

Pastor helps others

Thirty-two years Bob Young and his wife Beverly came to minister to the congregation at Macedonia Baptist Church. At the end of this month, they will end their ministry there with fond recollections of friends they have made and a lifetime of sharing God's Word. — 3B

Bash shows spirit

The second annual Back to School Bash hosted by Edenton United on Saturday on the grounds of John A. Holmes High School was extremely successful, organizers said. — 4A

Lions roar with service

The Edenton Lions Club recently elected new officers and directors who will serve during 2018-2019. — 6B

Looking back on season

The Clams finished third in the overall standings in the North division with a 24-26 record, marking the first time since 2011 the Teal and Black did not have a winning season. — 1B

Algae impacts economy

Algae blooms aren't just unsightly and smelly, but if unchecked, they can have a serious impact on the regional economy, said Mark Powell, a consultant with the Edenton-based Albemarle RC&D. — 6A

Man wanted in death

The State Bureau of Investigation is seeking to arrest an Edenton man because of his alleged role in the overdose-related death of a Currituck County man late last year, state officials said. — 2A

LIKE US ON FACEBOOK AT /THECHOWANHERALD

©2018 The Chowan Herald All Rights Reserved

New boat to soon float in waterways

BY MILES LAYTON Editor

Chowan County Commission unanimously approved a financing agreement for the sheriff's department new boat.

During Monday's meeting, commissioners ap-Regulator Marine, a company based in Edenton, for who need a helping hand three years.

"In every county, this kind of training is necessary in this day and age."

> Greg Bonner Commissioner

when the Albemarle Sound nastv.

the boat that may someday $80K for the sheriff's office rescue wayward kayakers to buy a boat with the payand other water enthusiasts ments to be spread out over

In other business, comproved an agreement with or the Chowan River turns missioners approved plans for Cordell Palmer, the The county allocated county's Emergency Man-schools.

"In every county, this kind of training is necessary in this day and age," said Commissioner Greg Bonner, a retired police chief for Edenton.

Palmer said while receiving the grant is not an absolute certainty, chances are good that the county will be awarded the money to pay agement coordinator, to for costs associated with apply for a $6,500 grant that the training exercise. When ment to enter in an agreewill provide funds to facili- the drill is complete, comtate an active shooter exer- missioners would receive cise at one of the county's a report about the training exercise.

County Manager Kevin Howard said if the county doesn't receive the grant or only gets a portion of the funds, then the county will make up the difference because of how important this training is to school safety and law enforcement.

In other news, commissioners approved plans for the county's water depart-

See BOAT, 8A

Protesters

Silent Sam

From Staff and Wire Reports

A Confederate statue

in the heart of North Carolina's flagship university

was toppled Monday night

during a rally by hundreds of protesters who decried

the memorial known as

"Silent Sam" as a symbol

The North Carolina Division of the Sons of Confederate Veterans condemned the vandalism as

Governor Roy Cooper

issued a statement on

Twitter on Monday night arguing the protesters took the wrong approach. The statue erected by the United Daughters of the Confederacy in 1913

had been under constant

police surveillance, costing the university hundreds of thousands of dollars, since it was vandalized last year. Protesters appeared to outwit

officers by swiftly surrounding it with banners

on bamboo poles before

ered across the street from the University of

North Carolina Chapel

Hill plaza for a series of speakers at 7 p.m. before heading over to the quadrangle. Then, about two hours into the protest, a group pulled it down, according to television footage. Once it was on the ground, demonstrators

The crowd had gath-

yanking it down.

"celebrating anarchy."

of racist heritage.

topple.

PHOTOS BY MILES LAYTON/CHOWAN HERALD

When Aces' football players and cheerleaders marched through downtown before Friday's game against First Flight, they stopped into shops and businesses to say hello and gin up support for the home team. Whether it be high school, elementary or middle school, students will be starting school on Monda

Welcome back!! School starts Monday

BY MILES LAYTON

Editor Students return to classof learning at Edenton-Chowan Schools.

my career," Superintendent Rob Jackson said. "I am entering my 26th year in education and my fifth could not be more enthusiastic about all the success our students, teachers, and staff have had and will have this year."

Jackson said the Class of 2018 broke records for scholarship dollars and col-school, the administralege credit hours and the tion will have more solid Class of 2019 is poised to numbers as to how many break those records again. students will be attending He offered praise, optimism and hope for the oncoming this year. However, Jackschool year that has as its son predicts White Oak's

#believeit."

"For the second consecutive year, we have no lowperforming schools, a feat es Monday for another year that few school districts with similar challenges can match. In addition to "I am more excited about our academic success in this coming year than any all four schools, the Arts that I have experienced in and Athletics programs are outstanding. This is going to be an outstanding year,' he said.

There will be an open year as superintendent and house between 4 p.m. and 6 p.m. Thursday White Oak and D.F. Walker elementary schools. Chowan Middle School will have its open house between 5 p.m. and 7 p.m. Thursday.

After the first day of Chowan County schools theme, "Every. Single. One. kindergarten teachers will years, but cannot confirm be a bit busier.

"We anticipate our Kin- ally arrive on campus," he dergarten class to be the largest we have had in three cheerleaders who stopped by the Chowan Herald during their tour of downtown. To see how the Aces did against First Flight, see our sports pages.

goes to the Aces'

Much thanks

kicked it and cheered. Afterward, a small crowd remained around the empty pedestal, chanting "Tar Heels!" and "Whose Campus? Our Campus!" as passing cars honked in approval.

Kevin Stone, commander of the North Carolina Division of the Sons of Confederate Veterans,

See SAM, 3A

Meet the BOE candidates: Burroughs and Heiniger

served one

term

BY MILES LAYTON Editor

Chowan County Board of Election candidates who have filed District 3 Seat 1 are Nancy Heiniger and Gil Burroughs, who is running for re-election.

In the late 60s, Burroughs was developing technology for NASA and the federal government when he decided he wanted something a professor of Agronomy at more out of life. He and his wife Barbara explored northeastern North Carolina before settling down in Edenton.

sas originally where she and her husband Ron lived many years ago. After being married, BURROUGHS they worked the family farm for 13 years before fate took a turn and they moved North Carolina State University working out of the Vernon James Center in Plymouth. Heiniger shares a similar Burroughs taught physical research physicist in north-the students affectionately

HEINIGER

Chowan BOE for 16 years. "I believe public eduto the North Carolina. He is cation is the single most important endeavor necessary for the success of maintaining a democracy," Burroughs said. "I acted For more than 27 years, I resigned my position as a istry at John Edenton to teach science bachelor of science degree Holmes at Holmes High School. My 27 years as a teacher along with 16 years on the school Burroughs board have provided me with the opportunity to put Town Counthat belief into action. The cil and has challenges that face public served on education, especially in our Edentonlocal system, require experienced and rational leadership and I want to continue that until the students actu-

See SCHOOL, 2A

ership." Edenton-Chowan Schools on June 30 after a 24-year on this belief in 1968 when career as the D.F. Walker schools," she said. "I have 3 "Liberry Lady" — a name grandchildren in the Edenstory as she hails from Kan-science, physics and chemer Virginia and moved to called her. Heiniger has a to provide that kind of lead-in elementary education from Washburn University and a master's degree in curriculum and instruction from Kansas State University. She is also a National Board Certified teacher in Library Media. Her daughter, Natalie Briggs, is the media specialist at John A. Holmes High School.

"I am running for school board because I feel very Heiniger retired from strongly that I need to be an advocate for our students, our teachers and our

See BOE, 8A