EDITORIAL

A Tribute to Our Employees

Mr. C. W. Bailey, Linotype operator and printer, who has been chief of the composing room of the Scout for a year and a half, is confined to his room this week and his services are greatly missed, which accounts for the small edition of the paper this week. An organization or an individual is not fully appreciative of the services of an employee until the service of that employee is lost. While the Scout has been conscious all along of the fine loyalty and ability of its chief employee, yet it is all the more appreciative of the worth of Mr. Bailey, now that his service has to be done without for a short time. Mr. Bailey is not an employee except in name. He is like a partner. He has the paper and the success of the job department just as much at heart as the management and never has there been such a spirit of loyalty to an organization, as Mr. Bailey has displayed. Mr. Bailey is largely responsible for any measure so successful as the Scout may have enjoyed during the past eighteen months.

Ray Sosbee, mechanical assistant, is equally loyal and devoted to the little organization, of which he is a part. Always on the job, never hesitating to work over time for the the accommodating of a customer or to get the paper out on time, Ray is equally worthy of commendation.

The Scout is proud of its organization and is glad to take this opportunity to commend the faithfulness and loyalty of its employees and it is the desire of the management that it may never have to give up the services of its present employees.

Chestnut Blight is Spreading Over South

Washington, Oct. 12.—The chestnut blight, a destructive fungous disease, has been spreading southward as well as northward and westward since its introduction into this country from Asia, according to the bureau of plant industry, of the department of agriculture, which has made a study of the question of control of the forest infection.

Recent inspection work in Virginia and North Carolina, said an announcement today by the bureau, indicates that the disease is spreading "as fast or even faster in the south than it did in the north." The main area of infection, that is, the zone within which 80 per cent or more of the trees are infested, it was said, has now reached North Carolina on the east slope of the Blue Ridge mountains.

A new infested area also, was recently found covering parts of Greenville county, South Carolina, and Henderson and Polk counties, N. C. This advance infection was said to be rapidly spreading and indications are said to point to destruction of the chestnut growth in southwestern North Carolina, northern Georgia and southwestern Tennessee sooner than had been expected.

Owners of chestnut growths in these regions were urged to make plans in advance for the utilization of their trees.

You need Balance for Full Power and ALL the other gasoline qualities

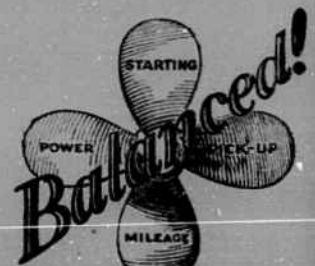

A GASOLINE has to be balanced to give you the full, rounded performance that you're entitled to.

"Standard," the balanced gasoline, gives you full, ample power because it had just the correct proportion of high-boiling constituents ("fractions", as the refinery men call them). Too much of them would make your motor hard to start and slow to accelerate. Too little would lower your power and mileage and you'd have to use a rich, wasteful mixture to get satisfactory results.

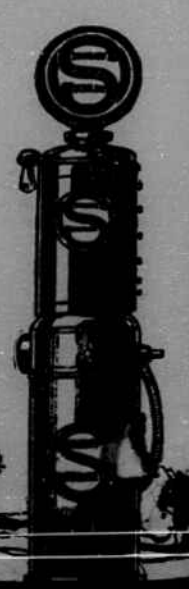

"Standard" has the right percentage of these high-boiling fractions. And it has the correct percentage of low and intermediate fractions for instant starting and snappy pick-ups. Over fifty years of experience are built into every gallon you buy. Try it out this Fall—see for yourself.

Here's Good Oil For You

"Yes sir, I'm selling Havoline because I have found I can give more people satisfaction than with any other oil I have ever sold.

"When you realize what an important thing good oil is to the motor, what's the use of taking a chance in buying an unknown oil?"

"Havoline has been sold for nearly twenty years. I know it is a good oil. My customers know Havoline is a good oil. So in selling Havoline I am selling good lubrication and satisfying customers.

"If you want good oil, drive around. I'm at your service."

There's a Havoline dealer near you. You can tell him quickly by the blue Havoline sign with the red ball. He'll sell you the proper grade for your car.
