

THE CHOWAN HERALD

Published in historic Edenton . . . The prettiest town on the North Carolina coast.

Vol. LXVII, No. 34

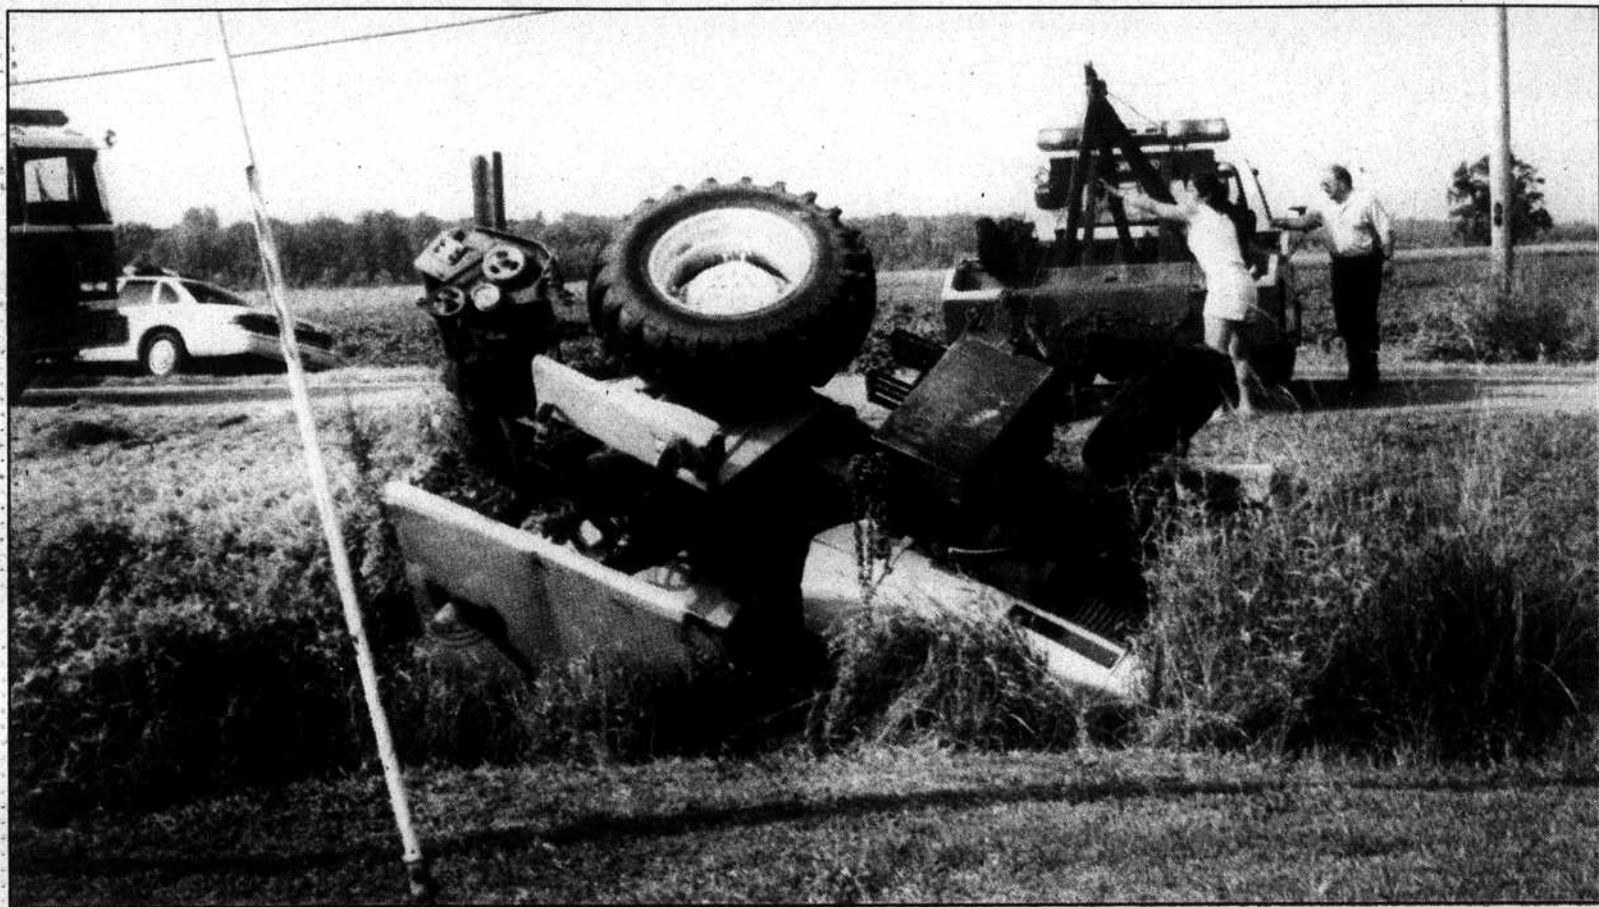

Minnie Hughes is honored by fellow Legionnaires 3-A Food Pantry pays tribute to volunteers 1-B

Podesta to speak at Women's Luncheon 4-B

Tractor Overturns

A mower contracted by the state department of transportation flipped into a roadside ditch on Highway 32 - North. The incident happened approximately one mile north of Floyd's corner. Chowan County emergency personnel responded to the Saturday morning mishap. Reportedly the driver of the wrecked tractor escaped without serious injury. (Staff photo by Pete Manning)

Veterans' love of country is honored here

BY REBECCA BUNCH
 Editor

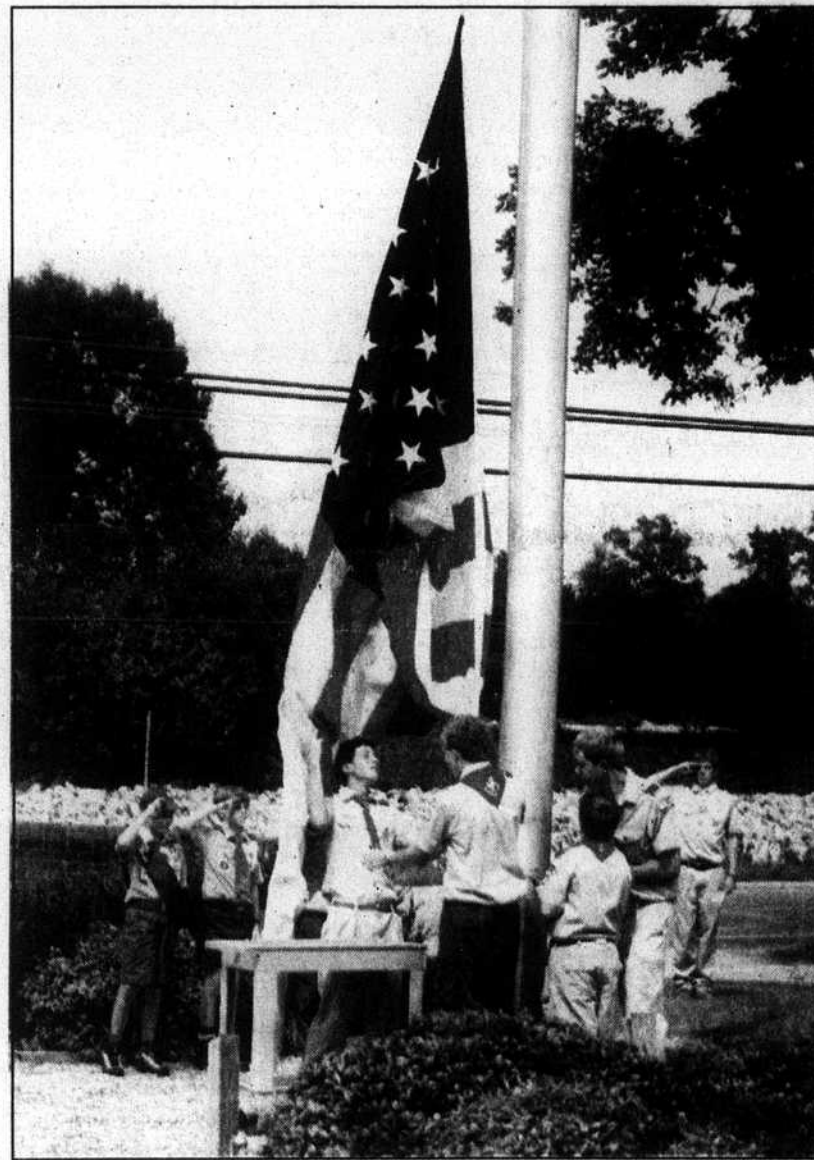

Chowan County residents gathered Sunday afternoon at the American Legion Post 40 in Edenton for a ceremony paying tribute to Korean War veterans.

Master of ceremonies George Stokes pointed out a specially issued commemorative Korean flag flying outside the Legion during the ceremony that bore the slogan,

"Freedom is Not Free." He noted that the Korean War was known as the "forgotten war". "People forget, people die," he said.

Post 40 Commander Jim Haskett praised Scout Troop 164, which participated in a flag raising ceremony to hoist the American flag to fly alongside the Korean commemorative flag, as well as the Legion Auxiliary, Sons of the Le-

See VETERANS On Page 12-A

Scout Troop 164 carries out a moving flag-raising ceremony during an afternoon tribute to Korean War veterans. (Staff photo by Rebecca Bunch)

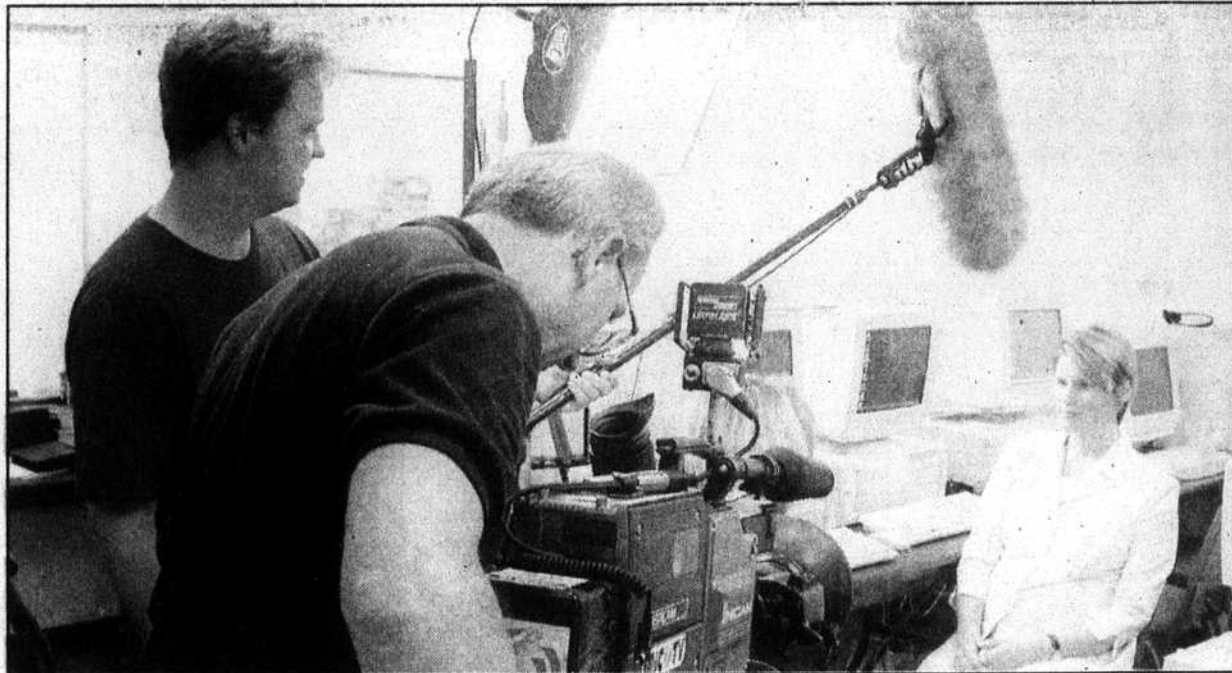

Regional leaders are briefed on needs that education bond monies could fund

BY REBECCA BUNCH
 Editor

As a camera crew from UNC-TV toured the COA Chowan County Center and other College of the Albemarle locations to film a documentary about the needs of North Carolina's community colleges, regional leaders were getting educated on the issue by representatives of College of the Albemarle and Elizabeth City State University.

The regional breakfast was held at the Kermit E. White Center in Elizabeth City. Those present included a veritable Who's Who of business, community and government leaders. Keynote speakers included Dr. Sylvester McKay of COA and Chancellor Mickey Burnim of ECSU.

See BONDS On Page 12-A

UNC-TV crew getting ready to film part of documentary at COA Chowan Center Aug. 24

Albemarle Republican Women's Club plans fall fundraiser here

The Albemarle Republican Women's Club will be holding its fall fundraiser on Saturday, Sept. 30, at the Barker House in Edenton from 4-8 PM.

The emcee will be radio talk show host, Doug Raymond. Guest speakers will be Republican candidates running for office.

Tickets will be $10 and will include a barbecue dinner and a gourmet dessert buffet. This is an excellent chance for the general public to hear the candidates' views on what is needed to help our citizens progress in the beginning of the 21st century.

Holiday closing set; deadlines to change

The Chowan Herald offices will be closed all day Monday, Sept. 4, to allow employees to spend Labor Day with their families.

Therefore, early deadlines for the Sept. 6 edition have been established.

All classifieds and legals should be submitting by 10 a.m. on Friday, Sept. 1.

Deadline for all display advertising will be Thursday, Aug. 31 at 5 p.m.

All news items intended for publication on the Herald's society or church pages should be turned in to the newspaper office no later than 5 p.m. on Thursday, Aug. 31.

Any other news stories or photographs being submitted for publication in the Sept. 6 edition of The Chowan Herald should be in our offices by noon on Friday, Sept. 1.

Your cooperation in observing these deadlines will be greatly appreciated.

The creativity of area residents is highlighted through educational and crafts exhibits at the Chowan County Fair

Chowan County Fair opens its doors Oct. 10

BY REBECCA BUNCH
 Editor

Walking through the Chowan County Fairgrounds on opening night provides a feast for the senses — and lots to do. There are the exciting rides, games of skill or chance, good food, laughter and fellowship. But there's much more.

One of the most interesting parts of the fair experience, though, can be found in looking at the level of skill and creativity reflected in the educational and crafts exhibits.

Chowan County Fair Board member Fran Ward said those exhibits provide a wealth of enjoyment for those who come, and the joy of sharing their talents on the part of those who exhibit there each year.

"I love the Fair, and really appreciate the opportunity to be involved in it," said Ward, a retired county extension agent. "Ever since I first came here, it's always been a favorite thing of mine."

Ward said that since she came here in the 1960s, this fair has continued to grow each year.

"When I came here, all the exhibits and the food concession were all housed in the main building," she said. "Since then, they've expanded out and into the new building."

Ward said the reason that the

See FAIR On Page 12-A