from Wake County's Debutantes, and fourteen girls from throughout the state are also honored by being named Assistant Leaders. During the Ball weekend, Sept. 10-12, there will be eight different functions to be attended by the Debutantes, their families and their escorts. The formal presentation at the Raleigh Civic Center on Friday evening, Sept. 11, will be a focal point of the weekend. Each young lady will be escorted by her father as she is presented, and the entire presentation will conclude with the formation of the traditional cartwheel figure. George Thomas Smith, Jr. is chairman of the 1998 Ball. He heads a committee of Terpsichorean Club members who supervise all arrangements.
