Isabella Young Man Electrocuted While At Work in Plant

Isabella, Tenn., July 16.—One of the saddest times our town has ever experienced was Friday evening of last week July 11th when word was spread over the town and community Joe Ellis had suddenly come to his death by an electric wire where he was employed in D. S. C. & I. Co., acid plant.

Mr. Ellis was thought to have been gone too long from the presence of other employees when a search was made by Mr. Willie McGee, who found him dead where he was finishing up his work and it's supposed that while cleaning up he went to remove a wire that was down in his way, he was suddenly killed and the current still being on had almost roasted his body.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thad Ellis of Stuart Town, his father being dead for some few years left him the only boy at home and his mothers only help, he was the jewel of her heart and one of the best known and most respected citizens of his town. He was about the age of 22 and had been a member of the Baptist church for 10 years and also a member in good standing of the Junior Order.

Besides a host of friends he is survived by his mother, three brothers and two sisters as follows: Horace, Luther and Elmer and Miss Virgie Ellis and Mrs. Hattie Loudermilk. His remains were carried to the Hopewell church by a large number of friends and Junior Order where funeral services were held. Rev. W. A. Revis of Copperhill conducted the service.

After which his body was quietly laid to rest by the Junior Order. There was quite a number of people present in spite of the hard showers of rain that fell all the morning. There were said to have been the largest number of cars present that has ever been on such an occasion at Hopewell.

The floral offering that was presented was especially noticeable and especially those of the good men and boys in the plant. Their beautiful wreath of flowers showed their token of friendship. The mother and entire family are heart broken and have the sympathy of the community.

Officials have announced that if there are not enough calves to make out a full car this shipment, that that enough large stock will be sent to fill out the car. Notice has gone out requesting all who will have calves to ship to notify the county agent who is promoting the shipment.

Music Lovers Will Enjoy Concerts In Asheville Soon

Asheville, N. C., July 21.—indications are that music lovers from practically every section of North Carolina will attend one or more of the renditions of nine world-famed grand operas which are to be given at the City Auditorium in Asheville the week of August 11th by the San Carlo Grand Opera Company under the auspices of the Asheville Music Festival Association.

At the headquarters of the Association, numbers of letters are still unanswered by reason of the inability of the committee to meet the unexpected demand for particulars of of this event. It was not anticipated that the interest would be so widespread, hence the unpreparedness to take care of the avalanche of inquiries which have arrived in increasing numbers daily during the past week.

The City of Asheville is making a record in giving standard Grand Opera at the lowest known prices, believing that this will work to ultimate advantage by attracting larger numbers to Western North Carolina during the summer months. The nine opera scheduled to be given are as follows: "Aida", "Madame Butterfly", "Lucia", "Carmen", "Rigoletto", "Cavalleria Rusticana", "Pagliacci", "Faust", and "Il Trovatore. Over a hundred artists will be in the cast, including some of the most famous international operatic stars.

The acoustics in the City Auditorium in Asheville are said to be splendidly adapted for the rendition of grand opera and the stage sufficiently large to accommodate the large organization carrying three car loads of scenery which are necessary for these gigantic productions.

Frank Harrell, the alleged accomplice of Mortimer N. King in the slaying of Major Samuel H. McLeary was captured in Nashville, Tenn. on Thursday and is reported to have confessed to a part in the crime.

FRANK HARRELL MAY HAVE GONE THRU MURPHY

Suspicious Character Stopped at Hotel Friday night, July 15th and slips out early next morning

Frank Harrell, the alleged accomplice of Mortimer N. King, confessed murder of Major Samuel H. McLeary is believed by some to have passed through Murphy on the night of July 13th on his way from the Canton section, where he and King ditched the car belonging to Major McLeary and were forced to abandon it. A suspicious person fitting the description of Harrell, registered at the Regal Hotel Friday night, July 13th. Just as Mr. Savage started to shut the side door to the hotel some person started by, halted, started by again and halted the second time and inquired where he could stay all night. He gave his name in an undertone, said Mr. Savage, so that it was unintelligible and scrawled his name on the register, which has been made out as L. B. Harrell. He arose early Sunday morning and left by the side door without speaking to anyone.

Whether or not this was the man wanted for taking part in the McLeary murder cannot be definitely stated, but his actions and the circumstances would lead one to this conclusion. About the 11th or 12th of July was the first information obtained establishing the fact that McLeary's car was in the Canton section; also on that date a towel was found in a nearby stream bearing the initials of McLeary. It is altogether reasonable that Harrell, when this information was uncovered, would make his way from the Canton section and it is very unlikely that he would have gone east as it was in that section that the murder took place and where searching parties were scouring the country. The logical way of flight would have been out the Murphy branch and whether or not the man who registered at the Regal Hotel was the Harrell wanted, it is quite likely that he came this way.

Several arrests have been made in various cities in South Carolina but they have all been released. Not until the right party is captured can it be definitely proved or disproved that Harrell came this way. A reward of $500 has been offered by Governor McLeod of South Carolina for his arrest.

Major McLeary was slain about 12 miles North of Cheraw, S. C. on the Raleigh-Columbia road, according to the alleged confession of King, who is now incarcerated in a South Carolina prison, and who was in the vicinity of Canton, N. C., on July 12th. His suspicious actions led to his arrest and the discovery of a shirt in his possession bearing the laundry mark of Major McLeary caused his confession. He then led officers to the remains of the dead officer about 150 feet from the highway twelve miles north of Cheraw, S. C. and later told where the Major's clothing had been hidden in the Canton section.

According to his confession, King and Harrell were walking along the highway and decided that they would hail some traveller and take his car. Major McLeary was the unfortunate victim. They waved him down and asked for a ride into Columbia, which was readily granted. Harrell got in the front seat and King in the rear. After driving some little distance, Harrell is said to have given King the signal and the latter drew his gun and commanded the Major to stop. At first the Major laughed at King, who said that he was unnerved by the coolness of the army officer. However, upon being urged on by some sign from Harrell, King summoned his courage and again commanded that the car be halted. The Army officer was forced from the car, shot down in the road and dragged into the woods, according to the statement. King and Harrell then made for western North Carolina in the car. They accidentally ditched it near Canton, N. C. and abandoned it beside the road after having removed certain personal effects of the Major and buried them in the woods. King's suspicious actions led to his arrest and the discovery of the shirt led to his confession, in which he implicated Harrell.

MEETING HELD TO PLAN FOR TRUETT MEET

Plans for the George W. Truett meeting, which is to be held here under the auspices of the Western North Carolina Baptist Association from August 10th to the 22nd, are fast maturing. The special building committee composed of Messrs. C. M. Wofford, A. B. Dickey and G. H. Cope have carpenters at work erecting a large tabernacle on Cherokee Park for the purpose of providing for the huge crowds that are expected to come here twice daily to hear the world-renowned preacher.

Other committees originating in a general meeting of the citizens of the Town held in the courthouse the first of the week are at work advertising the meeting, providing housing facilities and make arrangements to take care of the traffic and parking problems during the meeting, which is expected to be quite a problem as hundreds of autoists are expected here daily during this series of meetings.

Called under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce a representative gathering of both men and women held a meeting in the courthouse Monday evening to advise ways and means of handling the crowds that will come here during Dr. Truett's stay. Attorney Ralph Moody was made Chairman of the meeting. After discussions from citizens of every interest in Town a resolution was passed appointing the three pastors and the mayor and members of the Board of City Commissioners a committee to form a general committee on arrangements to handle the preparations for the meeting.

At a meeting of this committee on Tuesday night steps were taken for the forming of these committee: one to handle the housing problem; one the advertising and one the traffic and parking problem. The Chairman of these committees were named as follows: R. F. Williamson, Chairman of the Housing Committee; B. W. Sipe, Chairman of the Advertising Committee, and E. P. Hawkins, Chairman of the Traffic and Parking Committee. It was the sense of the meeting that the housing committee make an immediate canvass of the town and ascertain the homes that will agree to keep any visitors during the meeting, whether or not such homes will provide rooms, or board, or both and at what price, and then, if thought necessary to open up special halls and buildings as sleeping quarters and fit them out with cots. The advertising committee will advertise the meeting to this entire section and neighboring towns and cities and take care of press service during the meeting while the traffic and parking committee will care for the routing of traffic and provide for the parking and guarding of cars during the meeting. Police protection will be given all motorists who use the special parking space to be provided by the town.

The entire town is aiding in the preparations for the meeting as it is recognized that it will benefit the town as a whole not only from a religious but also from a civic standpoint.

Abernethy Chicken Lays A Queer Egg

A peculiarity-shaped egg was found in the chicken lot of Dr. J. F. Abernethy a few days ago. It can best be described by saying that it is gourd shape. It is oblong in shape with a little projection on one end very much like a short handle on a gourd.

Dr. Abernethy stated that some time ago an egg was found within an egg, both shells being perfectly developed.

Shares of Stock Will Be Sold In B. & L. Until July 31st

The second series of the Murphy B. & L. Association will close Thursday, July 31st. Already a number of shares have been taken in this series but it is the desire of officers that as many be sold as possible as it will only stimulate the building program.

Anyone wishing to build a building of any kind should be interested in this stock.

Those who have small weekly and monthly incomes will find this a convenient method of saving.

For those with larger incomes it is a good investment.

For all it is a means of building up the town and stimulating business.

Any of the officers will be glad to explain the advantages and purposes of the Association.
