BPW Club Hosts A Variety Of Activities

Edenton Business and Professional Women's Club, in observance of National Business Women's Week, October 18-24, has acknowledged the special emphasis with several activities. The first was last Thursday night with recognition of "Club Woman of the Year." Speaker for the occasion was Clara Boswell, Principal of Chowan Junior High School and a Chowan County Commissioner. Mrs. Boswell reminded the women to be aware of abilities and talents, and challenged them in service to others to keep the human touch. Betty Manning was named "Club Woman of the Year."

On Tuesday, the group met to continue the observance with a dutch luncheon at which time Legion Britton, first vice president of the club, gave thought-provoking remarks on attaining goals. At the October meeting, Cathy Keefe of the North Carolina Employment Security Commission was welcomed into the club bringing membership of the local organization to 44.

Edenton BPW Club was organized in April 1948 as a member of the National Federation. Membership is made up of individuals actively engaged in business or in the professions, or retired persons who became members while in the working field. Three charter members of the Edenton club still active in the organization are Bertha B. Bunch, Mildred M. Satterfield, and Myrtle P. Webb.

To close out the week, District 11 Meeting will be held Saturday at Nags Head. President of the local organization is Marina Crummey while District Director is Julia Hassell of the Edenton Club.

Fourth Race Is Conducted

By E. M. KIDD
Edenton Yacht Club boats held the fourth race of their fall series in winds which varied from very light to non-existent to moderate, depending upon where one was and when one was there.

The start was congested, but the boats spread out on the way to Salmon Creek. Those inshore found better wind and pulled ahead. Then they lost ground as they tacked away from shore and ran into areas of calm.

Because of the light wind, the course was shortened to 6.4 nautical miles.

Heart of Carolina finished first in spinnaker class and Spooners took non-spinnaker honors.

The final results follow. All times are shown in minutes.
