First lesson from Sanford: In political campaigns, always keep the initiative.

Second lesson: Use "triangularization" to win elections, even when you don't start out with a majority of support.

Third lesson: "Fire in the belly" wins elections.

Fourth lesson: If you want to run for political office, run somebody else's campaign first.

Fifth lesson: Don't be afraid to use young people in important positions.

Sixth lesson: When your audience has heard enough, stop talking. This is a lesson that means it is time to end this column.

Nat'l Business Women's Week here

The 71st commemoration of National Business Women's Week will take place Oct. 18-22.

Since its creation in 1928, the event has been sponsored by Business and Professional Women for the purpose of recognizing and honoring the achievements of working women throughout history.

For more information on the Edenton Business and Professional Women's Club, call Pat Wheeler at 482-3539.

Halloween at Layden's

Layden's Daycare and Preschool will hold its annual Halloween Carnival on Oct. 23 from 4:30 p.m. until 7 p.m.

Games will be open from 4:30 - 7 p.m. There will be hayrides, games, food, fun and possibly a haunted forest that will not open before 7 p.m.

Cost will be $2 per person to help defray costs of food and games. All extra money will be donated to the Daycare's Cancer Relay team.

Edenton Mayor Roland Vaughan signs a proclamation honoring the George Durant Chapter of the NC Society of Colonial Dames' Golden Harvest Heritage Tea, celebrated today, Oct. 20, from 2-4 p.m. at the Newbold-White House in Hertford. The tea marks the 35th anniversary of the local chapter of the Colonial Dames and the 50th anniversary of the state Colonial Dames society. Representing the Colonial Dames at the signing were Dorothy Bangert, Anne Perkins, Pansy Elliott, Anne Edmundson, Corinne Thorud, Barbara Elbualy, Charlotte Small and Mary Partin.
