

Cherokee

To our county, Cherokee,
Where the air is pure and water free
We love her dearly for all she holds
And feel her worth is never told.

Surrounded by the lofty heights
It seems she's hidden from sight,
Of men with money, who should come,
And make her with industry hum.

The hills are filled with rich iron ore
Laid plentiful there from nature's store,
And covered, too, with stately trees

That bend with every passing breeze.

Our rivers travel on their way
With mighty force by night and day
With scarce a dam across their wave,
To check it and the power save.

Our people greet you with a smile,
And keep you happy all the while,
And treat you in so kind a way,
That if you come you want to stay.

Last, but not least, I say, hurrah!
For our pretty girls without a flaw,
And if you want a busy-bee
Young, man, just come to Cherokee CONTRIBUTED.

BILL SAM'S DICTIONARY

By J. L. MARTIN

While it was raining so hard the other day, Bill Dooley suddenly ran out of chewing tobacco; but Bill, not to be outdone, ran nearly a mile over to Lem Gardner's and borrowed Lem's umbrella so he could go to the store for his tobacco without getting wet.

UMBRELLA: A well-known household article, which, whenever you need it, causes you to study for an hour before you can remember just who borrowed it last, or at which one of your friend's home you left it. Bill Sam's Dictionary, page 799.

A Wish

"I HAVE TAKEN Cardui for run-down, worn-out condition, nervbusness and sleeplessness, and I was weak too," says Mrs. Silvie Estes, of Jennings, Okla. "Cardui did me just lots of good—so much that I gave it to my daughter. She complained of a soreness in her sides and back. She took three bottles of Cardui and her condition was much better.

"We have lived here, near Jennings, for 26 years, and now we have our own home in town. I have had to work pretty hard, as this country wasn't built up, and it made it hard on us.

"I WISH I could tell weak women of Cardui—the medicine that helped give me the strength to go on and do my work." This card fulfils her wish.

Two Good Safety Rules In Case Of Sickness

1. Consult your doctor—his diagnosis is always more dependable than your own or some good neighbor's.
2. Send the prescription to Parker's—where you know it will be compounded with care and delivered promptly.
