Helping all students succeed in Edenton-Chowan Schools

BY REBECCA BUNCH Staff Writer

Giving each student in the Edenton-Chowan Schools an optimum chance to succeed in acquiring a good education is among the five strategic goals of the school system, school board officials learned during their monthly board meeting on March 7.

During a presentation by Jamie Bowers, director of Alternative Learning and College Liaison, she said, "As you know, we are ending the second year of our two year strategic plan for Edenton-Chowan Schools."

That has led to school officials offering updates during the board meetings "with the vision of us reviewing the progress met within a different goal each month as we determine our next steps in the revision of our plan for the next two year cycle," Bowers said.

The goal she discussed, Goal 3, states, "Every student in the Edenton-Chowan School System will receive an education that is personalized to his or her social, emotional and academic needs.'

Bowers said that strategies identified to help achieve that particular goal include the following:

Increase the proficiency rate for each state reported subgroup by five percentage points annually on all stte mandated assessments and diversity of students enrolling and successfully com-

Increase the number

pleting appropriate advanced level courses/programs at each school annually

Revise the annual student community building survey to assess whether students are aware of how to access individualized social, emotional and academic assistance within their respective schools and improve the positive response rate by five percent annually.
