

HAPPY TO VISIT THE DENTIST—Travis Bunch, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bunch, Jr., of Edenton, was the happy winner when Drs. Allen Hornthal (left) and Lonnie Sieck put the names of young patients in a hat and drew one to give this shaggy dog a new home. Travis carried the dog to its new home Monday, but wasn't exactly sure of a name yet.

Park Celebrates Heritage Week

Pettigrew State Park will once again celebrate Indian Heritage Week Friday, Saturday and Sunday, September 25, 26 and 27. On display will be Lake Phelps' Indian artifact collection which will include pottery, gorgets and projectile points.

Three of Pettigrew's Indian dugouts will be exhibited. It has been recently discovered that Lake Phelps owns the longest canoe in the south at 37' 5" and another canoe that is the second oldest in the nation at 4,370 years old. These two canoes have not been recovered and therefore, will not be on display. Exhibits will open each day from 9:30 a.m. until 5 p.m.

The park staff will be lecturing each day on the Indian lifestyle and their environment. Skins of animals past and present will be shown.

On Friday, September 25, Leslie Bright from the Underwater Archaeology Unit of the Division of Archives and History will be the guest speaker. Bright has participated in most underwater archaeology projects in North Carolina, including the Monitor discovery, Ram Neuse, and Lake Phelps' canoes.

Becky Marty, the East District Naturalist for the Division of Parks and Recreation will be present. Miss Marty, along with the park staff, will be interpreting the environment during the Indian occupation.

On Saturday, David Cook, Park Ranger at Falls Lake Recreation Area, will be demonstrating projectile point construction and how to use an atlatl or throwing stick. Paris Trail of Edenton will be demonstrating how to burn out a dugout canoe.

Dr. David Phelps, professor of archaeology at East Carolina University, will be present to answer questions. He is considered by many to be the best authority on the Indians of eastern North Carolina. Collectors are invited to bring their artifacts for Dr. Phelps to analyze. He will age each artifact and explain its function.

On Sunday, the exhibits will be open and the park staff will lecture on request. The family campground will also be open.

For more information, call the Park Office at (919) 797-4475.

This event is made possible by grants from The Washington County 400th Anniversary Committee and the North Carolina Humanities Grant.

Thanks Is Expressed

In appreciation for their promptness in a time of need, I say thank you to the Edenton-Chowan Rescue Squad. Also thanks to the young man in the Revco store who was so kind and concerned before help arrived.

In addition, I will also be forever grateful to the emergency room personnel at Chowan Hospital; both doctors and nurses were very efficient. Thank you all.

Sincerely,
Ima H. Asbell

Card of Thanks

We, the family of the late Robert Lee Ward Jr., wish to express our deepest appreciation and sincerest thanks for every act of kindness shown through cards, floral arrangements, telephone calls, food, visits and your fervent prayers.

We can't express verbally the heartfelt joy nor repay everyone for their kindness shown in our bereaving hours. Many thanks to everyone.

Robert Lee and Alice Mae Ward,

Reunion Slated

The descendants of Richard (Dick) Baker and his wife, Mary Gregory Baker, are holding a family reunion Sunday, October 4, at the Bethany United Methodist Church in Belvidere, beginning at 1 p.m.

Drinks and plates will be provided, but those who attend should bring a picnic lunch.

Baker was born December 27, 1824, and his wife was born January 6, 1842.

Descendants who would like more information should contact Mrs. Nellie Baker Stallings, Route 1, Belvidere, telephone (919) 297-2422, or Mrs. Ann Butt, Route 4, Hertford, telephone (919) 264-2724.

Food Festival Set

The fifteen Chowan County EHA Clubs will have programs on low cholesterol eating titled, "How to Have Your Cake and Eat It Too," for their September meetings. Fran Ward, home economics extension agent; Mrs. Ruby Jernigan, EHA Council President; and Margie Harrell, county EHA Foods and Nutrition Chairman, are coordinating the event. Mrs. Pat Storie, N.C. Heart Association representative, has facilitated the Chowan County celebration.

Chowan County shoppers are encouraged to stop by one of the store exhibits and receive information about low-fat foods and meal preparation.

For further information on nutrition for good health, contact the Chowan County Agricultural Extension Office.

NCNB MAKES DONATION—Lisa Baker (left), membership chairman for the Chowan Chapter of the N.C. Symphony, accepted a donation Friday from Emily Irby, NCNB Branch Manager. The donation will support this year's Discovery Program in Edenton-Chowan schools. Another project of the local chapter is a picnic and free Atlantic Fleet Navy Band Concert tonight on the courthouse green.

Openings Reported

The Edenton Employment Security Commission found jobs for 103 workers in August, with 133 openings reported by employers.

Of that number, four individuals were placed in positions with salaries above $15,000 annually.

The local ESC office has had 218 job openings reported since its fiscal year began July 1 and filled 178 openings with 171 workers (some placed in more than one job).

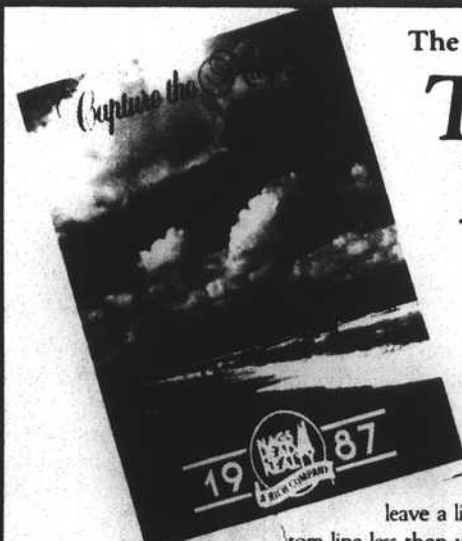

Across the state 18,308 workers were placed through 78 Job Service Centers in six branch offices operated by ESC last month.

Employers listed 35,808 openings with the agency during August and 24,031 of those openings were filled.

The continuing saga of...

The Book & The Lady...

Yes, cottage owners, it's contract renewal time again. It's time to dust off the calculator, break out the paperwork and take a close look at your property management program. Does it leave a little bit to be desired? Was the bottom line less than you had expected? If that's the case, you need to meet Sharon Ostlund, the rental manager at Nags Head Realty.

Under her guidance the number of participants in our program has increased by 25 percent. Good job, Sharon! What's next? The production of the 1988 edition of the famous "book". This little gem can put your cottage directly in front of the eyes of 25,000 potential renters. Do yourself a favor—get in touch with Sharon, get in the book...

Get with the program...
