

No Fatalities Reported

CHARLOTTE — Eighteen North Carolina cities, including Edenton, had no traffic fatalities during 1986 according to the N.C. State Motor Club.

The number is down from the twenty-four Tarheel municipalities that had death free records in 1985. Seventeen cities lost their place on the list, seven held their place, and there were eleven new listings.

Motor club president John G. Frazier III released the data following the club's annual traffic safety survey, which is conducted in cooperation with the North Carolina Department of Transportation, Division of Motor Vehicles.

One of the group, the Gaston County town of Dallas, achieved the honor for the nineteenth consecutive year. Cherryville has gone thirteen years without a traffic death while Brevard's mark is unblemished for the past nine years.

Other cities named were:

Ahoskie, Archdale, Boone, Canton, Chapel Hill, Lenoir, Morehead City, Mount Airy, Newton, Roanoke Rapids, Selma, Southern Pines, Tarboro and Williamston.

"We are proud of these fatality free cities and the fine traffic records they have established," Dr. Frazier stated. "They are to be commended for an outstanding achievement," he added.

On the negative side, Charlotte continues to lead the state in fatalities with 51 persons killed in traffic accidents. Greensboro followed Charlotte with 23 persons killed, Durham had 15 fatalities and Gastonia and Raleigh had 13 each.

A total of 1,645 persons were killed in traffic accidents in North Carolina in 1986, an 11 percent increase from 1985, and a total of 113,191 persons were injured, an eight percent increase from 1985. Excessive speed continues to be the primary factor involved in fatal accidents.

Ballard Wins District Nod

Tyrrell Elementary School Principal, James A. Ballard, has received notification of being selected as District 20's Outstanding District Educator Award winner, of the North Carolina PTA.

District 20 is made up of the following counties: Beaufort, Bertie, Greene, Hyde, Martin, Pitt, Tyrrell, and Washington. The award will be presented to Ballard at the North Carolina PTA's State Convention held in Hickory this year in October.

To honor an outstanding educator in each of the 20 PTA districts, the Board of Managers established the Educator Award in March 1976. The term "educator" applies to teachers, principals, superintendents, and other administrators.

The purpose of the award is to recognize and pay tribute to educators who have made outstanding contributions in the field of education which benefit children and youth.

Applications Being Accepted

Chowan College in Murfreesboro is accepting applications for fall enrollment in 10 professional fields. The private, church-related, two-year college will open its 140th year August 26.

Chowan's liberal arts program prepares students for transfer to a senior college and professional careers. The liberal arts program includes business, English, fine arts (music, drama, art, dance), printing technology and photography, science and social science.

Chowan also offers career education in photography, printing, commercial art, secretarial science, merchandise management and business fields.

Associate degrees are awarded in over 40 programs of study. Approximately 85 percent of Chowan's graduates transfer to senior colleges and universities. Chowan is sponsored by the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina.

Youth To Meet With State Officials

If you are a high school student and you would like to try your hand at running state government, Youth Involvement Day is designed for you.

During Youth Involvement Day, Oct. 26, students will "pair up" with top state officials and work alongside them for the day.

Activities will begin on Oct. 25 with a workshop on government followed by dinner and a dance sponsored by the Raleigh Youth Council. The next day students will meet their state government counterparts at breakfast, after which they will leave for a day of work.

For application forms and information, contact the Youth Advocacy and Involvement Office, (919) 733-9296, or write the Youth Advocacy and Involvement Office, 121 W. Jones St., Raleigh, N.C. 27603-1334. Deadline for ap-lications is Sept. 11. Participants will be selected by a committee.

The cost of attending Youth Involvement Day is $41, which includes lodging for one night at the Radisson Plaza Hotel (four to a room), two meals and administrative costs.

Youth Involvement Day is sponsored by the State Youth Council, a component of the N.C. Department of Administration's Youth Advocacy and Involvement Office (YAIO), and the Raleigh Youth Council, a division of the Raleigh Parks and Recreation Department. The State Youth Council works to develop opportunities for youth involvement in state government and community affairs.

Thanks Given

I would like to extend a very special thank you to all members of the Edenton-Chowan Rescue Squad for the companionship, understanding and all the help they have given me. With great regret, I have submitted my resignation, due to health reasons.

Thanks also to the staff at Chowan Hospital, the gracious nurses and personnel in the Emergency Room, and the X-ray personnel. I will never forget those I was able to minister to and help.

I find myself placed in an inactive position, on the advice of my physician, and will be unable to continue to serve you. But, I want you to know, I will miss each and every one of you.

Dear Friends and Neighbors,

Once again, you have come to our assistance with your enjoyable visits, beautiful flowers, delicious food and all the wonderful cards. There is an old saying that true friends are all around us with their love and compassion. Here is a little poem which describes you best by Alice Joyce Davidson:

What is a friend?
Someone to sigh with,
Someone to cry with,
To be with through smiles and woes,
Someone to talk with,
Someone to walk with,
Wherever a path in life goes.
A friend is a treasure
An all around pleasure,
To share with, to care with and love.
Wrapped with affection,
And made to perfection,
A friend is a gift from above.

We love you all,
Syble, Edward &

Zimmer Auto Much Admired

Fair in New York and met her husband.

"If we were still living in New York and had the car, forget it. They'd strip it so fast," she said.

Very few of the Zimmers are built each year. They are custom-made with fiberglass bodies and can have whatever engine the owner chooses when he orders the car. Price average for each car is $63,000 and owners usually wait a year for delivery.

Mrs. Maroon said the Zimmer makes driving more fun. It's not unusual to find people gathered around the car in a parking lot and see motorists taking its picture driving down the highway.

"It's not a car to take grocery shopping, but more for people who have another car," she said.

The Maroons have noticed that the Ewing family on the television program Dallas have used Zimmers several times, but never show the complete car on the screen.

Her husband washes the car himself, but has been known to run it through an automatic car wash on visits to their son in Raleigh.

When asked if they would consider getting rid of the car if someone made an offer, Mrs. Maroon replied, "I don't think my husband is ready to sell it."
