct meetings should call Sarah Tynch, 221-4404, after 5:00 p.m.

Raffle held

Edenton Prime Time recently conducted a craft sale and Raffle for a load of firewood to benefit the Chowan County Heart Assoc. These events netted over $200 to help further heart research in North Carolina.

Winner of the firewood Raffle was Mrs. Carolyn Ricks of Edenton who donated this wood to a needy family.

The American Heart Association appreciates the efforts of volunteer such as the good folks at Edenton Prime Time for taking the time to care.
